INTRODUCTION

Know The Future Today!

Today, despite extensive research facilities, humanity is still baffled by the strange characteristics of prophecy. Some psychics attribute their prophetic insight to God, a gift endowed by the supernatural which is beyond the average person's abilities. Other psychics fervently claim that ESP is a logical direct extension of our latent ability to perceive information intuitively.

Always controversial and often a precarious profession, psychics have served humanity since the dawning of time. The star-gazing astrologers of Mesopotamia foresaw the future for ancient kings more than 8,000 years before Christianity. In Rome and Greece, temple oracles guided Caesars and solons toward greatness for the empire. Leaders of the Western and Oriental worlds frequently relied upon their prophets to guide them in the making of major decisions.

Today, we offer you a psychic glimpse into the world of 1975. These forecasts have been supplied by our nation's leading psychics. These are predictions from astrologers, Tarot card readers, spiritualists, and practitioners of ESP. Within this diverse group of prognosticators, there are some prophetic disagreements about the future. One psychic believes there will be an economic recession, another predicts a depression, while a third predicts good times just ahead. Therefore, we should approach these predictions with the spirit of enjoyment, utilizing the psychic advice selectively and perhaps keeping score of our seers' prophetic accuracy.

Possibly, by the time you read this book, an occasional prediction may have become old news. This isn't an error of the psychic's intuitive powers, nor is it an attempt to cheat on accurate predictions. The forecasts were made by our psychics to a deadline of June 18, 1974, and they have had to forecast up to 18 months in advance.

Addresses of the psychics have been included so that readers may write directly to them. Many of our participants offer a counseling service; your request will bring additional information from them. When writing to any of the psychics, please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope for their reply.

CHAPTER 1

COUNTESS AMAYA

Puerto Rico's Gypsy Seeress

"Two of my predictions that came true have made me very sad," Countess Amaya, Puerto Rico's resident clairvoyant reported. "I predicted that Puerto Rico would lose two beloved persons. That came to pass with the deaths of Roberto Clemente, the baseball star, and Pablo Casals, the wonderful man with the cello. Mr. Casals was conductor of the symphony here in Puerto Rico and he was loved by everyone."

Countess Amaya is the proprietor of Gypsy's Russian Tea Room, a popular restaurant in the Condado. While her guests are enjoying exotic dishes of Russian or gypsy cuisine, Countess Amaya forecasts their future. To look beyond today into tomorrow, Countess Amaya utilizes a variety of methods. An accomplished psychic, she uses Tarot cards, tea leaves, palm reading, or astrology to trigger her extra-sensory ability.

Born in Milwaukee, Wis., while her parents were in that city with a circus, Countess Amaya is known as "Gypsy" to her friends. Her father was a Romany gypsy; her mother was Egyptian. "My early years were spent in Shanghai, China where I was raised in a convent," she said. "When my parents obtained a divorce, I returned to the United States and lived with an aunt in New York. I always was interested in music and as a teenager I entered show business."

Billed as Gypsy Markoff, she toured the world as an entertainer. She was a headliner in night clubs throughout the world. "I returned to the United States when World War II broke out," she recalled. "I joined the USO and volunteered to entertain our troops overseas. My first show was to be in North Africa. We left New York on a Pan-American flying clipper. There was a re-fueling stop in Lisbon, Portugal, and landing in the bay there was dangerous. The plane crashed. This was the accident that crippled singer Jane Froman. I was seriously injured in the crash and I've had 32 operations because of the injuries received that night. I've always been a Catholic and my belief in the power of prayer has helped sustain me through all the loneliness and pain."

Countess Amaya moved to Puerto Rico a few years ago, needing the sun to help alleviate her ailments. Since then she has become a local celebrity. Besides her work as a restaurant owner, she offers psychic advice by mail. "I charge a fee of $7 to answer three questions," she reported. "I can't say for sure exactly how I will obtain the answers. Sometimes I may use a crystal ball. At other times it is purely psychic intuition that provides a clue to the future. And of course, I may have a dream about a particular person or place."

One of her recent "hits" was the separation between Elizabeth Taylor and her husband Richard Burton. "I still have an intuitive feeling that Liz and Richard may get back together again," she reported. "Liz will continue to date other men for a while, but she loves and respects Burton. Liz needs a strong man in her life, someone she can admire and respect. Burton, despite his problems with drinking, is still a strong, masculine man."

Countess Amaya's predictions for 1975 are as follows:

Ari in Danger: Jackie Kennedy will have a stormy year with her husband, Aristotle Onassis. Whenever I envision Ari, I see him surrounded by darkness. This could indicate that he will be in some future financial danger. However, I have a feeling that Jackie may be a widow for the second time.

UFOs: There will be continued reports of flying saucers during the coming year. One of these will be a bizarre, rather incredible case that will make headlines throughout the world.

Space: The next five years in space will be very exciting. This will be due to the teamwork between Russian and American scientists and astronauts. Also, there's going to be headlines about a very unusual space venture by the United States. This mission will excite the world. I also foresee that a disaster will occur in the U.S. space program, probably in the latter part of 1975 in the extreme western part of the country.

U.S. Economy: I do not predict a depression for America. There may be a few market adjustments in 1975, but there will be no major slumps. I feel that silver will go even higher in price, perhaps doubling in the next twelve months. Objects d'art, collectibles, and American Indian antiques will soar in value. The U.S. stock market will begin a rapid climb in the latter part of 1975.

However, I have envisioned several of the large corporations and their images threatened by dark shadows. Some corporations will suffer great losses; others will be completely wiped out. A person will have to be very cautious in making investments in the coming months.

New Products: Several new electronic devices will be introduced in the next year. A new material for clothing will hit the market with a large advertising campaign. This material will be as durable as cotton, as smooth as silk, and will retain a permanent press. It will be less expensive than many other materials.

A new firm will bring forth a line of nourishing, dehydrated foods that are easily stored, and palatable to the taste.

An electronic device for purifying water will also be marketed.

Look for Detroit cars to return to the overdrive, an excellent method of saving gas.

There will be new engines, some quite unusual and revolutionary in design, in some cars sold in 1975.

A new, safe detergent will be sold next year. This detergent will clean virtually anything. The formula will include nutrients.

Israel's Future: This nation will withdraw from her occupied territories in the Arab countries. Once the withdrawal is completed, Israel's security will be guaranteed by the United Nations. This will mean a limited peace in the Middle East, although Palestinian terrorist groups will continue their guerilla warfare against Israel. In time, it will become necessary to internationalize the city of Jerusalem.

International Affairs: There will be some problems this year with U.S.-Japanese relationships. While various reasons will be given for the disagreements, we will learn that the Japanese resent the Nixon administration's reversal of policy towards Red China.

America's links with Russia will continue to grow.

Capitals throughout the world will be shaken by revelations that a group of prominent, world-famous men are undercover communists. Headlines will also tell of these men practicing witchcraft and demonology.

The drought in Africa will continue to spread.

People throughout the world will be concerned with a food shortage. To prepare for the future, a person should stockpile a month's supply of non-perishable food, and water.

Medical Breakthroughs: I have been predicting an imminent cure for cancer for the past two years. I believe this will be announced within the next 18 months.

There will also be news of a dramatic new technique to prevent heart attacks.

A medical breakthrough will also come in the treatment of kidney ailments.

Gerotival H3 will become even more popular in the next year.

Fashions: With Jupiter in Pisces, we'll find that footwear will improve in appearance. Ugly, high platform shoes will vanish and elegant footwear will once again reappear.

Women's dresses will continue in their present trends until 1977.

Hospitals: 1975 will launch a trend to shorten the stay for people in hospitals.

There will also be a trend toward health maintenance organizations throughout the United States.

A movement will start to teach people how to live in a happy, healthy manner. Seminars and classes will show people how to cope with stress, handle the problems in their lives, and reduce tension.

Gasoline: The supply will improve and I predict the shortage will be over by mid-1975. I also predict that lower gasoline prices will come next year.

Politics: There will be conflict between the House and Senate in the near future. We're also going to see the winds of change in political life. Many old, veteran politicians will be retired by the voters when they stand for re-election. They will be replaced by younger men.

Watch for another big scandal out of Washington very soon.

Sports: 1975 Baseball: I'll pick Los Angeles.

Football: Dallas and Atlanta.

Golf: Palmer.

Tennis: Watch for a black American girl and a young man from Australia.

1975 Kentucky Derby: A dark brown chestnut horse. Look for the letters "S" and "P."

Celebrities and Their future: Patty Hearst's body will be discovered before the new year is very old.

Jane Fonda has a cloud of danger hanging about her. It looks as if this is due to a man she knows and trusts.

Johnny Carson will continue to enjoy high popularity.

There is a new and exciting romance ahead for Zsa Zsa Gabor. But, this will be without the diamonds.

Prince Charles will marry a commoner.

Normal Mailer will receive acclaim for a new book.

CHAPTER 2

RICHARD DE A'MORELLI

Californian Clairvoyant

Richard De A'Morelli, a West Coast psychic and author, was born under the astrological sign of Aquarius, on February 1st. He traveled extensively during his childhood years and has at one time or another resided in Hawaii, Canada and Mexico. He has spent the last six years in southern California and now lives in a suburban district of Los Angeles with his wife Cathy.

De A'Morelli reports that his psychic abilities surfaced for the first time at the age of four at which time he foresaw the death of his father in an uncanny dream which came true three months later. He has since predicted many important events: the Los Angeles earthquake, President Nixon's landslide re-election triumph and Red China's unexpected admission to the United Nations among them.

Beyond his active role in the psychic community, De A'Morelli is deeply involved with numerology and the occult. His interest in these arcane subjects developed at the age of 13. Since that time he has completed a thorough study of occultism and has compiled more than three thousand in-depth numerology charts. Having accumulated this tremendous wealth of knowledge in the occult field he has earned the reputation of being a prominent expert on Black and White Magic.

De A'Morelli is a talented author and he has proven himself quite prolific, having written more books and articles on the subject than any other numerologist in modern times. His widely acclaimed books, Numerology: The Key To Your Inner Self (Books for Better Living/Castle Books, Inc.), and Psychic Power: How To Develop Your ESP (idem) have been published in paperback as well as hardcover reference editions. Other Books For Better Living titles by De A'Morelli include Numerology For Lovers, Extrasensual Perception: How to Predict and Control Your Love Life, and Handwriting: Your Key To Successful Living. His newest book, Delta Mind Dynamics: The New Age Plan For Riches, Love and Health should be released by Parker Publishing Company early this spring. These texts have attracted an international audience. His books may also be ordered directly from The Richard De A'Morelli New Age Library, which offers a 10% discount on some titles. Mr. De A'Morelli supervises the operation of this unique service and says that he will autograph copies of his books sent to readers of Predictions For 1975 upon request.

This energetic West Coast psychic has also developed a fascinating series of instructional cassette tapes on numerology, ESP, reincarnation and a variety of related subjects. A special series on Black and White Magic, sorcery and witchcraft have also been prepared by De A'Morelli in cooperation with several world-renowned occultists. More than 30 different tapes produced by the New Age Library are now available to the public. Persons wishing to receive a descriptive catalog listing Mr. De A'Morelli's current books and tapes may write to him at the New Age Library, P. O. Box 7464, Burbank, Ca. 91510.

In private life, De A'Morelli considers himself a moody romanticist and believes that ESP and the occult "appeal to the deep, mysterious element in man." He claims that people who become involved in these areas "often develop an inner beauty . . . a kind of deep sensitivity which can be achieved in no other way." Arcane philosophies have an important place in his daily life and he has maintained close contact with numerous esoteric societies and practitioners, including R. K. Kennen, administrator of a secret organization called the Comii Illuminati Lodge. He welcomes correspondence from newcomers interested in the field and has occasionally been known to assist men and women who wish to contact or become involved with groups and leaders in the occult community.

De A'Morelli says that he enjoys hearing from people who are interested or actively involved with ESP and the occult "even if they write simply to say hello," and he usually takes the time to personally answer incoming correspondence provided a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed for his reply. Individuals may contact Mr. De A'Morelli by writing to the New Age Library at the address given above.

His complete forecasts of worldwide events for 1975 is as follows:

The Energy Crisis: The danger of a nationwide fuel shortage will continue to subside in 1975. As crude oil becomes more plentiful the government will abandon the concept of gasoline rationing. The long lines of motorists waiting for the opportunity to purchase gas at those few stations that remained open for business—a frequent reminder of the energy crisis in 1974—can now be viewed as an event of the past. Widespread concern over the possible ramifications of the "energy crunch" will subside. Yet, in spite of sufficient fuel supplies the price of gasoline will go up another five or six cents this year, dropping slightly during the late summer or early fall, then rising again sometime in the winter. The high cost of fuel will be attributed to the skyrocketing price of crude oil from the Middle East and excessive taxation imposed by the government. Unwise politicians will attempt to place oil companies under full government control, an action that will lead to unexpected repercussions of grave consequence and severity.

I predict that several oil company executives will be indicted and brought to trial this year for their role in a conspiracy to artificially create the 1974 energy crisis, and that several well-known politicians will be disgraced by their private connections with major oil companies. A powerful Senate committee will blame certain corporate executives and politicians for exaggerating the recent fuel shortage into an "energy hoax." Although most of the defendants brought to trial this year are guilty of this accusation to some extent, the resulting scandal will be turned into a political football by publicity-minded legislators and a carnival atmosphere can be expected to prevail for several months.

Beyond these developments, the only other significant news concerning the energy situation this year will be good news. A series of technological breakthroughs in 1975 and 1976 will lead to clean, plentiful fuel alternatives. Solar energy and nuclear power will attract growing interest among community leaders, scientists and private industry. The first stage of a daring plan to harness these sources of unlimited solar energy will be implemented later this year or during the first half of 1976.

A new method of extracting oil from the earth without the usual complications of drilling will also attract considerable attention and oil companies will establish pilot programs to test the efficiency of this process. Following an initial rash of spectacular results this method will prove too unreliable, and science will turn to solar and nuclear power exclusively. In the not too distant future consumers will pay a one-time charge or a monthly rental fee for a "solar fuel conversion" unit in the home. The customary gas and electric bills which we have grown accustomed to receiving month after month will become another relic of the past.

Automobiles: The popularity of the luxury automobile will continue to decline, although more gradually now than in 1974. This year, dealers in some parts of the country will report that luxury car sales are down between 25 and 50%. Generally speaking, fewer automobiles will be purchased this year and the overwhelming majority of new cars on the road in 1975 will be in the economy class. Several internationally-known celebrities will gain publicity when they exchange their limousines for compact cars.

As usual, the three major automobile manufacturers in Detroit will be forced to recall thousands of defective units; as many as several hundred thousand at a time. At least ten different models will have dangerous defects, and all but one will be promptly recalled for repair. The one model in question will be recalled only after several tragic deaths have been directly linked to this serious malfunction. A far-reaching investigation into defective automobiles will be launched by the government before the year's end.

U.S. Economy: The national economy is in grave trouble and the situation will worsen by the winter of 1975. Inflationary trends will not be halted this year, and unemployment will rise. Food, gas, housing and utilities will become more expensive. Practically everything will cost 10 to 20% more by the end of 1975. As the months go by, the government will publish a series of optimistic statistics indicating that prices have been stabilized and the unemployment rate has declined.

Unfortunately, these official surveys must be ignored for they present a misleading picture of the nation's economy. Many will be intentionally falsified, the result of partisan politics. In reality, the reports of declining unemployment will indicate that fewer people are claiming weekly unemployment checks, not because they have found jobs but because they are no longer eligible for benefits. Therefore, the situation is actually growing even more dismal. Moreover, the average consumer will know merely by consulting his checkbook at the end of each month that prices have not stabilized. He will quickly discover that he is still paying more and getting less for his money. I predict that these unfortunate trends will persist throughout 1975 and for at least several more years to come. The consumer can anticipate minor relief eventually but not in this decade.

International Finance: World currencies will remain unstable this year. Drastic fluctuation on the international exchange market will continue. Japan, France, Germany and England will suffer further economic chaos, with the currency of each country being revalued at least once during the year. In part, the turbulence affecting international finance will be caused by ridiculous foreign trade policies enforced by the United States. The price of gold, silver, platinum and most other precious metals will again soar to new all-time highs as the result, but a slight decline ranging from 6 to 10% can be expected during the final quarter of the year.

Ideal Investments: In 1975, copper will be an excellent investment. I predict the price of this metal will rise approximately 12% by the end of the year, stabilize in 1976, and then go up as much as 20% annually in the following ten-year period. Certain foreign stocks will also offer lucrative opportunities for the American investor. Import-export firms will suffer numerous setbacks but food processors and dry goods manufacturers, especially in the Orient, will show sound profits this year. Stable investment opportunities in the United States will be scarce during the next twelve months. Mutual funds will definitely be on the decline, and the overall picture on Wall Street is destined to reflect the same unsettled trends evident throughout the preceding year.

Clothing, paper and pharmaceutical concerns will prove stable and generally profitable; however, savings and high-yield loan certificate accounts will guarantee a more certain source of income and in many instances, may prove to be the more profitable investment. The construction industry will suffer continuing financial setbacks in 1975 and investors should avoid this area altogether. U.S. based mining concerns offer fairly lucrative opportunities, especially for the small investor but peculiar circumstances now begin to affect chemical manufacturers. Consequently, the latter industry should be avoided as too risky at the present time.

Agriculture: Consumers may be happy to know that most foods will be more plentiful in 1975. Prices will continue to skyrocket, though. I do not foresee a serious food shortage in the United States this year. A full range of vegetables and dairy products will be readily available throughout the nation. Red meat and poultry will also be available to consumers who are willing to pay the price, although several kinds of fish may be relatively difficult to find from time to time.

I predict that very strange conditions will affect the grain market in 1975, especially wheat sales. I cannot presently determine the exact circumstances surrounding this matter, but I have a distinct feeling that something similar to the recent U.S.-Soviet grain deal could be involved. I sense that the average American consumer will express considerable dismay at the outcome, and a minor scandal can be anticipated as the result.

Ecology: In last year's Predictions for 1974 I wrote: "Continued emphasis on ecology will occur in 1974. Unfortunately, there will be more talk than action. Off-season oil drilling will be authorized by many local governments in the coastal regions, a major defeat for the ecology movement. A number of nuclear power plants in the United States will be approved, another setback for conservationists. The greatest shock will come when oil companies receive the go-ahead to construct the Alaska Pipeline. The environment will be detrimentally affected by this decision, and several species of wildlife will be endangered."

As you probably know, each one of these predictions has come true during the past twelve months, creating a gloomy outlook for the movement to preserve man's natural resources and environment. I am sorry to report now that similar trends will prevail throughout 1975. The past accomplishments of ecologists will be reversed or ignored. We can expect approval of more offshore oil drilling permits, poor forestry conservation, increasing water pollution and the commencement of major construction projects that will have a grave effect on the immediate environment. In one wilderness area, a national park or wildlife preserve, this type of construction will trigger a national protest but adverse publicity will not halt the project. The government will adopt a more lenient attitude toward air and water pollution, placating the public with feeble excuses. Officials will be slow to prosecute those who are responsible for these pollution violations.

On a more cheerful note, I predict that 1975 will be the year ecologists discover that nuclear power generating facilities are less hazardous than originally believed, and much of the opposition to their construction will subside. New technological developments in the quest to harness solar energy will also please ecologists.

These discoveries, in the long run, will help to preserve the environment more than any other scientific breakthrough or conservation effort yet witnessed by mankind. As the use of solar energy becomes more universal, air and water pollution will virtually disappear. There will be a handful of reactionary conservationists and private interest factions who oppose the advent of solar energy, which will gain momentum beginning in 1975 but most people will choose to ignore their complaints, realizing the obvious benefits inherent in this economical, non-polluting energy source.

Labor Affairs: While there will be few labor disputes this year, I foresee several severe strikes that will exert a significant influence on the average American. The construction industry, already crippled by financial woes, will participate in a short-term work stoppage, causing more hardships for the workers themselves than for anyone else. Also, there will be a series of teachers' strikes throughout the nation in protest of the substandard quality of education in America today. Another dispute affecting the television and motion picture industry will temporarily halt production.

Other labor disputes will affect the airlines, dock workers, government employees concerned with the welfare of other people, and the music industry. Although I cannot clearly perceive full details of this dispute now, I believe it will directly affect musicians and, perhaps, singers. This prediction is based on a strong mental impression that depicts the nightshows in Las Vegas temporarily closing down. I am inclined to interpret this image as indicating that a work stoppage or strike will be called by the musicians.

Education: The quality of education in America will continue to decline in 1975, especially in our high schools and junior high schools. State and federal government cutbacks will create severe hardships for local administrators, who will reluctantly be forced to eliminate important school services and reduce personnel. Sporadic campus violence will erupt in every major city. The entire educational process in America will deteriorate more rapidly now then ever before. This crisis may seem bleak, but by the end of 1975 these unfortunate trends will begin to reverse. A series of drastic changes will be initiated by conscientious educators and lawmakers.

New concepts in elementary and secondary education will emerge. In nearly every major city modern experimental programs will be established in high schools. I predict these improvements will occur suddenly and without warning.

In the final analysis students will derive tremendous benefits from these innovations. Gradually the emphasis will begin to shift from the concept of learning "book knowledge" to practical information and guidance which will prove useful on a day-to-day basis in adulthood. Vast sums of money will be saved, and America's young people will finally have an opportunity to absorb more knowledge in a much shorter period of time. Some local community leaders will initially oppose these daring innovations but their resistance will eventually subside as it becomes clear that the transition represents nothing less than an educational milestone in America.

The Political Destiny of America: In Predictions for 1974, I recorded a long-range forecast on the political destiny of America. Some of these predictions materialized in 1974 while others reflect events and circumstances that are yet to come. Because my original forecast concerning the political destiny of America still remains vitally significant this year, a key passage is reproduced below:

> "This year (1974) will be a major turning point for America. The political system will undergo many dramatic revisions, with Congress gaining power and the president losing it. I foresee many far-reaching changes now taking place, and these will exert a profound effect on future generations. In the years to come the country will be ruled by a group of men. Congress will take the reigns of leadership and the President will become a weak status symbol. The stage for these developments will be set in 1974 and the effects will be all too evident in 1976. John Connally will be the last effective president of the United States and he will attempt to take a firm stand against Congressional dictatorship. He will be crucified in a figurative sense, and future presidents will have no power whatsoever. This drastic change will be detrimental in every way and millions of Americans will be affected by it. Only through strong action in 1974 and 1975, an unlikely possibility, can democracy in this country be retained."

To this long-range forecast I must now include several new predictions. The tragic political destiny of America which I described above is practically inevitable. In 1975, the First Amendment Right concerning freedom of the press will be repeatedly violated by the government. Reports of behind-the-scenes censorship will be more common. The courts will be more inclined to imprison journalists for refusing to divulge the sources of their news stories. The political atmosphere in this country will gradually evolve into an oppressive environment and may resemble a police state in the not too distant future. As these events unfold, it will become increasingly difficult to reverse the trend toward government tyranny and restore democracy to the United States.

The final blow to individual freedom in this nation will be struck in 1981 or 1982. The man who serves as president during the four-year term beginning in 1980 will be assassinated no later than Nov. 28, 1982. Sporadic violence and guerilla warfare will erupt in the streets of this country immediately afterward. By the time some semblance of peace is restored America will be under the leadership of a committee, which will actually constitute a dictatorial regime.

Planned and executed by trained government employees, the assassination of the President will play a key role in this conspiracy. The same individuals will rise to power in the United States as the result of their activities. It must be clearly mentioned that the collapse of democracy will in no way be the result of foreign intervention but rather directly sparked by the actions of seemingly loyal Americans. The nightmare confronting America in the near future can be averted through wise decisions and caution in the Executive branch of government; it is rather doubtful that the necessary steps will be taken in time to preserve this democracy.

International Affairs: This year promises to be one of the more difficult periods in man's history. The dream of world-wide peace will not be fulfilled. In fact, as 1975 progresses the prospect of a lasting global peace will seem to grow dimmer without tangible reason. An aura of subtle hostility and tension pervades international politics. Neighboring countries express deep misgivings toward each other. Military and trade agreements between traditional allies crumble beyond repair. One nation after another begins to reconsider its position in the arena of world politics. Some countries will suddenly switch their allegiance from one super-power to the other, catching seasoned diplomats by surprise.

I predict that a remarkable transformation will occur in the Middle East. Several powerful nations in that area will disavow past treaties with the Soviet Union and turn to the United States for military and economic assistance. At the same time, several of America's traditional allies in Europe will turn away from the West, forging potentially dangerous new agreements with Russia. These astonishing developments will exert a detrimental influence on the U.S.-Soviet detente. The changing political waters in the Middle East will lead to numerous misunderstandings and strife, punctuated by scattered incidents of violence. By the ninth month of 1975 the Arab nations will be clearly divided into two opposing factions, each expressing outright hostility and contempt for the other.

Several assassination attempts will be plotted by Arab terrorists against Anwar Sadat of Egypt. Though doomed to failure these activities will provoke further hostility, which may inevitably lead to a violent confrontation between three Arab nations in particular. Israel can expect to gain limited support from within the Arab community but will suffer continued losses at the hands of guerilla infiltrators. As the threat of war in the Middle East becomes more imminent, the two super-powers will pour massive military aid into this region. Egypt, Israel and at least one other country will receive considerable assistance from the United States.

In Asia, more turbulence is on the agenda for 1975. The government of South Viet Nam will collapse and the republic of Cambodia will be on the precipice of a complete take-over by communist rebels. The United States can be expected to resume bombing missions in that country at the request of the Cambodian government. This military support will be the sole factor preventing communist forces from seizing the capital city.

I also predict that new tensions will build between Russia and China. These two neighboring giants will engage in a fierce propaganda campaign, each hoping to discredit the other and thus insure political supremacy. As the conflict intensifies both nations will resort to threats of violence and ultimatums. At least three separate border skirmishes will erupt during the year claiming the lives of several soldiers. These unsettling events will bring Russia and China one step closer to a serious confrontation.

Weather Changes: The devastating drought that scorched the African continent in 1974 will extend beyond its present boundaries affecting nearby regions this year. Several parts of Asia will be especially hard hit by torrid climatic conditions. Severe famine is in store for at least five densely populated areas in the southern hemisphere, where the main effects of the drought will be confined. I predict the North American continent, in 1975 and throughout the following years, will enjoy weather conditions of a completely opposite nature. Greater rainfall, colder winters and milder summer temperatures will prevail. I foresee these climatic trends contributing to favorable agricultural conditions in many parts of Canada, North America and Mexico. Record rainfall will trigger massive floods in the southern parts of the United States, damaging several important crops. Farmers in that area may consequently anticipate serious financial setbacks. Elsewhere, changing weather conditions will insure a profitable harvest.

Archaeology: Tbis year the scientific community will turn its attention to the pyramids in Egypt. Archaeologists in that country will make a series of minor discoveries and one of considerable importance. I foresee one particular pyramid yielding a variety of scientific secrets; effective health remedies, astronomical data and historical insights into the biological evolution of man. These exciting discoveries, destined to occur later this year or in 1976, will astonish the civilized world.

Unfortunately, much of this knowledge is sure to be suppressed by political leaders as well as renowned archaeologists participating in the excavation and probably won't be released to the public for several years. However, enough information will reach the news media to stimulate the imagination of men in every corner of the globe. This finding, combined with several other significant discoveries, will dispute certain elements in Darwin's theory of evolution and erode the Christian view toward man's origin on this planet.

Medical Discoveries: In 1975, scientists will make tremendous progress in their search of a cure for sickle cell anemia, a fatal disease that has plagued the black community for centuries. A new drug which affords permanent relief is forthcoming this year and its development will be hailed as a medical milestone. By the end of 1976, a refined version of this medication will be readily available to patients suffering from this malady.

Birth control pills will also be in the news this year. An in-depth research study conducted by a team of medical experts will conclusively prove that certain contraceptive drugs are virtually harmless. The same specialists, however, will release additional information showing that other seemingly safe birth control pills cause serious side-effects over an extended period of time, while a few are ultimately deadly to women. The report will put an end to the medical controversy focusing on the pros and cons of this contraceptive method. The Food and Drug Administration will order pharmaceutical manufacturers to withdraw at least three brands of birth control pills from circulation in response to the results of the study. This should allow women to feel less apprehensive toward this approach to planned parenthood.

The Psychic Scene: Worldwide interest in ESP and related issues will continue to skyrocket this year. The reality of psychic phenomenon will be favorably endorsed by one orthodox element after another. Several eminent scientists in the United States and overseas who have expressed skepticism toward ESP and the occult in the past will voice new views on the subject thus joining the growing ranks of believers in 1975. I predict that a series of technological breakthroughs resulting from laboratory experiments conducted under stringent controls will confirm the genuine value of certain controversial types of ESP. These discoveries will lend further credence to the beliefs of parapsychologists and other researchers working in the psychic community. A startling announcement regarding the military applications of psi phenomenon in this twentieth century world of ours is also forthcoming sometime in 1975.

Within the psychic community peculiar circumstances will trigger a series of unexpected changes this year. I foresee the resignation of several well-known clairvoyants and seers, who will withdraw from the limelight to protest the mounting commercialism and corruption evident within the ranks of the world's top psychics. One famous seer will suffer a major setback in 1975. A lawsuit or an illness will most likely be responsible for this individual's trouble.

I also predict that a young woman who has been involved with acting or a similar creative endeavor in the past, will become a member of the psychic community in 1975, receiving considerable publicity throughout the year. She will immediately win the love and trust of a large following. The accuracy of her predictions will astound millions of readers and gain for her the reputation of being one of the world's five greatest psychics. Though destined to achieve great international fame, this woman will always retain a sense of humility, refusing to take credit for her success and attributing her position to the effort of other individuals. A series of minor but unfortunate scandals will befall this seeress, due mainly to her personal affairs, but the outcome will not affect her reputation or status as a blossoming celebrity.

The UFO Controversy: No significant developments will occur in the field of UFO research during 1975. I predict the number of valid reported sightings will decline slightly in this twelve month cycle although a few dramatic contacts can be expected now. This will not be the year of the UFO as some of my colleagues have predicted. No formal contact between our civilization and an alien life-form should be anticipated in the present decade. A handful of eminent scientists will continue to declare that UFOs do indeed represent the presence of an alien culture near earth. Evidence supporting this contention will accumulate between 1975 and 1976 but no proof substantial enough to convince the scientific community is forthcoming for at least another five years.

Music and Literature: The recording industry will undergo a subtle transformation in 1975. I foresee psychedelic rock music acquiring a more soulful, mellow quality. Compositions bordering on folk, jazz and blues will be heard more frequently. Renewed appreciation of classical music will develop gradually this year, especially among the younger generation. Experimental forms of rock highlighted by lyrics with a mystical slant will become very popular in the United States and Great Britain.

The publishing industry will also experience a series of dramatic changes in 1975. Principally, a recovery from the literary and financial hardships of the recent past is forthcoming now. Good literature will begin to reach the reading public as the so-called "nickel and dime trash" disappears from the market. Writers will find it more difficult to get their work accepted by reputable publishers due largely to the increasing demand for quality and authenticity. This new trend applies particularly to non-fiction and popular novels. A surprising number of well-known authors will fall along the wayside as the result of these changes. These individuals can be expected to fade from the public eye virtually overnight as dozens more succumb to the same dilemma within the next three-year period. I also predict that the pornography industry will nearly collapse this year as the result of changing values among the traditionally male readership and unfavorable legal rulings in various states of the nation.

Fiction is destined to regain its original popularity while non-fiction books, which have been outselling novels by a ten-to-one margin since the mid-1960s, will gradually lose their appeal now. In the years to come love stories, gothics, mystery suspense novels and futuristic science-fiction thrillers will captivate the interest of the average American reader. This trend will become more noticeable as the 1970s draw to a close and may be expected to endure throughout the next decade.

Television and Motion Pictures: The motion picture industry will continue to experience an amazing comeback that initially developed early in 1974. Theater box offices around the country may anticipate the greatest attendance record in recent years. This favorable trend will create many new jobs in the reviving industry. Movie moguls will be less reluctant to produce more films this year and films of better quality.

I predict that television will enjoy a similarly prosperous year. The networks will report even greater profits than in the record-breaking year of 1974. No serious competition is forthcoming from Pay-TV advocates, who will suffer continuing setbacks and discouragements. Cable television will not pose any threat to the networks either, for stringent new regulations governing cable operators will be passed later this year. This upcoming legislation will create serious hardships and financial woes for cable firms affected by the ruling. Educational television will generally remain a programming wasteland save for an occasional unexpected bright spot or two during the year.

Certain concessions forced upon the networks by actors and other union members can be expected to produce a wave of grumbling among New York program executives who will warn that grave financial repercussions may result. No such crisis is forthcoming, though. The ripple of excitement will soon fade away and the networks will go on to amass record-breaking profits in spite of the minor setback.

Crime: I foresee a variety of conflicting trends affecting the 1975 crime index for the United States. Americans can anticipate a drop in certain criminal offenses, but other violations will be on the increase during the present twelve-month period. Rather than offering a general outlook this year, I have decided to compile a series of detailed predictions in the following itemized crime forecast:

Murder and manslaughter: a slight increase can be expected ranging between .6% and 2.1% overall for 1975.

Forcible rape: a significant upsurge of reported incidents, approximately 10 to 20% higher in many parts of the nation.

Robbery: up slightly on a nationwide basis; down 1 to 8.3% in some metropolitan centers.

Aggravated assault: a slight increase ranging between 3.4 and 9.8% in major metropolitan cities, especially New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. However, a slight decline of approximately 2% will be reported on an overall nationwide basis.

Arson: a rather significant decline in this category may be anticipated this year.

Forgery: an upsurge in the coastal regions, a slight statistical decline elsewhere.

Counterfeiting: An increase ranging up to 20% on the East Coast, 15% on the West Coast; elsewhere the crime index for this category will drop as much as 30%.

Prostitution: Nationally, an upward trend ranging from 6 to 21.5% in some metropolitan locales will be reported; higher on the West Coast, especially during the first six months of the year. For the national outlook, fewer convictions for this victimless crime will be handed down in court.

Kidnapping: A slight rise this year but not more than a few percentage points nationally.

Crime Distribution by Sex: A significant increase in the number of females arrested for criminal infractions in 1975 can be anticipated together with a barely perceptible change in statistics pertaining to male arrests. The median age of the average felon will drop from 27 to about 25, primarily reflecting the rise in the number of younger people arrested.

Earth Tremors: A series of minor earthquakes will jolt the western coastline of the United States, centering mainly in California. Little or no damage will be reported. The great earthquake foreseen by Edgar Cayce some years ago, and repeated by numerous seers in the psychic community today, who predict that the western coast of America will sink into the ocean, is not forthcoming this year.

The state of Alaska will be struck by an earthquake of considerable magnitude. There may be some casualties but this will not be a widespread disaster and most residents can be expected to remain virtually unaffected by the incident. I predict that a strong tremor will also strike in the vicinity of Mongolia this year or early in 1976. This quake will be more devastating than the one in Alaska. Numerous lives will be lost and many structures in the area will sustain extensive damage.

I see also Mexico being jolted by several minor tremors and one rather severe earthquake. At least two quakes of considerable magnitude will hit parts of Central or South America in 1975 or 1976. It is difficult to pinpoint the exact locations at this time, but I sense that one quake will be centered on the east coast near the middle of Central America. Another will strike the inhabited regions of Brazil or Peru. Loss of life and property will be considerable. At least one country will declare a disaster area and the leading world powers will send massive aid into the region helping to restore stability in a remarkably short time.

I'm afraid this will be a difficult year for most of us. On the basis of my forecast it might seem as though more bad news than good is in store. From my present vantage point this now appears to be true. But this unfortunate trend can be reversed. People make good news happen . . . and you can bring good news to the world and into your own life. Think about it and remember: think positively and act constructively at all times. You then can make 1975 one of the best years in your life. Good luck, and farewell until next year.

CHAPTER 3

DOC ANDERSON

The Man Who Sees Tomorrow

R. C. "Doc" Anderson, 302 West Gordon Avenue, Rossville, Ga., made newspaper headlines this past year by predicting the discovery of a murder victim's body several days prior to the event. In its issue for Sunday, Feb. 24, 1974, the Chattanooga News-Free Press headlined an article on Anderson's prophetic ability. The article read:

"WIDOW SAYS SHE GOT PREDICTION IN MATE'S DEATH

"The widow of a Red Bank, Tenn., restaurant operator found dead Feb. 15 in a shallow grave near Flat Top Road in Soddy, said Saturday that R. C. (Doc) Anderson of Rossville predicted the discovery of her husband's body.

"Mrs. Nina Conley of 123 Pinehurst Ave., Red Bank, told the News-Free Press that Doc Anderson made the prediction when she visited his office on Feb. 4.

"According to Mrs. Conley, Anderson told her: "My child, my child, your heart will be broken. The angel of death is all around you."

"Mrs. Conley said her husband, Albert, had been missing from their home since Nov. 27.

"On Feb. 15, local law enforcement officers acting on information received by Red Bank detective C. L. Westbrook, discovered Mr. Conley's body in a shallow grave in a heavily-wooded area near Soddy, Tenn.

"Officials said Mr. Conley had apparently been the victim of foul play, and had died of a massive blow to the head. Speculation was that he had been robbed prior to his death. Mrs. Conley said Doc Anderson had a vision in which he saw her husband's body 'on a sloping bank, near a body of water.'

"Police said that Mr. Conley's body was found on the side of a hill near Flat Top Road. Rainwater had partially uncovered the grave."

Doc Anderson, who predicted a widespread government scandal two years prior to Watergate, has supplied these forecasts for the future:

Food Famine: A lack of food will be felt all over the world in 1975. Costs of all commodities are going to rise.

Medical Care: A New York official will develop a revolutionary new program that will give our senior citizens the best medical care in the world.

Free Fare: A new form of public transportation will be coming soon. This will operate so cheaply that fares will drop dramatically.

Stock Market Crash: There will definitely be a stock market crash in 1975. This will usher in a new depression which is necessary to stabilize the money of our country for the next few years.

World Government: Next year will see the start of a world government for our planet.

Israeli Territory: Israel will be asked to abandon a lot of territory which they will not give up. Although they realize this will meet with great opposition, they will prevail. The trouble in the Middle East is far from over.

Wallace in White House: Governor George Wallace is destined to be in the White House.

Ray Innocent: It will be proven that James Earl Ray did not pull the trigger that killed Dr. Martin Luther King.

Great Star: Marlo Thomas will become an even greater star in 1975.

California Quake: The earthquake will not be in the cities, but the center will be out at sea and around the Arctic Circle in 1975.

America's Awesome Arsenal: Weapons systems that are now under development, or will be created in the seventies will include:

Several types of nuclear bombs, including a fallout-free weapon.

Small nuclear bombs for use on the battlefield.

A machine that will be able to change the weather conditions over an enemy country. This device will be capable of creating blizzards, drought, snowstorms, or rain by remote control.

A device known as "The Earth Scorcher" will burn the atmosphere over a controlled area of enemy territory.

A laser cannon that will be developed as protection against enemy missiles.

Artificial intelligence for missile guidance will be developed.

A space platform that orbits around the earth will be equipped with nuclear-tipped bombs and manned by a special crew of astronauts.

Energy Shortage:

Power for the nation's homes will undergo considerable change in this next decade. These changes will include:

Solar energy: Space heaters, miniature generators, and other devices will become available to the public within the next five years. The power of the sun will be harnessed for humanity's benefit on a scale undreamed of a few years ago.

Aerosol generators: This machine will be powered by helium gas and water to transform heat directly into electrical power. Both large and small units will be made as replacements for giant turbine electrical generators.

Gas fuel cells: A device soon to come on the market will be used to power the average home. This will be a fuel cell operating from natural gas. Homeowners may rent, or purchase, the device and forget their monthly electrical bills.

Money Investment: In 1970 I predicted that investing in silver coins would return a sizable profit—up to 20% increased valuation per year. The past four years have borne out that forecast as true. I also predicted that year that the government would eventually turn to the use of plastic coins and script. I predict that script will soon become a part of our national currency.

Future Events: Business in the immediate future will be under considerable pressure. There will be an element of constant change and shortages. Some of the things we'll be reading about will include:

Japanese interests will build a railroad from Asia to Europe for fast, low-cost delivery of Japanese products to European consumers.

Businessmen will soon start to leave England for better opportunities in the U.S. and Canada.

New Zealand will become the most popular tourist center in the Pacific Ocean.

Hawaii will fall out of favor due to over-commercialization and high prices.

Giant "Container" submarines will move freight under the ocean at low cost.

More business firms will move underground to protect their facilities.

A typewriter that operates from the human voice will be marketed in the late seventies.

A "Mind Machine" will be invented to end depression and mental illness.

Informal dress will continue to be accepted in the business world.

A method using computers will provide fast, accurate daily medical check-ups. This will be a great breakthrough in monitoring the human body against disease.

"Legal Machines" will start to replace attorneys in many corporations.

CHAPTER 4

AQUARIUS

The Psychic Physician

A former student at the University of Iowa, Aquarius is the pseudonym of a medical doctor now interning at a midwest hospital. During the past several years, Aquarius has demonstrated his ability to foresee future events. "I'm not certain about the exact nature of the process," he admitted. "On a practical level, my training in medicine indicates that ESP may be more of a fluke than something scientific. I've also been too busy passing my final exams and doctor's boards to experiment with the phenomena."

In the past year, Aquarius has accurately forecast the lower speed limit on American highways, a biochemical breakthrough in the treatment of schizophrenia, and the Arab-Israeli war. Other "hits" included a heavy windstorm pinpointed to the very month for eastern Iowa, turbulent conditions on the Mississippi river for the first six months of this year, and a jail sentence for former White House aide, Charles Colson. Aquarius may be contacted at P. O. Box 897, Clinton, Iowa 52732.

His forecasts for 1975 are:

There will be the start of a movement in 1975 for better justice for juvenile offenders in the United States. The movement will grow rapidly due to past injustices and the jailing of children who are not wanted by their parents. Another movement will start to allow unwanted children, both boys and girls, to achieve adult status and to obtain jobs.

There will be a faddish start of bisexuality among a few people. This will be linked to certain elements of the woman's liberation movement. However, the media will give more attention to this than is warranted. The vast majority of people will not be a part of the movement.

A prominent member of the women's lib movement will find her reputation tarnished because she has been ripping off her sisters.

Consumers will continue to demand higher quality products. The year of 1975 marks the end of obsolescence manufacturing. Those who make products will have to stress durability, long life, and ease of maintenance.

This same stress on quality will become a part of American life. A movement to improve the quality of life—an anti-ripoff group will be formed—and this group will lead the way to a better life.

While our economic status will be better in the next two years, there will be continued inflation. Americans will have to live with steadily increasing prices during the next few years.

The present government of France will be short-lived.

Tenure for academic professors at several universities and colleges will come under attack. Tenure guarantees a teacher a job, regardless of ability to teach. This will be seriously questioned by younger professors, who feel that a teacher should be retained only as long as he can successfully teach and communicate to his students. Examples of several senile, or incompetent, professors will be cited by the press.

Look for more scandals to erupt out of the U.S. Postal Corporation. Expensive offices for higher-ups, padding of the payroll with too many executives, and a lowering of the ability to deliver the mail will be involved in these stories.

A noted television entertainer will die in 1975. His passing will be mourned by millions.

A new country and western singing star will come out of Nashville.

The big bands will be coming back and old favorites will start returning to ballrooms all over America.

Despite better economic news, several large conglomerates will be very shaky in their business dealings. This will be due to a tightening up of their money sources and the high cost of interest.

Stringent regulations on door-to-door sales will be put into effect in the near future. These rules will give the homeowner time to reconsider any purchases made from salesmen. This will have a detrimental effect on the direct selling industry.

Look for more scandals in the art world as smuggling of objects d'art from other countries rises. We will also learn of many so-called masterpieces being counterfeited by expert forgers.

There will be new information published on the life of movie actress and sex symbol Marilyn Monroe.

There will be continued turmoil in the middle eastern countries with numerous clashes between the Israelis and Arab forces. The Palestinian guerillas are the key to peace in this region.

Bands of terrorists will be in the news with headlines of kidnappings and assassinations during the coming months.

Look for a dramatic breakthrough to be announced in the field of medicine. It will be discovered that an experimental drug made from human waste will be successful in the prevention of heart attacks. This drug will come from Italy.

I foresee trouble in the future for Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

Movie actress Cybil Shepherd will become even better known for her role as Daisy Miller. In time Miss Shepherd will become one of Hollywood's greatest actresses.

There will be a scandal in Washington connected with the revision of the U.S. Criminal Code. It will be discovered that suppression of government information will be the purpose of this code. The attempt will fail.

1975 will bring the end for many politicians. Many well-known names will not be in office when you read this.

The use of vinyl chloride in production of plastics will be severely limited due to the cancer producing nature of this chemical. Other forms of plastics will also come under scrutiny during the next year.

A large discount store chain will omit a dividend and be forced into bankruptcy by its creditors.

Look for more pressure on electrical utilities in the coming year. They will experience problems in obtaining money for expansion. Many electrical utilities will be taken over by various segments of the city, state, and federal government.

There will be several dramatic breakthroughs in inventions to partially solve the energy crisis. Humanity is on the verge of discovering methods of conserving our present natural resources in ways not yet dreamed of.

1975 will be the year of the small car. Large cars are on their way out.

More firms will rush into the field of providing information on cassette tapes. This industry will mushroom in the next few years. A mini-cassette is now on the drawing boards and will be announced within the next few months.

There will be a scandal connected with the nutritional value of baby foods.

CHAPTER 5

REV. LAWRENCE A. BALL

California's Clairvoyant Minister

A frightening brush with death convinced a California minister that he should use ESP to counsel people suffering from emotional or physical distress. "My wife and I were victims of a head-on automobile collision," explained Rev. Lawrence Ball. "By all medical standards, we should have been dead upon arrival at the hospital. However, we survived and I considered that a second chance in life."

Rev. Ball believes the accident was God's way of telling him and his wife to use his natural psychic abilities. "While I was in the hospital I had severe pain. When the pain became too much to bear, I was suddenly released from it through an out-of-body experience. I believe this saved my life."

Although he had experienced psychic powers since childhood, Rev. Ball had failed to use his ESP abilities. Two years after the accident, he moved to California and decided to assist people with his psychicism. Since then, he has amassed a thick stack of data from persons who attest to his abilities.

"I received a reading from Rev. Ball and he said that one of my sons was going to the hospital," said a young woman from Cypress, Cal. "One of my boys has a complicated knee problem and I was naturally concerned. I didn't consider the possibility that the prediction would concern my youngest son. He was beaten up and suffered two fractured ribs and a head injury. Rev. Ball told me that the injuries would not be as serious as they looked. I was glad to have had his counsel when the unfortunate experience occurred."

Rev. Ball also aided another minister, Rev. Philip Jay, to prepare for the death of a friend.

"He described the individual and explained the man was a friend of mine, not a member of my family," said Rev. Jay. "Shortly after my counseling session with Rev. Ball, I called my friend. He had passed away."

Rev. Ball reported that not all of his psychic counseling is negative in tone.

He informed Robert Bird of Glendale, Cal., that Bird would get married, take a long trip over water, and change jobs. "I considered this incredible because I didn't plan any radical changes in my life," said Mr. Bird. "Rev. Ball said I would meet my future wife at a social gathering I would attend out of town. I met her about 150 miles away—just as Rev. Ball forecast. We were married in September. I quit my teaching job, and we honeymooned in Europe to fulfill the predictions of a long trip over water."

Readers may contact Rev. Ball at 13934 Taft Street, Suite No. 4; Garden Grove, Cal. 92643.

His predictions for the future follow:

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger will be placed in grave danger during a kidnapping attempt in Europe. The plot will fail, but Mr. Kissinger will have some frightening moments before it's over.

There will be a death in the family of Richard M. Nixon.

In 1975 there will be considerable economic turmoil with strikes and boycotts in the news. However, the economic situation will start to improve sometime in 1975.

Senator Barry Goldwater's second bid for the presidency will begin in 1975.

There will be an engagement and the throne of England for Prince Charles when his mother, Queen Elizabeth, abdicates her position because of failing health.

There will be a Russian plot to beam mental thoughts from Communist psychics into the United States.

There is still another illness ahead for either Senator Ted Kennedy or a member of his family.

The United States is building a secret spacecraft in an underground facility. There is extreme security around this factory. I keep receiving the psychic impression that this craft looks very much like a flying saucer.

I see darkness around the image of Johnny Weismeuller the famous Tarzan of movie fame.

I predict that Frank Sinatra will fall in love with a much younger woman.

There will be some fierce, natural storms in the middle eastern countries in the coming year. Nature will wreak havoc in that region.

Dean Martin and his wife will soon be getting a divorce.

Two top Washington officials will take their own lives.

Sugar will be in extremely short supply with prices doubling again next year.

Whenev I psychically "see" Patty Hearst, I obtain a vision of a grave. I feel she has been dead for a considerable length of time.

Henry Kissinger's name will be brought out in the Watergate investigation. He is more involved than the public realizes. My psychic impressions indicate that Kissinger was a heavy force in the entire affair.

The Democratic party will be in power for the next several years.

Former movie actress Betty Hutton will begin her comeback in 1975. She will have a very good year, with 1976 being even better.

There will be quite a surprise connected with the death of an English lord. The letter "R" is connected with his name.

The coming winter will be an extremely hard one. There will be thick lavers of snow from Canada to the Georgia line. Frigid arctic air will also freeze areas of the United States that have been untouched by cold until then.

The economy in the United States is going to start balancing out in late 1975. Officials in Washington will start to listen to the cry of the people. The year 1975 is going to begin a new era of good living for the people of this country.

There is going to be a landing of a UFO and the world is going to benefit by great knowledge from outer space. We are going to find that God doesn't exist just for this world, but for other worlds as well.

The stock market is going to hit a new high in the year of 1975. This should start in the middle of the year.

There is going to be much turmoil in China and because of much civil fighting China will ask Russia for help. They will regret this action in the future.

The United States will be going deeper into space with man. I see trouble for the pilots and crews of a couple of these flights. One flight with a crew of four will never get back to earth again.

A new Russian leader will bring many changes for the Russian people. He is going to remind the world of Joseph Stalin.

Water in the United States will come under heavy controls to make sure the supply lasts. I see new water being found in unlikely places.

There will be a breakthrough in heart disease. This will give heart patients a new outlook on life. This is going to come about in the late 1975 or 1976.

Ted Kennedy will throw his hat in the ring for the presidency. This is going to cause family troubles for him—his wife will leave him. When she realizes that he is going to go all the way, she will come back to his side. I see their son going through more operations on his leg.

A sports scandal will hit the headlines. This will be in the field of baseball and basketball. Many top stars are to be involved.

From March to May, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Omaha will have many storms, severe rain, wind and tornadoes. There will be a lot of damage and some loss of life.

A large fire will erupt in New York Harbor. This will be caused by out-of-date wiring. There is going to be much damage. A few people will be burned. I don't see any loss of life.

Liz Taylor is going to have another hospital stay, recovering from an illness. She is going to get married to a businessman in late 1974 or early 1975. This marriage will fail. Her movie fame is going to hit new highs.

Zsa Zsa Gabor will get married, with real happiness. There is also going to be an illness in her family.

Mark Spitz is going to be a father. He will star in a film that is going to skyrocket him into movie fame.

New and exciting events are going to occur in the psychic world. This will make the world see that God lives in the now.

The end of long hair is going to start in 1975. There is going to be a new fad; bald heads.

There is going to be more trouble for England. Strikes and boycotts are going to plague this country. Prince Charles will have a lot to do with settling this trouble, even though he won't get much of the credit.

Liberace will have a loss in his family that will hurt him deeply. Because of the great response of his fans he will pull out of his depression.

Carroll O'Connor (Archie Bunker) is going to have a great year. There will be an award for him and great heights in the film industry.

I see a marriage problem for Ann-Margaret. It will take a great deal of understanding on her part to keep this marriage together. There is a good possibility that she will give up her career to save her marriage.

The movie world is going to lose three male movie stars. They will be a western star, a dramatic star, and a comedian.

Cuba is going to have inner turmoil. This will be the year of Castro's downfall.

There will be an air crash in the South. I see a loss of life. This is going to happen in the air through explosion. The numbers 4 and 6 will be involved.

Hollywood will make a movie musical like those of the 40's. This film is going to turn the movies back to great picture making.

The Democratic Party will go to great lengths to gain control of the U.S. And they are going to do it. There will be great changes put forth for this country.

CHAPTER 6

BRIGHT STAR

Interplanetary Predictions

Bright Star, c/o Arising Sun Interplanetary Class, 3118 North 13th St., Milwaukee, Wis., is a young, attractive black woman named June Young. She leaped to prominence in the midwest in 1974 with her accurate forecasts on the weather. On March 30, The Milwaukee Courier published an interview in which June Young predicted a wet spring. "There will be some warm--even hot—days," she stated. "But, from what I can see, there's going to be a lot of water."

As midwesterners discovered, she was uncannily accurate in her weather predictions. At the time of this writing, the Mississippi river is at near flood stage in the midwest. A series of heavy rains has swollen the river, which has crested several times. Observers call the spring of 1974 one of the wettest in history. Some farmers have been compelled to plant their crops two, three, and sometimes four times due to flooding conditions.

Featured in Predictions for the first time, Ms. Young related how her interplanetary forecasts come about. She explained:

"I had a vision in which I saw white and black people with white robes on and long large white rosaries around their necks and they were holding hands. This was April, 1971. This was a vision of the Arising Sun Class one and one-half years later.

"I kept getting impressions on Archangel Michael and started immediately searching for him. It was over three months of fasting, sacrificing, giving up all meats and prayer before I saw St. Michael in a vision. He was in a swooping position (he's over ten feet tall) and came right up to me where I could take note of every feature. Then, by chance, a Rever end friend of mine came to the house and I was telling hi of the vision I had of Michael and of my desire to ca Michael at will. He was delighted to lend me his book o metaphysical laws. He knew obviously Michael wanted t work with me and had something for me to do because o this vision. After studying this book for a couple of month and applying these laws to my personal life, Michael cam to me again. Speaking, he told me to start a class dealin with higher laws of God. He gave me instructions on how t set up this class.

"I was impressed to go to Kraft Memorial Services i downtown Milwaukee and there I met my first student, Betty. Afterwards, I was amazed on how I came to mee other interested people. All of my friends thought I ha flipped my lid. After a month of following instructions an preparation I started my class Arising Sun (elevation of min into higher levels of consciousness) which Michael named. We were given strict rules about sacrificing certain personal likes to purify our minds and bodies. Like Moses in the Ten Commandments who was stripped of everything he loved and was accustomed to and was alone on his journey to do God's will, the same thing happened to me.

"First, you have to be made over by the Master Builder (God). After hearing the word go full speed ahead and do; say like Jesus did—'Not my will but thine (God, the Father) will be done.'

"After St. Michael's visitation I was impressed one by one of the remaining six Archangels and in time I received visions of each and every one of them, also Jesus, the Christ, Mary and Her Holy Women of old, Prophets, Saints, and Apostles came to help get our class on its way. The lessons were taught and brought by St. Michael and his Angels. Michael is the head of our class, our Protector, Way-shower and Guide. Each Angel has his separate duty. I was reading an article concerning space and other dimensions and I saw flickering lights that wouldn't go away. I had a premonition of Moses and the burning bush that wasn't consumed. I knew that this was Spirit's way of telling me to investigate Space and Planets which the Archangels are in charge.

"The class and I meditated on Mars, Pluto, Venus, Saturn, Mercury, Jupiter, Neptune, the Sun and the Moon and we found life and intelligent beings far superior to our minds on the planet Earth. We talked to these intelligences by mental telepathy (mind to mind) and, with our inner visions, we could see them. Within the next ten to 25 years you will hear about UFO's and life on other planets. They're coming to help, not to take over our planet Earth.

"We're coming out of the Piscean Age into the Age of Aquarius by the year 2000 or 2010. There will be a lot of changes within this span of time. It will all be changed as painlessly as possible—it all depends on mankind. If we would only turn back to God, there would be no wars, no jealousy, no envy, no malice, no hatred to ourselves and our fellowman. This is a law and this must be obeyed. If not, there will be cataclysm in all the nations on this earth. One nation will be as bad as the next. No one will be safe; no one will be secure. There is no need to run. There is no need to hide. Man has gone as far as he can go in learning. He is well learned in medicine and science and now he has to go on to a higher level of manifestation not on this planet Earth but another.

"We, the Arising Sun Class, are the interpretators for Outer Space by mental telepathy. We are to help ease the tensions and to break down the barrier so all can understand each other."

Predictions for 1975 are:

Automobiles: The automobile industry is in the process of inventing a new way of running autos out of a battery device. We should read or hear of this by the middle 1975 or early 1976.

Books: More parapsychology books will cover a variety of subjects.

Business: The next five years are favorable. Persons starting business after these five years will run into serious problems.

Churches: 1975-1976 will bring a revolt against old laws in the Catholic church. Congregations will demand changes, and old secrets will be revealed.

Coins: People will try to get their hands on real silver and gold pieces.

Crimes: More crimes will be committed, with blood running in the streets.

Disaster: Land shifting; more airplane crashes; trains; and buses, numerous fires and loss of lives.

Depression: No danger in 1975. This will come about in 2 to 5 years.

Earth Changes: California will have strong winds, tidal waves, shifting, and loss of land.

Education: 1975-1976: Students will demand more parapsychology courses in high school and colleges. Even the kindergartners are using thought patterns and are learning how to tune in.

Employment: Not very favorable. It will rise and fall. Money will be shuffled from Peter to pay Paul in county, city, and state agencies.

Food: 1975-1976 food prices will continue to rise because of the scarcity of different items caused by bad weather conditions. Many fruits and vegetables will be stringy, tough, or mushy with no taste.

Farming: 1975-1976 dairymen will have trouble in upper Wisconsin and also other dairy states because of floods and then extreme periods of dryness.

Fuel-Energy Crisis: This is not a hoax and within five years you will hear and see this is true. There will be a shortage of oil and coal to heat homes. This will find its hold in 1975-77. A new sun will be seen by scientists' telescopes that will be in conjunction with our central sun. We will be furnished with heat from this sun in the middle 80s, give or take a few years. Our fuel resources are spending fast because of our misuse of our forests (mineral and vegetable kingdoms). The land is rebelling.

Floods: Very heavy throughout the north, east, and south. Even the west where water is scarce will get water and lots of it.

Health Foods: More health food centers will spring up in these two years. The Food and Drug Administration will try to close them down but will not do so in 1975.

Hospitals: Beds won't be filled to capacity as people use herbs and more home remedies.

Homes: Homes near the lakes and bodies of waters won't be safe because of flooding.

Investments: Real Estate in general is favorable. Purchase land with running streams or little creeks. Long term investments will fail within 5-7 years. Radio or TV is another good investment. Newspapers are unfavorable. Newspaper size will decrease from 20 pages to five and less.

Inflation: I see prices rising in fruits, vegetables, grains and wheat, because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Land: The price of land will be very reasonable. In five years land prices by acre will have increased.

Plagues: Insects, rodents and birds will be menaces to the crops that will grow.

Psychics: In 1975 there will be more awareness in children being born. They will have special talents and be able to perform so-called miraccles, such as healing others and themselves.

Racial Conflicts: In 1975 racial tensions flare due to no jobs. Youths need money and they will take what is not theirs. Homes will be ransacked when people leave home. Tension will break out in the states of New York, Washington, Illinois and Missouri. Others will be involved but not as bad.

Stocks and Bonds: Stock market in 1975 will be flexible, with both high and low peaks.

Storms: Unseasonable, untimely weather will continue flooding in Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri. In 1975 look for severe cold winter, high winds, electrical storms even when it's snowing, with more snow than 1974. Southern states will continue to have snowstorms and unpredictable weather.

T.V.: More blacks will appear in films, radio, and TV.

UFOs: More sightings in 1975, landings, people being on tours to Venus, Mars, Saturn, will remember these experiences vividly.

Water: 1975-76 I see a severe water shortage because of pollution and insufficient disposal of human waste deposited in our lakes, rivers, and bodies of water.

Wars: More little wars breaking out in the East. World war is not eliminated yet. I see more bombings.

CHAPTER 7

REV. KINGDOM L. BROWN

New Age Psychic

Rev. Kingdom L. Brown is a former Bell Telephone Co. business executive who has turned to religion and mysticism. "I became fascinated with the world of metaphysics as a young boy in Detroit," he explained. "I became intrigued with the belief that we might be able to communicate with something other than another person. I had always sensed things that might occur. I knew what my classmates would do after their graduation from school. I foresaw a couple of deaths in my high school class. I seemed to intuitively know the weather in advance."

After his graduation from Northwestern University, Rev. Brown worked as an executive with the telephone company in Detroit. "Several years ago, friends and I began to meet regularly to study spiritual matters," he reported. "I also wanted to determine if certain people could develop their psychic senses. At first, our study group had a rather skeptical attitude toward psychicism. Then, several people began to increase their psychic abilities. I became convinced that other people should know about meditation, spirit healing, and psychic awareness."

His experience with the study group started Rev. Brown writing in his spare time. The result was The Power of Psychic Awareness (Parker Publishing Co., Nyack, N.Y.). The book presented detailed instructions for developing the metaphysical nature within us. His second book, Cosmosis: The Technique and Its Use in Daily Living (Ibid.) was a guide to creating vitality in harmony with one's life.

Rev. Brown feels that psychicism, metaphysics, and spiritualism are creating a new age philosophy. "I travel thousands of miles each year speaking to groups all over the country," he explained. "I've spoken to Edgar Cayce groups, Unity churches, Yoga centers, Universal Truth organizations, and the Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship. There are centers and groups everywhere that are studying metaphysics. The philosophy seems to be merging into a unified point of view relating to the oneness and interrelationship of all things. This new idea emphasizes the spiritual growth and development within us by a recognized process. People are saying that all we know is not limited to what we can hear and see with our conscious mind."

In an interview with the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman, Rev. Brown stressed the coming collision between the "new" and "old" consciousness. "The Hopi Indians of New Mexico believe that you should live in harmony with nature," Rev. Brown said. "That seems wise. We are finding out the way we relate to nature now is killing us. Nature is fighting back."

A man who keeps one foot in the practical world, the other in the world of metaphysics, Rev. Brown predicted that humanity will soon learn the importance of flowing with nature.

"The world will become even more chaotic and confused," he said. "As long as we are content to evaluate and repair it in terms of its own chaos, we will simply continue to recycle the world's problems.

"When man learns to 'flow with' nature, much of the chaos of modern society will end. I expect it will take another 50 years to reach that stage," he stated. "It will come after the collision between new and old consciousness."

Brown defined the "new consciousness" as a method of thinking. "You submit outer events to validation by inner responses. I think we've been hoodwinked," he explained, "by putting too much emphasis on outer events. We must learn to relate from the inside out."

Rev. Brown also believes that the best method of developing "inner" validation is through heightened awareness.

"You might also call this extra-sensory-perception," he continued. "Everyone has ESP and everyone can develop it."

Rev. Brown's record of prophetic "hits" include Agnew's resignation, the Middle East accord, the current recession, inflation, and the decline of Nixon's influence. He also foresaw the fuel crisis, the growth of cable TV, and the truckers' strike against the government.

Readers can contact Rev. Brown at The New Age Truth Center, 6508 East Cactus Rd., Scottsdale, Ariz. 85254.

His forecasts for the future are as follows:

General Trends: The year of 1975 will be the Psychic Year with more people investigating their own spiritual, metaphysical, and psychic abilities than ever before. Why? Because the physical realities of life will not hold satisfactions. People are mutating and want a higher, deeper understanding. No longer can people be confused by lies, corruption, or power for its own sake.

UFOs: UFOs are coming in again, stronger than ever. Sightings from Phoenix, Ariz., to Atlanta Ga., will be strong. And, other countries and areas of the world will be observed. At last, our government will admit that there is "something" to it.

Future U.S. Political System: The United States will return to basics. The governmental system will be more honest, open, and responsive. Gone will be the closed door deals, attempts to suppress true opinion, and stifle public demands for a democratic system. No single leader will emerge because we are in for an era of group decisions, committee work, and consensus concepts. The military will come in for its share of criticism as a force in international affairs. The rallying cry will be "no more Vietnams."

Earth Changes and Earthquakes: At long last, 1975 will see the often predicted California quake to end all quakes. Striking at the mid-section of the state, the underground movements will influence the water table, underground, change the course of streams, rivers, and lakes, and place demands on the government to study ways of avoiding such far reaching consequences in the future.

Good News for Farmers: Farmers and small town residents are in for a good year. City folk will continue to be plagued by circumstances beyond their immediate control. Crime, shortages, and unemployment will create nervousness and bad tempers.

Consumer Affairs: Consumers will start to rebel against the utility companies. Light, gas, and telephone officials will show their true colors as investigations into rates will begin all over the country. Watch for increased construction by companies that were holding out for bigger and better profits. Also look for the introduction of appliances which will use less power to operate. And home owners will begin conserving energy in a marked and unmistakable way.

Stock Market: Good stock buys can be had in 1975. Especially steels, transportation, food processing, energy-related items, and research firms. Watch the aero-space industries adapt to new requirements.

Municipal bonds will be good buys and 1975 is a good time for long-range investments in real estate, mining, and of course, oil producing equipment. Profits will be down and the market will zig-zag. But, in the final analysis this is a good year to get some blue chips as they edge toward new lows.

International Affairs: We are entering a new period of lessening tensions with world leaders seeking areas of mutual concern and agreement. Even the great religious leaders will begin to "communicate" with each other. Watch for a reunion of the Roman Catholic Church and the Church of England! See spiritualism being introduced as a regular thing in the Methodist Church. And, don't be surprised if the Yoga enthusiasts form a church of their own. Changes are due in Latin America, and the United States will be the country to step in and restore peace again. Assassinations are in the news again. This time some of America's top governmental diplomats may be targets.

Communism: World-wide communist activity will come into the headlines with a new ideological tactic which will startle everyone. Russia will introduce a limited form of representative democracy! A change in Kremlin leadership is in the making because of this innovation.

Television: The first X-rated flick will be shown on network television. And, it will break all records for viewers at the late, late hour! More honesty in other programs that have sex mentioned or used as a theme will be the result of the new breakthrough.

Drugs and Alcohol: Watch for a governmental report that predicts that alcohol will be the number one threat by 1980. And, in the meantime, one of our largest states may start the climb toward legalized marijuana smoking. Although this first effort won't succeed, it will break the ice for later efforts.

New Inventions: The American kitchen will gain more micro-wave ovens, fast-frozen foods that thaw instantly in a new radar oven, and a disposable pot and pan set that is used only once before it is thrown in the garbage. Artificial foods that contain all the nutritional requirements will be strong, too. Grocery chains will stock freeze dried food. Eating habits are in for a revolution as the medical profession proves that a onetime per day meal is enough!

CHAPTER 8

ELIZABETH BURROWS

Mystic and Psychic

Another newcomer to our panel of prognosticators is Rev. Elizabeth Burrows, an attractive Christian mystic from Tacoma, Wash. Ordained as a minister in the Unity church, Rev. Burrows has a clean-scrubbed appearance and the aura of a prophet. Her first psychic experience occurred when she was ten years old and living on her grandparents' farm in Idaho. "I was able to foresee the future even then," she relates. "I could meet someone and I knew what was going to happen to him. I always received these psychic impressions when meeting someone new."

When she became an adult, she accepted employment with the telephone company. She often told her fellow workers of her impressions about their future. Then, three years ago she had a mystical experience that changed her life.

"I witnessed a divine manifestation," Rev. Burrows explained. "I was told to walk away from all worldly things. I left that same night—my husband, who preferred to remain in the physical, material world, my married daughter, my job, and my possessions. I left everything."

Since then Rev. Burrows has traveled thousands of miles on a cross-country mission to teach that "All people are psychic." In addition, she has founded the School of Mystical Sciences in Tacoma.

Discussing her belief that everyone is psychic, Rev. Burrows explained there are four points to developing psychic abilities. "First, people seem to believe that psychics receive great visionary pictures in their minds," she stated. "Or, that we receive powerful, unusual hunches about an impending event. This just is not true. The vast majority of the time a psychic is dealing with thought impressions just like any other person. Psychic power is not unusual. It goes back in history for 250,000 years."

Rev. Burrows related that man is composed of three basic bodies, the physical, the spirit, and the "light" bodies. She explained that the "light" bodies dwell inside the spiritual form. "This is that part of ourselves that we can utilize for creative principles," she continued. "Our personalities may be much different, but the creative instinct is similar. The 'light' body is the portion of ourselves that we can use for psychic and healing work."

Rev. Burrows' four rules for developing your paranormal potential are:

1. "The first step toward becoming psychic is to realize that you already are. Extra-sensory-perception and intuition are one and the same thing. The degree to which you use this natural gift determines the extent of your psychicism. You can live a longer, fuller life by using your ESP.

2. "Learn to separate your first psychic impressions from those that come later. When an individual cannot separate them, they have lost the thread of their psychic sense. This explains why some established psychics are sometimes inaccurate in making forecasts. A person making international forecasts, personality summaries, or impressions on world events should write them down or record them. Putting the impressions on paper retains the attention of the conscious mind. It provides freedom to the inner psychic sense, allowing it to come through without censorship.

3. "The third rule is to have faith in your original, first impressions. Do not add to or change your original prediction. I don't know how often this has caused me to make an inaccurate forecast.

4. "The final rule is to be patient.

"There is a distinct difference between Jeanne Dixon and me," said Rev. Burrows. "Mrs. Dixon thinks hers is a divine gift. I recognize that this power is in all people."

In a May, 1973, interview with the Portland Oregon Jour- nal, Rev. Burrows was quoted as stating that then vice-president Spiro Agnew would lead a fight against a powerful U.S. official in an unusual scandal brought about by Watergate. On June 19, 1973, she told San Francisco Examiner reporter Almena Lomax that "... Agnew will come under close scrutiny." When Rev. Burrows was making these statements, Agnew was believed to be free of any corruption. It was another two months before he pleaded nolo contendere in Baltimore to the charges against him.

Although she is frequently on tour with her lectures, Rev. Burrows will answer letters when she returns to her Tacoma school. Her address is Rev. Elizabeth Burrows, The School of Mystical Sciences, P. O. Box 185, Fernhill Station, Tacoma, Wash.

Her forecasts for the next year are:

Nineteen seventy-five will be a year of trials, with the world being buffeted by one event and then another. Severe storms throughout the midwest in the spring will bring havoc. The southern states will suffer floods as severe rainstorms raise the rivers, including severe flooding along the banks of the Mississippi.

Skirmishes and fighting in the East and Ireland keep the world wondering what is going to happen next.

Personality highlights include a child for Princess Ann and illness for Pope Paul, as his health declines. He suffers difficulties with his heart.

Patricia Hearst is captured in 1975 and it will be found that there has been a romantic involvement with the leader of the terrorist group. He is a blond man, 23-26, 5 feet 11 inches tall, stocky built with hair cut just below the ear line. He too will be arrested. The interrogation of Patricia Hearst will be long and arduous and she will be sentenced to prison. The term of her prison life appears to be around ten or eleven years due to a parole. There is a possibility that she will bear a child.

Grains, particularly wheat will become like gold, and gold and silver prices will soar as the paper dollar becomes even more worthless.

Food prices, gasoline, and commodity items go up. Gas will cost 72 cents a gallon.

The new trend in 1975 will be home-grown foods. There will be gardens where gardens have never been. Lawns will be dug up and replaced by growing food.

I see widespread hunger in many lands.

Fighting in Israel will continue to bubble and boil and extend to Syria. America will intercede with peace talks and bring about discussions of peace negotiations in the Middle East during the spring of 1975. While this will make important headlines for awhile, it will be found that the lull is temporary.

It is going to be discovered in the next decade that intelligence from outside our own galaxy has and is in communication with many people. We'll learn that spacecraft is inter-dimensional, capable of breaching time and space by the use of solar energy. 1975 brings about a number of unusual stories regarding not only sightings but stories about direct communication. Many people have contact today but are afraid to discuss it because of the opinions of society. Certainly outer space intelligence is far more advanced than civilization on earth.

The planet Earth is tipping on its axis and has tipped far more than mankind realizes. It appears to have tipped approximately 1/8th of the 1/4th full span between pole to pole. This accounts for the erratic weather behavior which will become more severe as time passes.

Man will discover that his misuse of nature has brought about the unbalanced condition of earth, not a great deity who lives in the sky and seeks to punish people. Man has built great cities upon the upper part of the hemisphere and forgot the law of balance. There is no possible way disaster can be averted. Some of the most severe weather occurrences will occur between 1989 and 1992. There will be research along these lines in 1975. Some of the facts regarding this critical condition will be publicized. The tipping of the planet will be preceded by a number of severe earthquakes and will be followed by another great ice age.

There are little changes in international relationships as America continues to visit with the heads of many lands. Talks will turn, in time, to food and assistance in the food crises of other countries. We'll have requests for aid—and we'll comply to the best of our ability.

Kissinger will become America's number one diplomat in foreign relations. His travels in many lands will keep him exceedingly busy during 1975 and his name will often be in the headlines. His new wife will be an ideal hostess and will be cherished in many lands. Their work will continue for a long time.

There will be headlines on the Suez Canal concerning disagreements which will require negotiations. The water appears to have dropped below the normal level in the canal and this indicates less rain for that area.

In spite of the fury of spring storms, the summer of 1975 will be dry. This will bring water shortages from Washington state to the east coast. Rationing will be found in many areas.

America's concern will be on the growing economical and energy crises. No president in the future will have the same freedom that has been given to those in the past. The political system as we know it today will undergo radical changes. The Watergate affair goes in the back pages until the 1976 elections. It will then be used as a fighting weapon by the Democratic party.

Nixon will write two books upon leaving office; one pertaining to the hidden life of American politics. The first book will be controversial, a great eye-opener for the American people. Later he will go down in history as one of America's greatest presidents for having faced more trials than any other president.

There will be big news about psychic healing and medicine.

Giant strides will be made in 1975 in the research of cancer, particularly in relationship to plants and cancer growth. Cancer will be on the way out when man accepts the concept of meatless living, and the deletion of sugar. It will be discovered that the main cause of cancer is meat and sugar.

More and more psychics will appear in the next year as a greater number of people take to the study of the unknown. The modern day psychic will virtually replace the screen stars of yesteryear. Their rise to fame will also be like Hollywood, number one this year, and replaced next.

CHAPTER 9

BERTIE CATCHINGS

The Texas Seeress

Bertie Catchings first gained national fame as a psychic when, in 1966, she foresaw a tragedy connected with the University of Texas tower. Her prediction was made four months before Charles Whitman stood on that tower and fired a barrage of death into the streets below him. Since then, Bertie has provided psychic counsel and given lectures through the country.

Bertie now lives in Dallas. Her address is P. O. Box 12264, Dallas, Texas 75225.

Her predictions for our future include:

Many old coins will be found along the coast of Nova Scotia.

While House journalist Helen Thomas will write a best seller book in 1975.

The number of children stricken by Reye's Syndrome will more than double in 1975.

A number of people in Las Vegas will become very upset when they discover that they seem to be constantly shortchanged.

A new type of sweetener will be put on the market in 1975 that will be 200 times sweeter than sugar.

Look for more and more electric cars to be seen on the highways and streets of the United States in the coming years.

There will be a bad drought throughout several midwestern states that will be as bad as the days of the dust bowl.

A canal will be built across the peninsula of southern Florida. As a result, several cities will find their water supplies have been contaminated.

Aristotle Onassis will become ill in 1975 and enter a hospital for tests. Then later in the year, around the 5th of July he will again become ill and pass into the spirit world. It is possible that he may be in New Orleans at the time.

A small private plane that crashes somewhere in the mid-western United States will take the lives of a famous movie star and a politician.

A new synthetic fuel will be on the market in 1975. This fuel will be made from garbage.

The price of beans will more than double during 1975.

A major company will recall its electric skillets because of "shocking" defects.

I feel that there will be a bad earthquake in Iran around April 5th of 1975.

A fire will break out at the old San Quentin prison in 1975.

Two men in a boat will go over Niagara falls and will plunge to their deaths.

Horseracing will be legalized in Texas in 1975 or 1976.

There will be a cave-in at a mine in Kentucky that will take many lives.

A ferry boat will sink near the Coast of Spain that will take 27 lives.

There will be an investigation by the Federal Energy Commission during 1975 after radioactivity is discovered in a city water supply.

I see police battling terrorists in Warsaw, Poland.

There will be an explosion near the world's largest structure, a 2,120 foot radio and television tower, and several men will fall off it to their deaths.

A military airplane carrying a nuclear weapon will crash in Canada in 1975.

An airplane loaded with people about to land in France will be struck by lightning but the plane will land safely.

A cure for the common cold will be announced in 1975.

This cure could have something to do with acupuncture treatment.

A frigate in the French Navy will be destroyed when a nuclear device on board explodes.

Thousands of centuries-old teak wood and mahogany trees will be destroyed when parties in Laos try to clear land.

The President of Mexico will be on board an airplane that crashes near a river. Although the plane will be hard to find and may take several days to locate, the President will be found alive.

There will be a large wreck on a freeway in Illinois involving a large truck, in which 17 people will be killed or injured.

Authorities will investigate a spot where a UFO was reported to have landed near the new Dallas-Ft. Worth, Texas Airport. They will find a strange piece of metal later analyzed as some sort of communication device.

Orson Welles will be in an exciting new movie in 1975 about a psychic.

A chlorine pipeline will break in a swimming pool system in Kansas. It will cause several young swimmers to become very ill.

A mysterious submarine will appear in the Caribbean during 1975.

King Hussein will be the proud father of a new son in 1975.

There will be a terrible landslide in Brazil during May of 1975. It will take several lives and destroy much property.

There will be two serious prison riots in 1975. One will be in New York; the other in Pennsylvania.

The Liberian freighter "Pennsylvania Getty" will sink off the Coast of Africa.

An earthquake in the Monterey Bay area of California will destroy much property, but take no lives.

A volcano in New Zealand will erupt, destroying many homes and causing thousands to be evacuated.

A terrible train wreck near Mexico City will take more than 100 lives, those of many from the United States.

An airplane crash into a school in Oakland, Cal., but no one will be seriously injured.

In the northeastern part of the United States a train carrying a dangerous liquid gas will explode. A dozen people will be severely injured or killed.

Barbra Streisand will be married shortly after Christmas.

Gold will cost $300 an ounce on the world market.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy will pass into the spirit world around Easter.

A sniper on top of a tall building in Georgia will shoot 23 people, killing 11. He will then shoot himself.

Foreign tax credits for American business will be ended.

There will be a postal workers strike in 1975 that will bog down mail service for many months.

A tug boat named "Mary Ann" will sink in the Gulf of Mexico in the fall of 1975.

I see political trouble and rioting on the British owned Island of Diego Garcia in the spring of 1975. The U.S. will become involved when a shooting occurs at an air and naval support base.

There will be an airplane crash at the Charles de Gaulle Airport in Paris, France on or near Feb. 13, 1975.

I see a serious illness for Richard Nixon in 1975.

Mt. Aetna will erupt and destroy an Italian town.

A young woman from a prominent eastern family will be found floating in a marsh in Florida. No leads in this case will ever be found.

Patricia Hearst will be involved in something evil and mysterious which will occur around Christmas time at an airport.

A flood in Mexico during November 1975, will leave many people homeless.

There is trouble coming again for India and Pakistan. There will be many riots and much destruction. This trouble could result in warfare for these two countries.

Amnesty will be granted for some of our young men who refused to fight in Vietnam, but only for a few and the conditions for amnesty will be very hard.

Heavy rains in April and May will trigger a landslide in Japan that will destroy a village and kill many people.

An airplane pilot feared dead by the world will be found alive on a Greek island.

An airplane loaded with talented young people will crash inside Russia and sadden the world.

A new drug made from apricot pits will be discovered to be very successful in treating cancer victims in 1975.

JOHN CATCHINGS

He Saw Spiro's Scandal

John Catchings and his mother Bertie form a unique mother-and-son psychic team. Now 27, John reports his psychic career started on July 4, 1969, when he was literally electrified into awareness when he was hit by a bolt of lightning. Following this unusual experience, John realized that he had psychic ability. He worked under his mother's direction to train himself for a psychic career.

John's psychic insight enabled him to make a solidly accurate prediction about the then vice-president Spiro Agnew. In Predictions for 1974, John forecast: "Spiro Agnew's name will fade from the prominence it once held as he is also stained by scandal."

Due to publishing deadlines, the prediction was received in our office on July 8, 1973. This was several months before rumors of Agnew's problems hit our nation's front pages.

John and Bertie live in Dallas, Texas. They also travel throughout the country, giving lectures on metaphysical subjects and providing psychic counsel. Readers who may want to write to John Catchings can address their mail to P. O. Box 12264, Dallas, Texas.

John's forecasts for 1975 are:

Houses made from recycled material will begin to be seen in ever increasing numbers throughout the United States and Europe in 1975.

A gas leak in a north Texas city will cause the evacuation of several hundred people.

A solid gold bathtub stolen from a Japanese hotel will be melted down by the thief and sold.

A fire will break out in an alunite plant in southwestern Utah, in late September. The fire will take four lives.

There will be an acute shortage of gold, platinum, magnesium, tin, strontium, titanium and silver in 1975.

Many public employees will be on strike in 1975. These strikes by teachers, trash collectors, policemen, firemen, and city and state maintenance personnel will shake the country and cause many problems.

The Congress of the United States will outlaw contributions made to campaigns of candidates for the Presidency and for House and Senate seats except in amounts under $100.

In 1975 the law will be altered to allow Social Security pensioners to earn up to $3,000 a year without the loss of benefits.

Congress will institute an investigation of certain companies and their warranties. The result will be a request for simple language that sets forth exactly what is covered and terms of compensation.

In 1975 the Government will change its fiscal year, so that it begins on Oct. 1st instead of July 1st.

The price of steel will remain high in 1975, perhaps even go a little higher. One result of this will be a drop in the production of automobiles.

Pipe, wire and cable will be in short supply and will cause many problems for people in the construction industry.

With metal products in short supply it will be discovered that many government agencies have secret stockpiles of these products hidden away in amounts far in excess of their needs.

A massive landslide in Peru will kill at least 800 people in April of 1975.

Although the fuel crisis will be a thing of the past by 1980, the life-style of most people will be changed. Condominiums and townhouses will be the wave of the future. They are economical and suit the needs of smaller families. They will be designed to save fuel and energy.

A 36-hour work week will begin to appear in new contracts negotiated in 1975.

In 1975 and 1976 we'll see the construction of several new hotels in the U.S.S.R.

A very good investment will be land, although the price of land will be high. It will go even higher in the years to come.

The explosion of an underground gas pipeline will take three lives in Chicago in 1975. The explosion seems to occur early in the morning.

Floods will ravage East Pakistan and will take at least 800 lives.

There will be a deadly earthquake during July in Japan.

A foreign diplomat, while in the United States, will be assassinated. This will cause much concern throughout the rest of the world.

High winds will cause millions of dollars worth of damage to crops throughout the central United States during 1975.

A chemical plant will explode in Illinois and eleven people will die in the explosion and fire.

In New York City, there will be a big fire.

In Los Angeles, police will discover an arsenal of arms and ammunition hidden in the back room of a bar. Included in this stockpile of arms will be bombs and automatic weapons.

In Kansas City, two men will escape with several thousand dollars, after holding a bank president and his secretary hostage for over two hours.

The University of Texas will receive a gift of $100,000 from a former student.

An explosion and fire at an air force base will kill twelve people.

In Georgia, police will arrest six people involved in a chain of sex murders.

A suitcase filled with money will be found along a highway in Oklahoma.

A bus-train accident in Arkansas will take seven lives during the month of May.

Postal authorities will be looking for bogus postage stamps being used on letters coming from cities throughout Texas.

Three men will perish in an explosion and fire on an oil platform located off the coast of Louisiana.

New mineral deposits will be discovered throughout Minnesota.

A United States political official will be kidnapped in Chile in 1975. He will be returned safely.

An armored car will be stopped and robbed of almost a million dollars in Charleston, S.C.

Chile and other Latin American countries will suffer much inner turmoil. In Chile, there will be explosions and shootings throughout the year.

In Houston, Texas the wife of a Texas politician will be arrested for shoplifting.

An old wagon loaded with gold will be discovered inside a cave in Arizona.

In Manila, Philippine Islands the child of an American diplomat will be kidnapped and held for ransom.

An Arizona gas station attendant will report to police that four men in a gas truck stole all his gas.

A small plane will be found resting atop a large tree in southern Louisiana. Although no one will be injured, the occupants will be very tired, as they will have spent the night afraid to move for fear the plane would slip from its lofty perch.

A workman helping to tear down an old building in Texas will discover a manuscript written by a famous person out of Texas' historical past.

A man who worked all his life as a gardener will leave over $100,000 to a Baptist church in Texas.

David Carradine will be severely injured by a tiger while filming a Kung Fu episode.

John Wayne will suffer a serious heart attack late in 1975.

Bob Hope will be hospitalized after suffering an accident of some kind. This accident seems to occur around his home.

A North Carolina newspaper office will be destroyed by an explosion and fire before the end of March, 1975. This terrible deed will be traced to a political organization—possibly the S.L.A.

Florida will be hit by a deadly hurricane this year and at least 17 people will lose their lives.

There will be an attempt to assassinate Henry A. Kissinger while he is visiting a Latin American country.

There will be a large explosion and fire in the Gulf of Suez.

A cave-in at a coal mine in Pennsylvania will take the lives of six men.

A man and woman will jump, holding hands, off the Golden Gate Bridge.

A missing Picasso painting will be found in an abandoned warehouse near a railroad station in Germany.

Several high ranking Mexican officials will be on board an airplane that crashes into the jungles of Brazil in 1975.

The Dallas Cowboys will again return to the Super Bowl in 1975.

The Roman Catholic Church will have a new Pope in 1975.

Ed McMahon will be shot, or injured in some way, by an unknown assailant.

Actor Paul Newman will break his leg while making a movie. This injury will probably occur during an automobile accident.

Waco, Texas will be the scene of a deadly tornado that will leave hundreds homeless and take the lives of at least seven.

On Long Island, someone will die in a cave-in when a ceiling collapses because of a waterbed.

In Amsterdam, twenty people will die when two trains slam together.

The volcano, Soufries, on the Island of St. Vincent, will erupt and take many lives during 1975.

There will be terrible floods throughout Ohio. The National Guard will be called in to help with the rescue.

In 1975 or 1976 a large supply of oil will be discovered in Peru.

There will be a terrible fire in a nursing home in Atlanta, Ga.

A Dallas, Texas bank will explode and burn in May of 1975. The cause will be traced to a bomb.

Two Austin, Texas police officers will die in automobile accidents while chasing suspects in 1975.

DON DAVIS

Prophet of the Plains

Don Davis, P. O. Box 587, Canton, Ill. 61520, is a former businessman who discovered his psychic prowess three years ago. After testing his gift, Davis sold his business interests to devote himself full time to psychic efforts. Since then he has given personal readings, traveling widely and lecturing through the midwestern states. "My best receptivity to date seems to be on personal readings and future forecasting," Don Davis stated. "I have also been successful in picking up deep rooted personality traits and conflicts that appear to be very helpful to my clients."

This is Don's first appearance in Predictions. "I've had 'hits' in the past that were not publicized," he related. "These include accurate forecasts on the Alaskan pipeline, the oil scandal, the assassination attempt on Princess Anne, and others."

He leaped to prominence in the psychic world because of his work with two other psychics on a murder case in Bloomington, Ill. The unusual case started in April, 1972, with the disappearance and murder of Marie Burchie. Miss Burchie was a dark-haired, attractive coed at Illinois State University in Bloomington. The day after she vanished, the police found her body in a shallow grave on a country lane outside the town. There were no clues to the killer's identity.

The same murderer struck again in December, 1972. The second victim was pretty Rae Ann Schneider, a 20-year-old student at the college. Miss Schneider, a waitress at a drive-in restaurant, completed her regular work and started for home.

When she failed to arrive there, her disappearance was reported to the police.

The next victim was Dawn Marie Huwe, the 18-year-old daughter of an East Peoria veterinarian. She planned to leave the campus on May 28 to return home for the summer. She started walking toward the Bloomington bus station and vanished. Lawmen were unable to obtain a clue to the missing woman's fate. The cases remained open and authorities throughout the midwest were alerted to the possibility that the two girls were runaways.

The case took a dramatic turn in late July when Dallas, Texas psychic Bertie Catchings arrived in Peoria, Ill., for a lecture. Don Davis had gone to the airport to pick up Mrs. Catchings. He accompanied Bertie to the home of Gretna Alexander, a Peoria psychic and palmist. When Davis and Mrs. Catchings entered the Alexander home, they discovered a group of people in the living room. "They were relatives of one of the missing girls," Davis reported. "They'd asked Gretna to get psychic information on the girl's fate."

Mrs. Alexander asked Davis and Mrs. Catchings to join her in picking up impressions. Their data included:

The girl was the victim of a sex murderer. She was dead, not a runaway.

The man had killed before.

The killer was about 35 years old. (He was subsequently discovered to be 36 years old.)

He had a gaunt, thin face and large hands.

"J" and "D" were letters connected with his name.

The trio of psychics also named several friends of the missing girls. Another list of names was later discovered to be a compilation of street names in Bloomington with a link to the missing girls. The psychics reported on a highway route out of downtown Bloomington, stating the murderer had used a house on that highway.

After the missing girl's relatives left, Davis decided to follow up on the case. A few days later, he was accompanied by two detectives to the Bloomington area. "I'd made a list of the clues we had obtained psychically," he stated. "Almost immediately, we learned the names we produced were street names in Bloomington. The first name was a street on the college campus where the last victim had been living. The street names continued right out toward the highway the murderer had used.

Davis and the two detectives didn't find the missing girl's grave that day. "Along the highway I was looking for a white frame farmhouse," Davis said. "All three of us had psychically seen this house with the outbuildings torn down. There was no furniture in the place, only piles of old clothes scattered about the rooms."

Mrs. Catchings had physically believed the killer was married. "I also felt that his mother was involved in some way," she stated. "This later proved to be true."

Psychic Gretna Alexander said the girls had been watched at work by their killer. "This also proved to be true," she stated.

Data on the psychic impressions was gathered and forwarded to the police, who have refused to give credit to the psychics on the case. However, on the morning of August 6, 1973, the police arrested Jesse Donald Sumner, 36, for the murders of Miss Schneider and Miss Huwe. The following day, the ex-convict was also charged with killing Miss Burchie.

The police dug into a shallow grave near Danvers, Ill., and found Miss Schneider's body. They found Miss Huwe's body buried two feet beneath a wooden floor of a garage at the killer's home in Stanford, Ill. Both girls died after receiving heavy, blunt blows to the head.

The trio of psychics reported that Sumner's mother had been involved in some manner. The police reported that his wife and mother washed a jacket after Miss Huwe's slaying. The garment was believed to be bloodstained. Sumner's mother, Beatrice, also destroyed a driver's license and other documents belonging to Miss Huwe.

Jesse Donald Sumner, the murderer, had been on parole for 18 months. Attesting to the psychic accuracy on the case, he had served six years for bank robbery. He had also been charged with manslaughter following the death of his partner in a quarrel. After the robbery, Sumner and his friend had parted. The former partner visited Sumner in 1965. They quarreled. Sumner grabbed a razor and killed the other man. He placed his body in a barrel of cement and buried it a short distance from town.

The case affirmed psychic Don Davis' confidence in his expanding psychic powers.

"When I was in Bloomington with the two detectives, I wanted to go further down the highway," he related. "If we had gone about two miles further, we would have come to Sumner's home. However, one of the detectives with me had to return back to his office for an appointment. A couple miles more and I believe I could have picked up vibrations from the missing girl's grave."

Summing up the case, Mrs. Catchings said: "Helping apprehend a murderer like Sumner is very gratifying. I do feel that psychics should be given credit when their work helps to solve a case."

Psychic Gretna Alexander said: "The three of us seemed to be tuned in to a very accurate source of information."

Making his debut with world predictions, Don Davis has supplied these forecasts:

1975 will be the year that UFOs will receive greater acceptance. I do feel that it will be about 1978 before we have the contact we want with UFO occupants. There will be a man arriving on a UFO in 1980 and that will start the change that will take 20 years to draw a conclusion to this age. This will happen somewhere in the ~~Minneapolis~~ area.

As to inflation and economy, I see the value of gold going up, leveling off perhaps in 1975 at $320. I feel that our economy will be such that people will not he able to compare it to past years. I feel that it will be much like 1958, but while there is prosperity for some, there will also be desolation for many others.

In the fall of 1974 and early 1975, the automotive industry will be disastrous. This, as well as many other factors, will lead to the end of unions as we know them today.

The future political system of America will change drastically between now and 1980. By then we will be run by what I can now see as a council. The council will have a chairman and vice-chairman. I feel both happy and sad about this new set-up. Something wants me to say that it is quite possible Russia will be behind this new government, whether we are aware of it or not. By 2000, Russia will find God and the true meaning of our spiritual selves. We may be under their control when this happens.

I feel that corn will be very much in the news in 1975. There seems to be a misuse of it as well as a shortage. Quite possibly we will sell corn to China that we cannot spare.

I see Red China dropping a bomb on an oil-rich country in June. This will signal the start of a period in the world of living in fear of nuclear war. However, I feel that any wars will be small and localized until much nearer 1999.

I see a train accident in St. Louis that will claim 102 lives. This will happen in August, if not in August of 1974, then August of 1975.

I see the name "Marshall" in the news in 1975. It seems to do with paper, tapes, and the current mess with Watergate.

I see the name "Terry" connected with politics in the 1976 elections.

Japan's economy will be much the same as the United States in 1975. By that, I mean up and down and you can't tell where it is going. They will experience large losses by nature. Perhaps the better part of a whole city will be destroyed by an earthquake. This could happen in March.

I saw Bob Hope's home burning last year. I do not feel that he will complete this home.

I feel that Ted Kennedy will be single in 1975 and will be driving very hard for a political career. However, I do not see it happening for him. If he is not divorced by October, 1974, then perhaps that will take place in October of 1975.

Elizabeth Taylor will have many admirers in 1975, but the most important one seems to be named Tom. I feel that she will marry again at Christmas time but I do not believe it will be 1975.

I feel that a loss will come to the entertainment industry by the death of two very prominent stars who have appeared many times together.

We will lose one of our most popular cowboy stars.

Ginger Rogers seems to be in and out of hospitals and doctor's offices. However, she will regain her health.

I feel the death of a big-time band leader from the Golden Era of great bands.

The motion picture industry as a whole, will return to films that are a combination of good old entertainment and more modern morals. They will find an upsurge in receipts at the box office. People will be running away from their everyday problems to the movies again.

1975 will be the first year for nudity on TV; it will be short-lived and cause much controversy. A man at the helm will lose his job over the showing of such a made-for-television program.

I see the name "Sweet Sara" in the news. This appears to be an evangelist who gains fame in the summer of 1975. As with all people who strive for God, she will be persecuted.

Many small new groups of people from the Orthodox religions will be meeting and discussing a new awakening in the psychic and spiritual areas. It appears to me that the Orthodox search, as we know it, is about to make drastic changes. These changes will take about three years to really be noticed and eight years to fully be realized. There is definitely a resurgence of the Holy Spirit that is being misconstrued by the Orthodox religions. The Catholic Church will have great change starting in 1975. Information never before released will come from the Vatican in July.

I see a divorce for Johnny Carson in the spring. His next wife will have the initial "M." Perhaps this will change his luck!

Trains will make a large comeback as our mode for long distance traveling. The railroad companies will be enjoying much prosperity in the next few years to come.

The Royal Family will experience sadness through the loss of one of their members in the summer of 1975. I feel this will be sudden.

Hayley Mills will star in a picture and win several awards for her performance.

I see Fred Astaire winning an award. This could be equivalent to the Gene Herscholt Award at the annual Academy Awards.

There will be a death in a family of famous glamour girls.

Patty Hearst will be captured. Her trial will be lengthy and she will receive a sentence for her part in the SLA involvement.

One of the "playboys" of the month from Play Girl magazine will become quite famous and become a motion picture and television star in 1975 as a result of posing for this magazine.

The drought in Africa will linger, resulting in much starvation in these areas.

George Wallace will definitely be a presidential contender in the 1976 elections. His health will be regained and he will be serving on the 1980 Council.

A famous super comedian will die quietly in his chair in the spring of 1975.

I foresee a divorce for Rona Barrett. I feel that Rona Barrett will be having some strange legal papers in 1975, concerning a libel suit. I also feel she will be seeing attorneys in regard to her divorce.

I see a solution which will dissolve small tumors in the human body. Perhaps this is the cure for cancer that we have all been waiting for. It seems to be done with a solution made from orange peels.

I feel that Disney World in Florida will suffer commercial disaster. It appears that attendance will be down, which could come from further problems with the energy crises.

I think 1975 will be the year when we will see many commune-type villages going up throughout the land. At first people will look at these commune residences as being somewhat eccentric, but later when they see the harmony and success the idea will catch on.

St. Valentine's Day will bring sadness because of the death of a great American.

I see much in the way of peace and sincere happiness for the large masses of people who are discovering a more simple way of life in preference to the hectic go, go, go that we have been experiencing the past decade.

The steel shortage will lessen due to the recycling of metals in America's junk yards. I feel the government will have something to do with this.

Watergate has been the beginning of the clearing of the air of dirty politics. No one person is responsible, but we as a whole are responsible for letting it happen. To pin the responsibility on any one person is only trying to put the blame on someone other than ourselves. This is the beginning of the drastic change that will be coming about in our government.

The President elected in 1976 will be very responsible in setting up this new type of government.

I see a growth of evangelism as the churches grow empty. People simply want the unshielded truth and will demand it.

I see the sinking of an ocean liner—somehow the initials "CL" are involved. This appears to be in the Atlantic Ocean.

The religions of all countries will be growing toward one within the next 20 years. We are going to start comparing and find there is only one religion.

Christopher Plummer will win acting awards in a foreign country, possibly at Cannes.

There is an individual gaining prominence in Turkey who will have answers to solve many of their economical woes. His name is equivalent to our "Paul."

CHAPTER 12

MALVA DEE

Canada's Amazing Clairvoyant

Malva Dee, an accomplished psychometrist and Canada's leading seeress, has been providing her unique psychic counsel to a growing clientele for several years. Malva provides her psychic advice by mail. She asks that her clients send a sample of their handwriting, preferably copying a favorite Biblical verse. A photograph is also helpful in triggering her psychic impressions.

Malva and her husband, Ken, left southern California and moved to the highlands of Ontario, Canada. "This location is one of the reasons I'm able to work with a calm, serene mind," Melva said. "Enchanted Acres is truly a peaceful place in a rather chaotic world. We found the place when I had a vision that revealed a map of Canada. At the bottom of Hudson Bay, a white-robed figure stood with arms outstretched, beckoning to me. There was no doubt in our minds that we were to look in this direction for a new home."

It was 18 months after leaving California, that Malva and Ken actually arrived in Ontario. "This particular land that is Enchanted Acres had been for sale all that time," Malva revealed. "It was empty when we arrived. I like to feel it was waiting for us until we arrived."

Readers may write to Malva Dee at Enchanted Acres, West Guilford, Ontario, Canada.

Her forecasts for the future include:

Today, as I sit here in the quietness of my studio at Enchanted Acres, the silence and tranquility enfolds me like a mantle of warmth. Only the crowing of a rooster intrudes at intervals, and this only heightens the feeling of peace, for his very outpouring seems to proclaim the fact that all is right with the world.

It is with a sense of peacefulness that I go into the silence of psychic concentration to listen for the vibrations of coming events which as they unfold will shape and reshape the destiny, not only of our countries, Canada and the United States, but the world. More and more it is being realized that each country is not separate unto itself. Whatever attitude or action is taken by a country, even if it should be on the opposite side of the globe, now has its effects upon our own countries—simply because greater communication and air travel has minimized time distance. Thus, the outbreak of hostility in the Mideast has its effects upon our way of life. This is why it is important for you, the individual reader, to remember that faith is the substance of all things. By refusing to be affected by the seeming turbulence, you can do more to effect peace, harmony and good will than can any warring weapon, individual, or nation. I feel this essence of faith being expressed more and more by individuals as they seek to understand themselves and others. After all, it is individuals gathered together who make up a nation.

Jerusalem will continue to be in the world spotlight. There is no honor for those who continue to shed blood over this ancient, revered city. The answer will lie in proclaiming this particular locale to be a "free" city, under the jurisdiction of the United Nations.

However, before this issue is resolved, there shall be a continuance of antagonism between countries in the Mid East.

India will be in the world spotlight as famine hits that country. Severe droughts will be felt in this part of the globe, burning up any crops that are planted. Continued high rate of births, plus unbelievably bad sanitation, will cause great misery for these people. Canada, the United States, and Russia will help to alleviate conditions with huge shipments of wheat going from both Canada and Russia to India. Internal political strife and border troubles with Pakistan will also slow progress in India.

Russia will back the United States in a ban against nuclear testing by France, India, and China. Those in power know the real danger in continuing such tests.

China is a "sleeping dragon." Chinese policy designs should not be overlooked by the other powers of the world. It is not Russia the Western World should fear, but China, about which so little is really known or understood. It would be well to remember that the Iron Curtain which Russia placed between herself and other nations has been enforced since World War II. This can be taken down as new understanding is generated between the nations. However, erected many centuries ago, and still standing, is the Great Wall of China. The wall marks her borders, signifying the impregnability of this land.

Hong Kong and Shanghai will be focal points of political intrigue. I foresee the assassination of a high ranking British official, and an attempted kidnapping of a very influential political figure.

Ireland: Sadness and deep heaviness is felt here. In Dublin, there will be a bombing of a church full to capacity, which will make even those who are used to reporting atrocities of this nature literally ill. Stronger martial laws will be enforced in Ireland. The United Nations will be looked to for assistance in settlement of what is little more than religious bigotry on both sides.

Spain and Portugal will know an economic uptrend, due to tourism. More people will discover the beauty and slow-moving pace of these countries.

England: Economics are going to be very bad for this island kingdom. Wages just won't cover the cost of living. Strikes in all trades, especially shipping and rail strikes, will seriously affect all other businesses. From England also will come news of a "royal happening." The Queen will be happy to add "Grandmother" to her list of titles.

The little kingdom of Monaco is going to be in the news as a daring robbery of a casino takes place. Also, Princess Grace and Prince Rainier will be further upset with the escapades of their daughter, Caroline. She will disappear from school. Kidnapping will be feared, but she will turn up after she hitchhikes around Europe—for kicks!

Japan will know greater trade expansion, especially in its automotive industry. The little-known art of painting on silk will know a revival. Many individual pieces will be highly valued as creative masterpieces. A troupe of talented Japanese dancers will tour our countries and be warmly received. There seems to be an influx of Japanese to both U.S. and Canada as landed immigrants. Many of them will enter the fields of medicine and humanitarian services.

There will be trade agreements signed with Cuba. The magic word here is "sugar." By the end of the year, sugar will have almost tripled in price to the consumer.

Weather: It will not be too stable for the balance of this year and next. I feel that weather newscasters are not going to want to give the weather news, regardless of their locale. The weather will be just the opposite of forecasts. The poor weatherman will get rather tired of having "egg on his face." Winter will bring record high snowfalls in some areas, especially on the prairies. Spring will bring rather nasty floods to all parts of Canada and United States. The Mississippi and the South Saskatchewan Rivers will go on the rampage; Medicine Hat, Alberta, will be in deep waters. Winds of unusually high force will hit all along the Atlantic seaboard. One particularly bad storm of hurricane force will bring havoc in the New York area, which will be called a "disaster area. However, once Nature has spent herself, summer and fall will be very nice, as if nature was making up for the rather tumultous rages.

It is also shown that we are going to have news of earthquakes and earth tremors all over the globe. South America is going to bear the brunt of these upheavals. Two major earthquakes will be felt; one in Peru, and the other in Colombia. The island of Crete is going to be rocked by a quake. Along the San Andreas Fault of North America, tremors are going to be felt. One will be of such intensity that it will alarm residents. The eastern seaboard is going to be affected by the constant internal shifting of the earth. While I cannot say new land masses will surface in the coming year, scientists are going to note the rise of the ocean floor, around the Bahama Islands south into the Caribbean. As this change is noted, new interest will be taken in the lost continent of "Atlantis." Underwater researchers will focus on this area. With the aid of highly specialized cameras, photos taken for study will prove the existence of the lost civilization of antiquity.

In this area there will be several unexplainable disappearances of several small crafts and planes.

The governments of both Canada and United States will encourage people to go back to tilling the land. There will be special land grants available.

As a result of the energy crisis, look for expansion and settlement of Alaska and the Northwest Territories. These regions are rich in natural resources. With advanced technology, living conditions in these colder areas will be made quite acceptable to the average person. The hovercraft is going to come into its own in this particular region. With this mode of travel, difficulties in getting around due to the terrain is no longer going to prove a deterrent.

Despite the gloom-and-doom criers, our economy is sound. We have a better standard of living than any other country in the world today. Despite rising costs and inflation, the average person in Canada and United States will continue to live well. I foresee no breakdown of our economic system to cause hardships or hunger.

It is given that there will be new reforms in the tax system on both sides of the border. This will help those in the lower income brackets and senior citizens. There will be a considerable increase in senior citizens' pension. Also compensation will be paid to wage earners who are stricken by heart attacks. At the present, those in this unpleasant situation have no recourse to Pension Plans, Medicare Plans, Workmen's Compensation or Unemployment Insurance. This lack of support brings great hardships to the family of a person who finds himself unable to work. The financial worries of wage earner in such a position actually delay recovery.

Last year I predicted relief to be in sight for those suffering from arthritis. This past week it was announced that German doctors had isolated a virus carried in the body that caused arthritis. This is good news! With the source identified, tests can be carried out to determine a vaccine and necessary treatment.

I predict VD, venereal disease, which is also a virus, will increase in an alarming manner. Because of the intimate nature of VD people do not wish to seek the necessary help from doctors.

I predict a new strain of flu virus, carried from the Mid East, will put many people in bed for a few days during the winter months.

I see a bumper crop of babies for 1975, continuing into the following year. With an accelerated birth rate, hospitals will be overcrowded. Many new clinics will be built. Individual medical costs will increase as drugs and wages rise.

Happily enough, I don't see drug addiction rates increasing. In fact, this seems to be slightly on the decrease. To offset this, alcoholism will rise.

Educational costs will accelerate sharply, causing many taxpayers to question "why." In Canada, this will become a very touchy issue, causing the Minister of Education to resign. Open school classrooms are not going to work; so there will be a return to single rooms for each class. More authority will be given teachers to enforce discipline.

I foresee another incident, on the Canadian side, where Indians rise to protest the injustices and seeming indifference of the government to their plight. I feel this will arouse public sympathy and bring concrete action rather than more promises.

I predict the most pressing need by the public will be housing priced within the means of the people. I predict new government rulings will help put the average person in a home he can afford. Interest rates will be lowered, and even in some cases, housing will be subsidized by the government.

Disaster will strike as a jet airliner crashes at Toronto's International Airport. I feel several such occurrences. The one mentioned above comes during a heavy snowfall. Weather conditions could well be the cause of this accident.

A fire in the Hollywood Hills will destroy several notables' homes and possessions. Very little loss of life here.

Watergate will still be with us; the aftermath will have a lasting effect. This effect will be one of mistrust of people in politics. It will take a long time for trust to be restored. It will be with a feeling of indifference, or apathy, that the people elect a new president in 1976. I feel the new president will be a Democrat.

In Predictions of '74, I stated that the Watergate affair was a tactic used to destroy the American way of life. It was aimed, I felt, not at President Nixon, but rather at the office of the Presidency. The intent is to destroy confidence in our free and democratic way of life. As this comes to be realized, which I am sure it will, this foil will not succeed. With the election of a new president, faith and trust in the highest office of United States will be returned. New laws will be enacted in the future so that Watergate will not be repeated.

Watch Henry Kissinger's career as it continues to spiral upwards.

Frank Sinatra, finding retirement too hard, has taken the comeback trail. He will win thousands of young fans as he introduces them to the music which brought him to fame.

Jimmy Durante and John Wayne both have a heaviness felt around them.

Ann-Margaret's complaint: her weight and romantic complications could bring court action.

Bob Hope will be given a very glittering and lavish testimonial dinner, by his peers. For once, he may be speechless.

Governor George Wallace will run again in the coming elections. He incites either great like, or dislike. With him there are no half-way feelings. So wherever he appears, there will be an air of impending violence and excitement.

Ronald Reagan will be a strong contender for the leadership of the Republican Party. He will continue to be very popular in his home state of California.

Elizabeth Taylor will remarry—a man some years her junior. It will not last too long. Her health could suffer as a result of nervous fatigue. She will go to Europe, perhaps Switzerland, to take a health cure.

I feel danger around Sophia Loren involving a car crash.

Prince Charles will announce his intentions of marrying over his parents' objections. This will cause a rift in the Royal Family.

Pope Paul VI's health will prove troublesome, putting a limitation on his activities. He will visit Jerusalem over the protests of his advisors.

Pierre Elliott Trudeau will make a world tour, visiting dignitaries of many nations. This will do much for Canada's prestige.

Strikes will continue to headline the news. Look for them in the postal unions, steel industry, and shipping, with the natural result an ever continuing uptrend in prices of all commodities. That word "inflation" will be with us for some time to come. Beef, flour, dairy prices will rise much higher.

I see new and exciting discoveries from the ocean floor.

I predict a drop in unemployment, which can only bring continuing good economic conditions.

I predict the stock market will be in good shape, an indicator of stability. Those who invest in stocks should look to consumer goods, forestry products, and digital equipment. Oil and mining stocks are not for the penny stock investor.

The need to control our natural energy resources will take precedence at government levels. Gas and oil will be in continued short supply until new fields are brought into production. This will curtail long range travel to a degree. People will find themselves discovering the beauties of their own locales.

The "flower children" and hippy cults of the 60's, now that they find themselves parents, are going to question the wisdom of their rebellion against society. As they find themselves having to be responsible citizens, the children of the '70's will be reared to have more respect for their elders and for the laws of the land—and that it is no sin to work!

I see the trend towards youth hostels being set up by the federal governments. This is not a new concept, it has been practiced for many years in Europe for the benefit of those who tour by walking or cycling.

The value of nature trails will be recognized. Federal grants will be given to the maintenance of nature trails. They will be used for all types of outdoor activities: hiking, cycling, horseback riding, cross country skiing, and snowmobiling. People will plan camping trips on bikes and horses. The back yard horse will not be an uncommon sight.

I foresee many people's hobbies developing into flourishing small businesses. Particularly in the equestrian field where the art of blacksmithing—for a time—almost became a lost skill. Raising and schooling horses will also prove very lucrative to those with the special know-how.

Space exploration will once again take the public's eye, as preparations get underway for the United States and Russia's joint enterprise. Trouble with one of the jet components of the highly technical rocket will delay the actual blast-off schedule.

I predict more and more unexplained UFOs being viewed in all parts of the globe. An attempt at communication will be set up with very little success. Also, in California a family will just vanish with no clues as to their whereabouts, then just as suddenly reappear. They will have a recollection of being transported into a strange and unfamiliar vehicle. That is all that indeed they do remember.

There will be recognized cases of actual psychic healings, one in which a person is so badly burned that doctors express fear for his life.

I feel that one noted psychic will die. His (or her) passing will be felt deeply by all who knew and loved him (or her). Much will be gained from this person's work which will be left as a contribution to mankind.

Here on Enchanted Acres, in the year that has passed since last we met through the pages of Predictions, we have found the challenges of life to be more rewarding than ever. My husband, Ken, feeling so well after his bout with his heart three years ago, has resumed his meat business and was more than welcomed back by his many customers. To help out, and do the many chores on the Acres, we have a young couple who have taken up residence in our pioneer house, "Hilltop." Roberta's grandmother was born and reared in this very house. It was for this very reason that she so wanted to have her first child born here. Her wish has been fulfilled; a son was born to Peter and Roberta just this past week. I am sure that you, the readers, will join me in asking for special prayers for this very young spirit, as he walks forward in his path of destiny.

Beverly, our daughter, remains at home with us, happy in her job as a computer operator for the Chartered Accountants in Haliburton. For myself, I find more and more that my work is rewarding, and feel greatly privileged indeed to have the opportunity of meeting so many very wonderful people from all walks of life. They come as strangers but remain as friends. There is an undeniable warmth felt that cannot be expressed through mere written words when I open a letter, perhaps from someone who has not contacted me for a year or more, and to see the words "Hi, Malva Dee, and how are you today?"

Spring here in the Haliburton Highlands area was one of clouds and rain, a very wet spring, but still spring is the time of renewal and rebirth. Nature attests well to this fact, and always here, for me, the first heralds of spring are the Canadian geese making their flight northwards to their nesting grounds. I always know a special feeling of joy when I hear their honkings as they pass overhead, and so often they break their journey to rest on our Beaver Pond before continuing. We are located exactly on the 45th parallel and it may be that we are their halfway station.

On Easter Sunday, one of our mares presented us with a lovely chestnut colt, which we have aptly named "Scarabaeus," the meaning of this to the ancient Egyptians being resurrection and immortality. Barbatah, my Arabian stallion is in his 15th year, but in his actions, more like a colt than ever. We continue to enjoy our rides through the many wooded trails, and truly there is never a more uplifting sound to me than when on a frosty morn, as I step outside, to hear his neigh of welcome. On Mother's Day, Ken, who is the mainstay of my life, surprised me by presenting me with a beautiful chestnut Arabian mare, a mate for Barbatah, he explained. Her name is Shallala, she is a beautiful doe-like creature, very shy and gentle, but with a curiosity that overshadows her very timidity. Perhaps next year, I will be able to report another addition. I share my own dream with you as proof that faith is, indeed, the substance of all things. Therefore, dare to believe in your dreams, for only in believing can they become realities in your life.

It would seem that as I scan that which I have written, I have only touched briefly upon all too few of the vibrations which flow through me. But then, how can one hope to encompass the unfolding trends and intricacies of living? It is not humanly possible. No one person is given the sum total of knowledge or awareness. Each person must seek out knowledge and understanding as they walk forward in their destiny. All I can ask is that each of you who join me through the pages of this book, look towards the future with optimism and faith. Do not allow pessimism and the seeming turbulence of our time to cloud the feeling of joy that should be within as you meet your own individual challenges. As you do, you will come to agree with me, that life is a wonderful adventure! Please join us here on Enchanted Acres in this meditation: "Wherever I am, Divine Love is, and so I know peace and contentment in my daily path."

Psychic Consultant

Joseph East is a spokesman for The Group, an organization of 200 psychics throughout the country. They are dedicated to improving their skills in ESP, handwriting analysis, palmistry, astrology, healing, and psychic counseling. The Group meets regularly on the third Tuesday of each month (except July, August, and December). Meetings are held at 7:30 P.M. at 30 West Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and interested persons are invited to attend.

In his personal psychic consultations, Mr. East uses clairaudience, palmistry, and psychic impressions to gain information for his clients. Personal advice is given by appointment only, which can be obtained by writing to Mr. East at P. O. Box 5863, Chicago, Ill. 60680.

Mr. East's wife, Alexandra Russell East, is an expert in handwriting analysis. She is the author of What's In Your Signature?, a guide to handwriting analysis. Mrs. East devotes a considerable portion of her time to marital and premarital counseling using handwriting traits. She is also doing research for Dr. C. Norman Shealy, a neurosuregon from LaCrosse, Wis. Dr. Shealy runs a pain clinic to assist people to live with severe ailments.

Mr. East's predictions are:

People will be angry in 1975 because of gasoline and fuel shortages hanging over our heads. Homeowners will find that lowering the temperature in the home means higher prices because the less gas you use the higher it gets in price. Every slogan will be regarded as propaganda for the fuel companies to make more money. Consumers will become bitter because Congress will sit idle and do nothing about price controls.

The country is at stake and we will have no leadership to guide us in our fight against the gas companies, high prices and the politicians.

Watergate will prove one thing: Lawyers have a way of messing up a little thing like a burglary to such a big kettle of fish that the smell covers everybody—honest or dishonest. Even Kissinger will be hit by the smell.

Cancer research will be stepped up because of heavy contributions. Some kind of breakthrough will come in cancer detection by study of the handwriting of people. Also, by using sweat mixed with gas; when an electric spark is passed through it the color will change to a darker hue when cancer is present.

Don't expect the automobile industry to improve on anything except the raising of prices.

I see for 1975 shorter skirts for girls and looser bosoms.

Student groups will realize that the youth are the only hope for the future. They will realize that we must love each other to survive in 1975. Music will go towards the spiritual. Books will be uplifting. Love will be the trend.

As for food, the chain food stores will be driven up the wall by the housewives getting angry and refusing to be scared into buying for higher prices because of shortages. Women will realize that plenty of the foods on the shelves could be done without if they use the theory "Eat only for survival in 1975." Prices will come down.

Shortages and higher prices go hand in hand. If you need something to survive, buy it. If you do not need it to survive, skip it until you do. In that way, shortages will disappear.

TV will hit a new low in programming in 1975. There will be a leaning towards the educational and reruns.

Movie theaters will make more money by renting out as churches. They will draw more young people with free popcorn in children's services. Good foreign films will do better than the domestic type because they seem to carry more of a message. Several X-rated films will be shown and promoted as "Sex is better than murder."

Progress will be made in the creation of artificial sources of energy. One company has already made a breakthrough but is now waiting for proper distribution.

Religions will slip and a new concept of God will emerge. Not the mean old man in the sky to whom we always confess our transgressions, but an intelligent, understanding God who wants to believe in us. He wants us to understand that as we pass through incarnations, we improve by experiencing. We are in the lowest of the solar systems where we only have one sun and people use only about ten percent of their brain power. As we progress into higher solar systems we use more of our brain power and our intelligence improves along with our spiritual development. There are organs in our bodies that we use in higher solar systems and elements that do not exist on this earth that are quite plentiful in others.

I feel that there will be no depression in 1975 but a leveling off to where we will watch the hills and valleys become a level economy. This is what the Federal Reserve has been hoping for.

Gold will be sold to citizens of the United States. Plenty of people will get into the gamble. The prices will be set by several people in Switzerland who control the price of gold and silver. Prices will skyrocket like all things that deal in speculations, because the gamblers move in.

The government trend will be towards caution because people are angry. When too much pressure is placed on citizens, they will explode.

The Middle East will be like a bomb ready to go off with several people ready to light the fuse. There will be more references to the Bible's prediction of the end of the world and what to expect when it happens. The United States has been the only country to use two A-bombs and lose two in submarines, so we will be the country most feared.

Several sightings of giant UFOs will be photographed that will prove they are not swamp gas. I feel that movies will be taken of the operators. Proof will show that they are of a higher intelligence, which we could use.

The Russians are ahead of us in the field of ESP. They will release knowledge of a little-known discovery about pain control.

There will be progress in psychotic cures by picking taped vibrations of normal minds and replaying them into disturbed minds after they have been wiped clean by shock treatment. The same system is used by wiping out tapes in tape recordings.

Space development will be played down because it does not solve our earthly problems.

Vacant land will be sold to small investors. The government will have strict controls over its sale so that people will not be gypped as they have been in the past. A move will be made to screen all advertising before it appears.

There will be a decrease in dairy farming. It is a risky business, but moves will be made to subsidize dairy farming as they did after the war. Food, transportation, and farming will have to be subsidized.

Interest rates will level off at 11% on the prime rate with housing mortgage rates going around nine to ten percent with 40 and 50 year duration.

The stock market will advance on a broad front with the Dow Jones hovering around 850 to 950. Stocks should be bought for investment at these prices.

Two comics will be separated through death.

A famous actress will be lost at sea.

There will be a move to improve prison life. The politicians who are already imprisoned are going to petition their friends who are getting ready to go in, to pass legislation to improve prison life for those able to pay their own way.

There will be a move to plant inflation gardens where we could take prizes in growing our own vegetables. Consumers will be influenced with signs like "Make it Do ... It Costs More to Use Less Heating Gas; Drive 55 and Stay Alive; To Heck with Style."

Unemployment will run about 6% with lots of people working and certain ethnic groups running about 20%. Because of their lack of knowledge of the English language, Latinos will be at a handicap. There is a move now to compel them to learn English in school. The news media will pound away at every mention of unemployment as they seem to enjoy taking pokes at government officials.

There will be investigations made into payroll deductions. A receipt should be furnished by the charity to assure the donor the charity has received the donation.

CHAPTER 14

DOCTORS GAVIN AND YVONNE FROST

The School of Wicca

Gavin and Yvonne, as they prefer to be known, live in a partially renovated schoolhouse on Route 2, Salem, Mo. They are basically small farmers. However, they are also the founders and directors of the Church and School of Wicca, which they initiated some five years ago in an attempt to correct some of the more common fallacies currently associated with the Old Religion.

The parent Church of Wicca has to date engendered Craft churches in five states, all different from one another in their philosophy. This makes for continuing development of the school's philosophy and guarantees students that the latest gnosis (wisdom) is theirs. It also produces graduate students who are capable of finding their own wisdom.

Until a couple of years ago, Gavin earned his living as Director of International Operations for one of the major U.S. aerospace companies. Previous to that he had been a vice-president, in Europe, for another major U.S. aerospace firm. He now prefers conducting of the School of Wicca and running of the small farm which supports the school. A recent survey of his somewhat esoteric titles showed that he is still a Marshal of the Gold Star of England, a Zauberer in der Bayrischen Naehe, and Arch-Flamen of the Western Neighbourhood (as his Welsh title roughly translates).

Yvonne, not having had the European background that Gavin is heir to, is merely a Bishop (Flamenca) in the Church of Wicca and maintains her membership in Mensa, from which she recruits many students.

The historical and research files of the Church of Wicca include detailed analyses and backgrounds on every modern known witch in the United States. These backgrounds have been extensively used by writers and research authorities, but are coded in such a way that personal data are not readily associated with individual names.

The school of Wicca provides a give-and-take relationship between tutor and student; and research projects on esoteric matters are continually adding to the fund of knowledge contained in the school's files. Since the school maintains contacts in almost every country of the world, facts can readily be sorted from fancies; and the student is assured of the best available data or an honest "We don't know." The school's course is tough and a bigh standard is carefully maintained. It is not a school for dilettantes. The individual is required to show initiative, persistence, and intelligence. Often, in fact, the student receives apparently obtuse answers to questions, which demand that he work things out for himself.

Gavin and Yvonne have a distinct tendency to resemble Vikings in their attitudes, for they do not believe that agape is the answer to our present world crises. Rather they believe that an individual must be versatile, self-reliant, and capable of surviving in these troubled times. They teach the survival aspects of Witchcraft, and the church's newsletter is aptly named "Survival."

1975 will be "the year to survive." Previous slogans have been " '73, the Year of the Tree" and " '74, the Year to Store." 1975 will start out on a calm note; however, in early spring inflation of food prices will hit a new high and will lead the have-nots of our major cities to riots. The spring will be unusually warm and dry. This will add to the anger, especially in southern cities. The New Orleans Mardi Gras will be a disaster, the police much in evidence.

Politics: The country will turn away from the legal profession for its selection of politicians and will elect military people. Look espeeially for the election of Admiral Elmo Zumwalt to public office; this man is a future president.

Medical Discovery: The role of trace elements in our lives will suddenly be redefined. The catastrophic effects of the addition of Vitamins A and D to foodstuffs will make headlines, causing the government to react by banning the addition of synthetic vitamins to most food products.

Ecology: No less than three major oil tanker spill disasters will occur. The biggest single disaster will occur in the Gulf of Mexico; and Texas beaches will be badly contaminated.

Automobiles: Many automobiles will begin burning water with gasoline. This will give at least a 50 percent increase in gas mileage.

Fashion: There will be a return to more traditional fashions. Men's clothing will step back and become less flamboyant; women will wear skirts more readily.

Shortages: The list is endless, but high on that list must be anti-freeze, which will be unavailable in the early winter of 1975. Wrapping paper will continue to be short, and people will be asked to recycle their shopping bags. There will be a resurgence of the use of old-fashioned durable shopping bags by the ladies.

Religion: Since the Pope has already declared 1975 to be a "Holy Year," we expect violence on the religious front. Fundamentalist Christians will viciously attack occult groups in general and witches in particular.

Good News: We will make it through this, the worst year of recent history. Coming out the other side, we will have more emphasis on the individual and less on the state.

International Affairs: Fighting will break out yet again between Russia and China, and will bring the world to the edge of an atomic conflict.

Farming: There will be a move away from the land by "investment farmers" such as lawyers and bankers. The young will return, in ever-increasing numbers, to the land. There will be horrified tales in the press of infants being born in primitive environments and of people starving in the midst of plenty on the farm. These tales, however, will not generally mention the tens of thousands of people who will make it to the good life through farming.

Interest Rates: Rates will climb to over 12 per cent. Most states will enact 10 percent usury laws. This will depress the building industry even further and cause demands in Congress for new Housing Administration money.

Stock Market: The stock market will continue to be extremely depressed and will not get above the 900-point level.

Disasters: The first major crash of a 747 will occur in early spring in New York City.

Mental Health: The number of mentally retarded children born will increase by at least 25 per cent. This will cause the government to take action as mentioned in "Medical Discovery" above against Vitamin D additives.

Fuel and Energy Crisis: More and more emphasis will be placed on plants for the recycling of human and animal waste. Methane production will be held out as a great hope.

Employment Prospects: This year unemployment will rise to six percent during the summer vacation period of students. In general those seeking jobs, especially the young, would be wise to investigate basic resource jobs; for example, those associated with either animal husbandry or the mining of materials from the earth.

CHAPTER 15

REV. BENNIE GARRISON

Psychic Magician

Rev. Bennie Garrison, P. O. Box 675, Marion, Indiana 46952 is another newcomer to our psychic panel. "I have been in psychic work for more than three years," he explained. "I am a magi, or magician, and I have performed a considerable amount of magic. I was jumping and swinging on an iron bar one day when I was about 12 years old. Something snapped in my head that afternoon and left me in the astral. My body was separated from me for several minutes until I merged with it again."

Following this incident, Rev. Garrison said he became aware of latent psychic powers. "However, I never did anything with them until just the past few years," he stated. "Recently I have studied witchcraft and the other related subjects. I embarked on a program of mental discipline and mind control that works most of the time. I do mail order readings today and my clients continue to consult me so I must be helping them."

Rev. Garrison's forecasts include:

Cuba will align itself with the United States within four years. However, this will not come about until Cuba has been disrupted from within by severe domestic trouble.

The UFO story will not be understood until the materialistic concept is dismissed. They are thought forms directed toward the earth by entities from other planets within our own solar system. This is done in the same manner as astral projections, which I myself can do. A person under astral projection can will themselves to another planet and it's a remarkably easy way to travel. The fact that UFOs appear to be solid in our earth's atmosphere has fooled most people. All planets in our solar system are inhabited by lower astral forms. They have no physical life. This explains one of the key factors in astrology: the spirit influence on other planets works through us. Radar can pick up thought forms of a different density from other planets. However, radar cannot detect the higher thought density forms from souls of this planet.

I'm going out on the limb with my economic prediction that the next two years will be better. There will be much unemployment, but the overall economic conditions will be an improvement over the past two years.

There will be a steady movement toward people becoming vegetarians. This will not be due to a meat shortage, but because of a concern for better health.

I feel the gap between the medical profession and the average person will increase in 1975. More people will return to nature for healing.

Magic and psychically-related subjects will be of major interest in the next decade. This will die down, however, as a more scientific approach to the subject is taken.

Within five years, we're going to see pornographic movies shown on our television screens.

CHAPTER 16

JACK J. GERBER

Forecasts from Tarot Cards

Mr. Jack J. Gerber is an accomplished, nationally-known Tarot card reader. A member and former president of the American Tarot Association, Mr. Gerber is currently associated with Lunar Sales, Unlimited, an occult book firm. He is a professional hypnotist and a member of the Hypnotism Society of Pennsylvania.

While studying at Goddard College in Vermont, Gerber became interested in the occult. "A psychology instructor at the college began to delve into the occult due to his curiosity," explained Gerber. "I joined the psychologist in his search and we both became believers."

In the past year, Mr. Gerber obtained his Master's degree in psychology and has been doing advanced mystical work with the Fraternity of Light. Readers may contact Mr. Gerber at 1737 Chestnut Street, Suite 1200, Philadelphia, Pa. 19103.

His forecasts for the coming year are as follows:

Evidence is beginning to be gathered by scientific figures on UFO's. A secret Air Force study which will be started in the next year will open up this evidence.

Fluctuations in the economy, including sudden shortages, will continue.

One big bonus for the economy will be that it will be remarkably free of major strikes.

The number of locations for legal gambling will steadily increase, but the field will fail to make much money because of too much government interference.

The African drought will continue to worsen until it attracts world attention as Biafra did.

A movie about a disaster will be a smash box-office hit.

Peace will finally come to the Mideast but a new limited war will break out elsewhere. The U.S. will not become directly involved, being too concerned with domestic politics.

Great Britain will impose increasingly harsh measures on Belfast; against the wishes of their own people.

Food prices have peaked except for normal inflation. They will no longer lead in prices.

Kidnapping will increase, no longer for political purposes but purely out of greed.

The American political system will survive Watergate and emerge stronger than ever.

The day of the dictatorship is over. More and more countries will become democratic.

Increasing numbers of people will discover they have psychic abilities of their own.

The economy is adjusting to a change from a war economy to a peace economy. Once this is completed it will improve greatly.

Doctors will use psychic aspects increasingly to improve in their healing. The bulk of this work will be done by paramedical personnel.

Automation will increase and begin to free men to seek the pleasures of the mind.

Drugs will have a detrimental effect on the population. The use of hard drugs on college campuses will become a national problem.

Gold will be legalized but many will lose money in the market. To make money when it is legalized, buy and sell as rapidly as possible without being greedy.

A revolutionary group will conduct a violent robbery in which several people will be shot.

Ecology will be increasingly ignored as the energy crisis continues to threaten the U.S.

CHAPTER 17

DR. GIL E. GILLY

Psychologist and Psychic

Dr. Gil E. Gilly, (P. O. Box 14827, Phoenix, Arizona), is well known as an entertaining lecturer, psychic adviser, and talented industrial psychologist. Known professionally as "Mr. E.S.P.," Dr. Gilly offers a consulting service to business firms. "After I have worked with a client a few times, they frequently become interested in my psychic consultation," he revealed. "I try to give my clients—whether they are people seeking to expand the psychic dimensions of their mind, or a large firm—the same degree of personal attention."

Dr. Gilly also teaches classes in psychic development. "I utilize the Freudian concept of teaching combined with the Jungian psychic methods," he explained. "We're currently continuing our research with computers to determine the exact ways in which our minds work. Our workshop classes meet once weekly and the group usually runs from 50 to 75 persons. I have also been offering an intensified course in ESP in other cities, a four-day seminar that will double the average person's ESP ability."

Dr. Gilly answers all letters sent by readers of this book.

His forecasts for the coming year are:

Alcoholics: They will discover a new intravenous treatment for alcohol addiction in 1975. It will completely cast off the symptoms of heavy alcohol consumption within two hours. It will be done with a medicine that is basically high in sugar content. Science won't even be able to tell us how it works. We will name this "Fructose."

We're going to find a new plant that all countries will start growing. It is going to look, taste, and smell like marijuana without the hallucinatory effect of marijuana. This crop will produce five to seven times more pulp per year than all the forests in the world. They will harvest this crop every year where trees usually require 15 years before they can make paper out of it. This will definitely end the newsprint shortage.

We're going to develop a new kind of magnet this year. It will be a human magnet which will destroy or cure tumors in the blood stream. This magnet will work with iron, injected into the body through foodstuffs. The filings will get into the clots and tumors. The magnet will take care of the rest of it. This new magnet will have 20,000 times the earth's magnetic strength.

In Arizona, two doctors are growing natural alfalfa and making a very special concentrated drink out of it. It's not only delicious, and wonderful to taste and drink, but they have devised a way to process this green, flavored juice of alfalfa to extract a white, almost tasteless, powder. It's pure protein. I predict that this process will be used to produce a high-protein feed ingredient for the beef industry.

And with this new technique, scientists will provide a protein supplement to give more food value than a prime cut of beef. The two doctors are merely experimenting and believe in it. My big prediction on this is that government-funded scientists in the state of Iowa will perfect this and bring it to the consumer this year.

A solar cooker invented in California, and not yet even patented, will be patented and marketed this year. People will need only the sun's heat to cook a meal in minutes and seconds. You need no matches, no charcoal grill, no mess. It will weigh less than a pound, and it will work anywhere, even indoors, using sunlight through a window. The cooker will aim itself, using a tracking cell, and in 10-12 minutes a steak will be done.

There will be a new family sedan that will last 20 years. Afterwards, the car will be recycled, or in some cases reconditioned at special plants. This will reduce the wasteful scrapping of 15 million cars a year around the world. The original cost will be 30% more than the existing mass produced sedan, but it will last twice as long.

I believe there will be a new type of golf club developed this year that will drive a golf ball up to 50 yards further than the normal club. The secret of this new club will be in the shaft which will be made of a new fiber instead of conventional steel. It will be a cheaper and better club than ever before, with four standard stiffnesses just like the others.

We'll see throwaway thermometers in every hospital room. They'll cost less than a dime. Their use will eliminate a lot of diseases that heretofore have attacked people in hospitals from what they think is an unknown source.

There will be a 12-hour day instigated in America, with only three days of work a week. Workers will be able to come and go whenever they like, anytime between six in the morning and 10 at night. They can leave any time after 6:30. They will be able to schedule themselves, or they will be putting in a 42-hour work week. They can work around traffic jams, school problems, vacations, doctor's appointments, or just an hour or two of sunshine. Extra work time in one week will pay off in extra liberty at another time. In restaurants, dime stores, supermarkets and places like this, coworkers will assign schedules themselves so the public is never abandoned. It will be the greatest innovation in labor and management in the last 50 years.

They will improve the speaker-phone, such as I have on my desk, where I can press a button and talk into it from anywhere in the room. The problem is that if I walk away from the desk it sounds as if I'm speaking from a barrel. It will be developed by an independent contractor, and sold through Bell Telephone. This apparatus will be fantastic.

This year, more cases will go to court against the telephone company than ever before. The contention will be the telephone company can charge you for putting the lines to your house. Whatever equipment you connect to the line afterwards will not be charged. The only other charges they will make will be long distance charges. In the next ten years, long distance charges will be for connecting station to station. You will be able to talk as long as you want.

There's going to be a new drug discovered that will keep fish alive out of the water for as long as two days, sometimes up to five days. The fish will appear lifeless, but when put back in the water they will come back to life immediately.

There will be dozens of new electronic aids for the blind. There will be a special new bright TV screen for those that are not completely blind. This device will give a super-sharp and a very bright picture allowing these people to see their surroundings, and even read some normal-sized print. Other machines will work like radar, giving electronic impulses to fingers, toes, and back and other parts of the anatomy.

Look for an improvement in eggs from chickens. These eggs will have larger yolks, and less cholesterol. One of the most outstanding discoveries in 1975 will be the discovery that people who eat a lot of potatoes, spaghetti and other starchy and carbohydrate foods will have higher IQs, while those on a high protein diet will have lower IQs. They'll find that this high carbohydrate diet increases the secretion of a special hormone from a heretofore unnamed gland. In turn, it will raise the level of tryptophan, which is an amino acid in the blood. This particular acid stimulates the production of seratonin, which stimulates the activity of the brain itself. These effects will be noted and improved upon in diets. This will change the theory that a lot of people have about the value of certain types of diets.

I believe there is a new process to be discovered that will remove tattoos harmlessly and chemically.

I think women, wanting to know if they are pregnant, will find out faster than ever before. There'll be a new test that will enable women to diagnose a pregnancy even before a missed menstrual period. This test can be given within two or three weeks after conception. It will use a radioactive tracer of some sort. It will completely eliminate ectopic pregnancies which have claimed many lives even at this late date.

A new technique will be developed in brain surgery. They will eliminate the necessity of sewing. They'll find a new type of glue, that will glue bones together. In cranial surgery, or bone fractures, they'll be able to glue the bone and skin together with the same type of glue. This will stop all bleeding and be used as a pain control at the same time.

There'll be a new type of control of insects that will keep them asleep during the vegetating time of plants. It will be a chemical, or hormone, which will force the insects to use up their body reserves while still in hibernation. If they do awaken, they will be too weak to do their job.

Look for many new vitamins this year. 1975 is going to be the year of the vitamin. They'll have vitamin Q, Z and double Z, double A's, even vitamins that control the blood's clotting, thickening and color.

There's going to be a soybean wizard, much like the peanut wizard. This man will be black or Indian. Soybeans will be used in a brand new way. They will call him the Soybean Wizard and compare him with George Washington Carver.

Back to the solar cooker: I see one shaped like an umbrella. There'll be two or three types for solar heating for the house. One will be a special canvas like a movie screen canvas. There will be a new type of cooker that will cook an egg in 30 seconds. This will conserve energy as homes will have them built in.

There will be developed a new type of electronic calculator to be used by the blind. This will enable the handicapped to be of more service in business and industry.

The plastics industry will save themselves with a special plastic that will work on a color code. It will change color if the food inside is spoiled or isn't completely fresh. This will work with both fresh and frozen foods. It will react instantaneously to the chemical changes that take place in spoiling food.

Through physical therapy, and study by medical doctors and chiropractors, doctors will come up with new physical ways to diagnose heretofore difficult blood analyzed diseases. Look for tests for appendicitis, a new test for kidney stones, gallstones, and ulcers. This will be invented in Carlsbad, N. Mex. Doctors from all over the world will flock to Carlsbad. I'm getting the name of a doctor like Marco or Markee. This man will gain a lot of prominence for his work.

They will discover that, just as chickens produce better in light all the time, cattle grow fatter if they are in the light all the time. They will also give more milk. They'll have a combination of incandescent and fluorescent lighting. It will also reduce the customary problems of insects attracted by normal light.

Soon, a new method will be devised to guarantee a golfer a perfect swing. This device will be hidden on the golfer. It is mechanical like a computer, and it will be used in golf tournaments. One of the high money winners will be caught and exposed for using this computer instrument to protect his swing.

I believe in 1975 we're going to have a new X-ray machine invented that will give moving pictures in color on a TV screen. When you go into a hospital, there will be no need to wait for pictures to be developed. They'll put you under the X-ray machine and the doctor will go into another room and look at a TV screen. He'll see moving pictures of your broken bones, bad ulcers or other ailments. This X-ray will depict soft body tissue, vital organs, and other things that the conventional X-rays do not show. This will be conducive to a more exact diagnosis. In the long run it will have the strongest effect on health care because doctors will be aware of preventive medicine. It will reduce the risk of wrong diagnosis. This device will not only enable doctors to identify cysts, blood disorders, etc., but to identify their exact cause as well. This will come out of Florida, or Georgetown, in the first part of 1975.

It's been determined that strokes are caused by hemorrhage, or blood clot, in the brain or circulatory system. With this device, they will be able to prevent a stroke from ever happening again.

It will be discovered that a robot has been invented that will simulate real human beings. It can bleed, simulate a heart attack, die, and be cured again if treated properly.

It will be learned that couples formerly believed infertile will be found to have a chemical reaction to each other, much like a venereal disease. They nullify each other's productivity. I believe they will be treating it with pure water, charged with special electric current.

There's still going to be a drug problem in America; not in the teenage set. Older adults and senior citizens will turn to drugs because of the high cost of alcohol and entertainment. They'll find themselves the hopeless victims of drugs and they'll be growing their own marijuana.

I believe there's going to be a super-confidential wedding, much like Henry Kissinger's, with a top secret list of wedding guests. It will involve a movie or television star, and a politician.

The greatest smuggling action next year is going to be Bibles into China. Those caught smuggling Bibles into China will be put to death by the Mao regime.

The silent majority now is going to be the economic saviors. They will get this spiraling inflation and the money market back under control.

There'll probably be a new Nixon record coming out entitled "Everybody Needs a Little Peace."

There's going to be a very famous attorney and doctor who will be held, or booked and prosecuted, on the charge of murder by abortion.

I see Prince Charles becoming King Charles this year.

I believe former Senator Margaret Chase Smith will return to Washington for a very high government post.

The only thing that will stem the tide of crime in the larger cities will be to declare martial law.

The electric-powered car we keep looking for will be marketed this year. I believe it will be a battery-powered bicycle. It will crowd the highways and the biways. A federal law will be passed that if an auto and a bicycle have an accident, it will be the same as an auto and a pedestrian. The auto will always be the deadly weapon.

Many high school graduates will still be unable to read or write sufficiently, but they will be graduated. This will be the scourge of America and the worst thing that's happened to America in the last 100 years.

Rules will be lifted on the search and seizure laws, bringing in thousands of false arrests by the police departments. Our freedom is going fast.

Jackie Kennedy is going to Rome this year to do something very special in the memory of her late husband and brother-in-law. Onassis will be financing this. He will combine this homage and pilgrimage for the Kennedys along with homage to the memory of his son who recently died. It will widen the rift between Jackie and Onassis.

I believe we're going to find a very famous senator has had a face-lift, and a body lift where they removed fat. The fat will come back and he'll sue the doctor, revealing the episode to the public.

The Department of Health and Welfare will again be completely renovated. This will weed out a lot of flaws and save the federal government millions of dollars every day. They will enact a work-or-you-don't-eat law.

In 1974, I predicted that a famous red-haired comedian would be meeting his death this year. Now, I'm going to say it again.

We'll learn a very famous dance studio was a front for missing kidnap money.

George Wallace is going to be a major nominee for the presidency of the U.S. Unless something startling happens, I see George Wallace winning.

Just as insurance policies are advertised and sold through newspapers reasonably, funerals or cremations will also be sold this way for a nominal fee. Cremations will be under $100. Coffins will be ordered and stored in your own closet or basement. There will be a book published on what to do until the mortician gets there. You'll have special contracts with embalmers: traveling embalmers.

Look out for South American and Mexican guerilla bands like the Fidel Castro thing. It's going to be heavy and we're going to need a dozen Kissingers to handle it.

I see a new type of giveaway at savings companies: Food! It will take the place of dishes, radios, etc.

Watch for a really shocking announcement out of Chicago by the mayor there.

I also look for a high government official to be blamed for his wife's death, because of certain telephone calls and letters that will be seen and heard.

It will also be discovered that one of the most famous judges that has recently married has become a bigamist. His bride didn't quite get a legal divorce, as he thought she did.

A very famous older woman in France, very possibly the widow of Charles DeGaulle, will marry a much younger man. It'll be one of those May-December things. This younger man will have the mannerisms of a young DeGaulle. It will be a very happy and good marriage.

Credit is going to be up for a new overhaul. I believe they're not going to be able to disclose as much credit information as they have been. Nor, will they be able to deny unmarried women credit anymore. Single women will get all the credit they can use, as will married women without their husband's consent.

"There'll be quite a scandal about another senator's death. He's going to want to be entombed in a certain way. His wife won't do it, even though his will so specifies. She'll lose quite an inheritance, but she's not going to do it.

Sonny and Cher, the comedy team that broke up, will be doing a TV special. It's going to be something really funny.

Last year I predicted that the Johnsons were headed for tragedy. I think the IRS is going to get them. There's going to be a pretty bitter battle down in Texas, a new Alamo. The Johnson Pie Alamo. They're not going to take it sitting down, and it just might be what the IRS needs to rewrite some of those laws and get away from the police state.

There will be a discovery in a graveyard somewhere in the St. Louis area or in Indianapolis, Ind., where they're burying people on top of people. It will cause quite a scandal. Later, towns all over the world will start that very thing.

Congress is going to introduce a bill which extends their present terms under certain circumstances. The congressmen pushing that want to stay in office a little longer. People will not put up with that kind of stuff any longer.

Lawyers and doctors are going to be socialized. They'll have to list certain prices for certain services, never going over them. It will be good for their business. It'll help inflation too.

Look out for a haunting of a ghost somewhere, I'm not going to say where, but this ghost is going to entertain the place and look very much alive.

Italy is going to have one of the biggest political upsurges, reminiscent of the Mussolini era. Fact is, Mussolini will almost be honored at this time.

Several scandal magazines, which tell the super secrets about the stars, will combine just to stay in business. The Ladies' Home Journal, McCalls, and that type will combine and change formats. Postage will be expensive and they're combining for survival.

Independent post offices will become very popular. As a result, the U.S. Post Office will regroup and start operating at a profit and be a good business. The amazing thing will be that the independent post offices will mail letters for less than one cent with better service for businesses.

I believe we're going to have an Arab leader and his whole harem visit Disneyland and Las Vegas.

Credit cards are undergoing a complete change. The credit card forgery racket will be more lucrative than the forging of money or stamps.

In Tennessee, right in the heart of the Bible Belt, there's going to be a big scandal between adults and a boy's baseball team. That's going to blow the roof off a certain church down there.

I think we're going to find out a whole new thing about chinchillas this year. Chinchilla will be the hot fur. A lot of people went into these and never made a dime. All of a sudden they're going to start getting rich. It'll be legal and legitimate. It won't be on selling breeders, but on selling pelts. It's going to be something really new.

I think we're going to see a real price war in whiskey and beer come about in 1975. That'll be because of the ease in obtaining pot. Marijuana is going to be the cause of liquor becoming cheaper.

I still say flying saucers are getting heavier and heavier. Some of the little ones which supposedly go out from the big UFOs are actually bringing the dead humans back to the planet earth for burial. And sometime during a tornado, a windstorm or a tidal wave, we're going to uncover a lot of those dead bodies that will obviously have been experimented on. And will that ever raise fears!

There's going to be a new practice put in in Florida, New York, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Colorado, and Nebraska. Clinics will be set up that will rejuvenate a face and give you a more youthful appearance. It's going to be done with something like shellac, where they'll actually paint your face and your neck, and it'll tighten and take the wrinkles out and it'll make you look younger. But this will be short-lived. There'll be a couple of serious side-effects and we'll hear about it.

Even though Liz Taylor and Richard Burton have a divorce, it's going to erupt in 1975. They are going to air the dirty linen and we'll find out more about the sexual side of it than you ever thought existed.

There's going to be a new method of sneaking marijuana into America. A canning company is going to can it, and send it in. But they'll be caught.

The most outstanding weather in 1975 will be ice storms. Not snow, sleet, etc., but ice! Hailstones so big that they're going to come as chunks of ice falling all over the world. I told you last year the weather was getting unusual. It was, it is, it has, and ice storms are going to be followed by other types of storms.

You hear a lot about personal bankruptcy, individual bankruptcy, business bankruptcy, and now bankrupt cities, bankrupt counties, and near bankrupt states. That's like having a bankrupt country. 1975 is going to show us the first city, not a large city, that's going to say "look out . . . we're broke, what are we going to do?" This city will be declared a federal disaster area. This will encourage other cities to follow suit.

In football a man will die of a heart attack while taking a shower at a game. Later on, it's going to be proved murder.

Famine will strike during the rainy season in India. It's going to hit India without reason, without mercy. The grain will have a blight in it.

The very northern part of Alaska is going to have the fastest moving glacier they've ever measured.

The Amazon river is going to reveal what people thought were new, prehistoric fish that have been extinct for millions of years. They'll be found there.

Cannibalism is going to have a revival, here in America. There's going to be a cult where they're going to kill for their initiation, and eat tbe victim.

A new meteor will land in the southern part of the country or down in Mexico.

Life is definitely going to be discovered in outer space next year. We're not only going to receive radio and TV messages, but we're going to find out a physical, tangible knowledge about life in outer space.

I see a congressman, a former judge and lawyer, kicking out his wife and moving in a beautiful young waitress.

There's going to be a new kind of coffee. It'll be cheaper than our present type of coffee raised in America, and it will taste better than coffee. It's going to replace coffee without the bad side effects.

Prices are definitely going down in 1975. By this time next year they'll be down 5 to 15%. By 1976 they should be down 20%. We're going to get back to normal, and all because of that silent majority that I was talking about earlier.

Look out tax evaders. The Internal Revenue Service has a giant computer compiling data. They know who's not filing, what you're not filing for, whether you're evading or whether you're paying it all, and they're going to declare war on you.

I see three members of the Supreme Court, or heads of government, popular personalities. Two of them are going to become very ill and resign; one will die. A new series of events right after that is going to open up our closed minds as it never has before. It's going to make Watergate seem mild by comparison. It's not going to be based on Nixon. The press is doing their damage, but that's where this new series of incidents is going to be.

Last year, I talked about the discovery on the other side of the moon. Now, I've had more revelations on this. I feel astronauts will find the ruins of a lost civilization in a remote section on the moon. This civilization will be more advanced than ours, encased in a giant glass or plastic bubble. Your children, or maybe even your grandchildren, will marvel at this discovery in outer space. We're going to have actual visits to the moon through high powered television cameras just like we did during the moon walks.

A few years ago I made a prediction there'd be quite a scandal in the modeling industry. It was 1968. One of the top fashion models would be revealed to be a man. In the Women's Wear Daily, and other fashion magazines, they talked about a model that retired. More and more female impersonators will take top modeling jobs. They're going to be very very good at it. Look out girls!

In 1975, astrologers are going to film a star blowing up. It's going to be like fireworks and very interesting. That will happen seven months from today (June 20, 1974.)

Agriculture's in for a big surprise. One of the big crops is going to be potatoes and tomatoes. Not separately, in one plant. It will be called the Pomato. Another thing, they'll create a seven-grain plant.

Back to chinchillas, they are going to be everything from dogfood to a new rejuvenating oil, like mink oil now. In late 1975, we're going to record the entrance of the chinchilla. They'll even find a new medicine from an extract of the chinchilla. The best things will come from the oils and residues of the chinchilla. The center of this research will be somewhere in Michigan or Minnesota. Oil of chinchilla will actually stop the aging process, or help remove wrinkles already there. It will be put in soap, oils, mixtures, etc. It will actually be insured, and guaranteed to work.

All our problems from way back to the Boston Tea Party on up are going to be discovered to be caused by Communist infiltrators. We'll be able to swallow the whole story and do something about it.

We'll see computer divorces and computer marriages, put forth from vending machines. You put in $5 and all the necessary papers come out. You put the papers into a computer and it is completed. This will come about maybe in 1980. I believe they'll even put a recording with a stern lecture with the divorces, a loving message with the marriages.

We've had it with metal coins. There'll be more made of plastic or some kind of composite.

I see a suicide in the White House.

I see a woman replacing a Supreme Court judge who's going to die.

Tobacco will be back in the news this year. It's going to be proven not only does it kill, but it also has medicinal value.

There'll be a new kind of nylon or silk invented that will clean itself when it's not on you.

The government will find a way to supplement our sagging taxes by taxing all the legal prostitutes in every state.

I see the White House becoming a real fortress, plate glass windows, bomb shelters, computers installed in almost every room.

In 1933, Franklin D. Roosevelt took special action to help cure our national ills. Our next president will bring our economy into a stable way again. It will be set up like Roosevelt had in his "New Deal." It will be good, but it won't look that way.

Cigarette manufacturers are going to have a new kind of match attached to the sides of a cigarette package. This match will last through all 20 smokes.

A lot of new clothing ideas, a special bridal outfit that will be made of paper. This probably goes along with the computer marriage and divorce. I see paper wigs that look as good as your own hair, selling for 50 cents or a dollar.

The list of all welfare people will be made public and published before long. That will reduce the load on welfare. Pride doeth strange things.

Marine biology is where the economy is going to get the biggest boost.

Automobiles will be replaced by airmobiles. These may come out of Japan.

I feel the stock market will continue with its topsy-turvy life. It will go down. In the end, they'll rule that if a stock continues to lose money it will eventually be thrown off the board. Brokerage firms won't put anything on the board that isn't right. This will create a more secure ground for the small investor. The small investor seldom has a chance unless he's really good. This will not affect foreign stocks or bonds.

I still see a lot of floods, especially in the midwest this year. I see a breaking of a dam somewhere in Arizona.

I see really heavy earthquakes in Hawaii this year. A lot of underwater volcanic action all the way from Alaska to Hawaii.

Self-healing through religious means will be a big thing, even bigger than most medicines.

Income tax is going to start attaching credit cards, or at least checking credit cards, to see if spending equals the income.

I see an abundance of food in America, rather than a famine. We'll probably be feeding that famine I mentioned in India. I see something about greens. People will really be getting into greens.

It's already started in Phoenix, but I believe it will be nationwide soon, that on prime time TV you will no longer see a man depicted smoking or drinking hard liquor. Channel 21 in Phoenix does this now.

I predict a woman vice-president as early as 1980.

Jackie Onassis will be carrying a grandchild in her arms next year.

I made a prediction that six per cent of the people in Sun City, Ariz. will be stricken with a fatal disease that will be diagnosed as methothyleoma. It's a wrong diagnosis; it's something that will cause internal problems in the area of the stomach and intestines. It will be fatal to about six per cent of the older people. The percentages will be within this all over the world, but especially in Sun City.

I made a prediction that Arizona will have the highest accident year in spite of the lower speed limits. I said too that one of the local hospitals will install an artificial liver machine, and even though the year isn't over, both predictions are true.

Medicine's coming to the age of the cassette recorder. We'll be talking our ills into a tape recorder and trying to diagnose our own ills. A doctor will evaluate it and let us know what's happening.

I don't see any peace between the Catholics and Protestants in Ireland in 1975.

I feel there's going to be a federal law passed concerning hitchhiking.

I think there'll be quite a conflict starting up in 1975 between China and Russia that Castro will be behind.

In October, November, December of 1975 we're going to have another energy crisis. But it will be due to a freak of nature. It'll start September 27.

A lot of credit cards are going to be recalled, because if you don't use them they'll presume you don't need it.

Banks will be folding in various places, but to save themselves they will merge with other banks. Certain bank practices will be eliminated altogether.

There'll be a new FCC ruling demanding television news is stated as news. There won't be comments, opinions, or laughter allowed. It will have to be labeled news, comedy, or opinion. It will have to be stated as such before, during, and after a show.

There's going to be a real air tragedy, with about 148 people killed.

Mexico is going to have a lot of teaching problems. They're even going to consider the death penalty down there for vandalism to schools.

CHAPTER 18

TENNY HALE

The Oregon Oracle

Tenny Hale, P. O. Box 125, Beaverton, Ore., is that state's foremost psychic and astrologer. Her reputation is growing internationally due to her prophetic prowess. The Beaverton, Ore. psychic predicted the Watergate scandal many years before the break-in and apprehension of the burglars. Not only did she name the event, but she accurately forecast the name of the apartment and building complex in Washington, D.C. in a prediction in poetry when she was a young girl. The forecast was published in a book in 1971, a year before the actual burglary.

"I didn't understand the forecast when it came to me as a child," Tenny admitted. "I always felt it was an important event for the nation, so I included the poem in the book."

The book, The Seventh Panel, was published by Tenny's own firm and is available directly from her. It reads:

The Capital land, the water, the gate,
The East;
Where the feared and the famous gather
To feast;
This place no mortal designs,
Many will lease.
The machine. The machine.
Becomes—a beast.

The unusual poem had no meaning in 1933. It really didn't have much sense when it was published a year before Watergate. "Now that the facts of the scandal are out in the open the prediction is remarkably accurate," wrote editor Tom Valentine of the National Tattler. "The reference that this is a place that 'no mortal designs' is truly remarkable because Watergate was designed by a computer."

The Oregon psychic's talents extend beyond the metaphysical world. As a philosophy major at the University of Portland, she was president of the Honor Society. She is the past president and founder of the Oregon Chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation and the National Association for Gifted Children. Tenny Hale offers a psychic consultation service and astrological data.

Her forecasts for the coming year are:

Electric photography as done by the Kirlians cameras will be declared a medical appliance, such as an X-ray machine, and the use of one will constitute "practicing medicine without a license."

An internationally known female psychic will pass on or be rendered the same as passed on.

A shocker and surprise concerning Israeli psychic, Uri Geller.

Fraud uncovered in the organic and natural health food field.

Changes for NBC's Tom Snyder.

The medical profession will accept "aura diagnosing." It will sweep the profession just as acupuncture did last year and this.

The federal government will institute more lawsuits against state bar associations with justifiable cause.

Surprises and changes in the Common Market.

Conservatism will sweep government and institutions in the U.S.A. and elsewhere.

Amnesty in some form will be given the boys that left the country to evade the draft.

Look for a substantial Japanese quake.

Personal news on NBC's Barbara Walters.

Changes concerning capital punishment.

Magazine and paper publishers will get some form of relief on the postage problem.

Watergate will continue to lead to more uncoverings of wrongdoings in our government. Unheard of scandal is yet to come.

Losses of some sort for Playboy Enterprises which in some way seem to involve founder Hugh Hefner rather directly.

Drownings on an Indian reservation.

Only one movie studio will survive and remain in Hollywood.

A new scandal revealed concerning the airlines.

Look for some cessation of X-raying before boarding airplanes.

Watch for proof that cow's milk encourages cancer growth.

Homeopath principles will be utilized in pest control.

Locusts. All over.

Middle East flare-ups.

A shakeup at CBS.

Sadness and bad news for Howard Hughes.

An award or honor, some sort of professional recognition, for soap opera actor William Gray Espey.

Revealed: The truth of Nixon's part in parole of teamster Jimmy Hoffa.

Geographical changes in the Carolinas, Colorado, and California.

Look for new information on migraines.

Tycoon Glenn Turner will be in trouble again.

Names that will make unusual news: Publisher Sam Newhouse, Jimmy Hoffa, again; editor Gloria Steinem, Sen. Harold Hughes, columnist Doug Baker, industrialist Fred Meyer, Gordon Liddy, Liza Todd (Elizabeth Taylor's girl), one of the Rolling Stones, actress Susan Oliver, financier Bernie Cornfeld.

Here is a list of the most severe continuing and coming shortages:

Flowering shrubs, wood, bleach, wheat, tennis balls, peas, kapok, seeds of all kinds, gas, oil, food, paper, potash, fertilizers, electricity, coffee, peanuts and/or its products, soy and/or its products, water, wire, plastics, manganese, cotton, carbon, salmon, porcelain, glass, knives and cutting instruments, indoor plants, medication of all kinds, elastic bandages, hydrochloric acid, anesthetics, especially A. Procaine and B. Novacaine derivatives.

Sometimes a thing can be plentiful but its products won't be because of processing, transportation or the like.

Here is a list of things that will increase: Clothing profits, food profits, commercial building, banking, beauty care products, health care and its products, kindnappings, police powers, police brutality, gourmet dining places, art works of any kind, inflation, strikes, personal assaults, burglaries, looting.

Epidemics will come from beyond the U.S.A. boundaries and they will be fierce.

Look for more water contaminations.

Watch for more food contamination and not just canned food this time.

We'll have more water accidents, less home building, and less school building.

Look for unexpected and damaging weather, worse than any we have had in the last two years.

CHAPTER 19

DAVID HOY

From Skeptic to Seer

David Hoy understands the skepticism that some people direct toward psychics. A former Baptist minister, Hoy was openly antagonistic toward persons who claimed paranormal abilities. Then, following a number of dramatic experiences which could not be explained away, Hoy discovered that he had somehow managed to acquire ESP.

Today, Hoy is a popular lecturer. He has gained an enviable reputation as a speaker on the correlation between good salesmanship and ESP. Many of his talks are before executives of major corporations such as General Motors, U.S. Steel, RCA, Bell Telephone, Sealtest, J. I. Case, and others.

Hoy believes that certain degrees of ESP lie untouched within everyone and that these talents can be developed. To explain this thesis, he recently made a record album entitled ESP According to Hoy. In making predictions, Mr. Hoy utilizes what he terms "time-projected empathy" to gain a glimpse of the future. "I visualize something happening and then I verbalize it," he explained. "It is really an emotional and mental happening that is more like remembering the future. You know something, you have seen something taking place, but you also know that it has not yet happened."

Mr. Hoy may be contacted by writing to Box 57, Paducah, Kentucky 42001.

His forecasts are:

It will be a boy for the Kissingers in the fall of 1975.

Kennedy will not run for President.

Tatum O'Neal will marry in her early teens and will win another Oscar nomination before she is twenty.

Hurricanes will go through the alphabet this year.

There will be some kind of physical tragedy at the White House.

All-night network TV will be a reality by 1977.

Tourist flights into space will be operating by late 1976.

A black, female country singer is ready! Her first record will be released this year and will be No. 1 on pop and country charts.

A German mine disaster: cave-in within 30 days.

Four major earthquakes in California in 1975.

Elizabeth Taylor will try her hand at a TV show, but fail.

Richard Burton, traveling constantly, will marry a younger woman within six months.

Within three months, news out of New York about permanent contact lenses being fitted to a baby who was born blind with cataracts.

It will be discovered that vasectomy slows the aging of males.

A show business personality makes it in the political arena. Though he will be supported by John Wayne, he will receive the endorsement of leading Hollywood liberals.

The American Socialist Labor Party will win the Presidency by 1984.

Within two years, the energy crisis will prove to be a "conspiracy of common consent," perpetrated by major concerns.

News of Russian air superiority will cause a great boost in the economy of the U.S. aerospace industry.

Huge oil finds in China will be announced.

Spectacular oil discoveries will be made off the Florida and Mississippi coasts.

A fuel-less auto engine will be announced. Energy will be stored in a small cell inside a gyroscope.

The cost of living index will rise by 8% before the end of 1974.

A roller coaster year for the stock market: up and down,. up and down . . .

New U.S. uranium discoveries will cause prices to soar.

Miniaturization of atomic power plants will be big news.

World-wide—politically—this will be known as the "year of the assassins."

Incidents of police brutality and harrassment will cause a re-evaluation of the Fourth Amendment by the Supreme Court.

Eddie Albert will win an Oscar for Best Supporting Actor in The Longest Yard, which co-stars Burt Reynolds.

CHAPTER 20

BEVERLY C. JAEGERS

Psychic Detective

Beverly Jaegers, the mother of six children, heads a team of St. Louis seers who compose the Psychic Rescue Squad. Believed to be the only organization of its kind, the Psychic Rescue Squad has found phenomenal success in locating missing children and lost bodies. Mrs. Jaegers organized the group as a last resort for people with problems. "The group was also organized so that we could prove that ESP is a real thing and can be useful," Mrs. Jaegers stated. "We're also proving that psychics can work together as a team and have excellent success."

Juvenile authorities in St. Louis recently contacted the Psychic Rescue Squad for help in the case of Charles Hale, a missing six-year-old boy believed to have been murdered. "Mrs. Jaegers said she felt the boy was in a certain area. She said he was near a hospital and his body was lying on the walkway of a vacant nursing home," juvenile officer Charles Kirkwood told reporters. "We found him within one block of that area."

Mrs. Jaeger's group consists of 17 St. Louis members. There are in addition 20 affiliated members around the country who act as consultants. They use a variety of psychic techniques—from astrology and meditation, to handwriting analysis.

Locating runaway teenagers is another specialty of their psychic "hotline." A St. Louis couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins, requested that Mrs. Jaegers and the group help locate their 13-year-old daughter, Jannae. The girl had been missing for three months. "They held a special session for us. We were asked to bring some items that belonged to Jannae," Mrs. Collins told a reporter from the National Tattler. "Some of the psychics there said that Jannae had a throat problem—which was true. They also reported that she was alive, was well, and living in California. They also said that Kansas City was somehow connected with their impressions. The group concluded that Jannae would be home within two months—by September 28."

Mrs. Collins stated that her daughter returned home on September 29. "The delay was caused by a disrupted bus schedule," the mother said. "Jannae had been in Kansas City before going on to California."

Mrs. Jaegers stresses that she learned all the types of ESP she uses. "The students are now learning from me," she explained. "I have taught hundreds of people. What I really want to do is to set up classes for law enforcement people, government agencies and other people who can truly use ESP."

Readers may get in touch with Mrs. Jaegers or the Psychic Rescue Squad by writing to The Psychical Training and Research Center, 2723 Sutton, Maplewood, Missouri 64143.

In addition to her personal forecasts for the future, Mrs. Jaeger has included predictions from her students.

Predictions from Beverly C. Jaegers:

Nothing much new on UFOs.

The economy will be doing an about-face in some ways, with October 1974 into mid-spring 1975 as the key period.

Inflation will continue for some time before stabilizing.

There will be increased revolts among farmers and stock breeders.

Import and export of food will be chancy . . . not a business to get into just yet.

Automobile prices will astonish many.

Weather conditions around the globe will continue to be abnormal and freakish. There is a change in the Earth's magnetic fields going on right now, slowly, not catastrophically. Weather everywhere will be unreliable, unpredictable and downright dangerous. The east coast and Gulf areas can expect trouble.

Africa's problems will escalate with drought and pest conditions causing unrest and uprisings. A new conflict there.

Stock market: No depression, just roller-coaster techniques until October. Stocks in plastics will do something surprising. As predicted several years ago and still, mining and all underground ventures are good and will stay so for some time. Land and real estate still the best of all investments. Watch coal, electronics and foods stocks.

Political: At this point, there is no future for the American political system. It will be reworked and revamped in an effort to bring back the faith of the man in the street, but without success for almost four and a half years. Many are deliberately misunderstanding Nixon's moves toward world stabilization. When the noise and hullaballoo of the next election is over, many will be bewailing their plight.

I don't see the best of years for John Wayne.

Some Women's Lib leaders will be found to have extremely strange codes of behavior.

A famous movie star will admit a life of alcohol and drug addiction.

Chappaquiddick in the papers again; and many will be looking very closely at Ted Kennedy.

Consumer Affairs: Many new "pseudo-shortages" will arise, with no more foundation than those we have had. The consumer will become a hardened cynic.

More high-level and low-level conflicts over vitamins and additives in goods.

More coverups will be brought to light.

The American public will revolt against auto shoulderbelts and mass disconnections will take place as they feel their constitutional rights are being violated.

Student affairs will be quiet. Colleges will continue to be places of study and learning for a time.

No major changes in fashions. Both men's and women's fashions will trend to the conservative. The long or maxi-dress will remain fashionable for afternoon and street wear.

The big news will be in handbags and jewelry, both of which will become almost unwearably heavy. A new fabric which emits some sort of flourescence or light will be available for those with money to spend on avant-garde fashions. Shoes will return to being shoes, not springboards!

Medical discoveries include more cancer cures, a type of treatment with magnetic fields, acupuncture/anesthesia experiments in large teaching hospitals, and a breakthrough of some sort in leukemia.

More apparent insanity and retardation will be found to be deficiency-related. Simple vitamin therapy will release victims from their problems.

Earth changes: Earthquakes will continue to occur as the magnetic fields of the earth change slowly. The southern hemisphere is in for more strong shocks. Weather patterns will change perceptibly during 1974 and 1975. The east coast seems to be going to get more storms and rain than is normal.

Midwestern weather norms will not be norms, and weather bureaus will be hard put to keep up with sudden weather changes.

Watch for something interesting involving airlines.

Some changes in the military. New training and enlistment processes.

Prison revolts will be in the news.

A major plane crash in Europe, another in the Orient. One seems to be in the water.

A hospital or nursing home fire seems to be imminent, and several large buildings will collapse.

There will be some changes in finances and something about gold and silver seems to be cropping up.

A fantastic new early-detection system for cancer and tumors will be studied.

More fuel and energy crises will arise, but will taper off gradually as supply and demand stabilize. New energy sources will be developed and several large midwestern chemical companies will be in the forefront of discoveries. More atomic electrical plants will be built with no incidents or prob lems.

Psychic Scene: More and more kooks and radicals will be exposed or will be forced to shut down operations. Actual ESP (extra sensory perception) will become the focus of some solid study. Police training methods will be gradually infiltrated by psychic and semi-psychic training.

Employment prospects will become much worse, then will take an upswing in the spring of 1975 due to an optimistic trend. New processes will create new jobs, and some large companies will receive contracts which will create many more jobs. Small businesses will come to a close all over America, leaving the field to the larger chains.

Edward Howard:

Edward is a Tarot card expert and trained psychic developed by the training programs at the Psychical Research Center of St. Louis. In the past, he has predicted many events accurately. On record was the California bridge which collapsed while under construction in 1973. Ed studied ESP, meditation, mind control and Tarot with Bevy Jaegers, using Tarot not as a predictive device, but to show trends and patterns. His best predictions have come while in a state of controlled meditation. "Ed Howard is living proof that ESP can be taught and successfully learned by controlled training," Bevy states.

Ecology: autumn floods for the midwest will destroy the winter wheat crop; this is coupled with freezing rain. Mideast coastal states will be hit by unusual nonseasonal storms; this is followed by closing of some beaches due to water pollution and poisoning. Ecology groups will of necessity form an international alliance and appeal to the United Nations for inspection and police powers. There is threatened extinction or near extinction of a species of whale near the end of 1975.

Psychic: Parapsychologists will use testing equipment on a long time basis on those practicing the martial arts to understand bio-energy and abnormal physical reactions in the human body. Medical and psi researchers both will be interested in the pineal gland. Look for increased speculations and controversy due to surgical operations on those with ESP ability.

A psychic will propose a new type of development based on yogi principles. However those students involved will become disenchanted as there will be no immediate development and those that do develop will find their abilities decreasing over a period of time.

Energy: Solar energy will continue to be an area of study. However nothing will be in the hands of non-official engineers and lay inventors. A major study will combine solar energy and non-polluting automobiles. I see some type of panels on hoods of cars.

Earth shifts: The normal weather patterns will appear to be some 30 to 45 days behind the expected pattern.

ESP: A new type of ESP found among children will be of special interest; especially among the mature researchers looking for a way to develop this talent.

Medical: A male birth control device created in Sweden will be rejected in U.S. as being unsafe. The device is in liquid form and is taken orally.

The following predictions are those of a group of basic ESP students, graduates of their first semester:

Student P.B.: Major changes will concern our energy sources and our food supplies.

Pioneer space probes will reveal some startling and amazing revelations; a very different but real form of life on Jupiter.

Israeli influence and power will become stronger. A new leader will emerge—powerful, but not a dictator.

Student F.A.: This country will retain the two-party system, but there will be definite changes in our governmental structure.

There will be more information on UFOs.

More definitive cancer cures and treatments will be found.

Temperatures will be news, becoming milder in winter in temperate zones.

Floods and quakes will continue.

Ted Kennedy will be in the news as a world leader.

Student M.K.: There will be a new, more tightly controlled faction in politics who will gain a wide following and acceptance. The situation could result in changing the two-party system eventually. The man this group would select as their nominee has had to make a major decision to leave his original party.

A major breakthrough on cancer cures derived from a simple garden plant. Rabbits will also furnish a major clue as the left leg of a rabbit has an unusual but valuable substance for use in curing cancer. No one cure will be found, but a more simplified way of diagnosing various types of cancer will be available in five years or less.

A major earthquake will rock the center of U.S.A., changing some portions of the Mississippi and widening it a great deal at some points.

Nixon will fade into obscurity and later history will reveal the true facts of Watergate which will show that, while he did not instigate it, he certainly knew of the coverup.

Arab leaders will force a stronger voice on world leadership which will cause a great strain between UN and Israel. This will cause increased tension in all corners of the world.

A synthetic for real food will be perfected. It will taste and smell almost identical.

Student A.S.: There is danger of conflict with Russia.

Basically, the two party system will stand, but I believe people (the people) will be more involved and heads of judiciary cannot make decisions because of political pressures in the future.

We will discover life on one or more of the planets in 1975.

Some breakthroughs not only on cancer but arthritis; more acceptance of acupuncture; new findings on body deficiencies. I see doctors working with psychics.

There will be more quakes, tremors and tornadoes, doing great damage and causing the South to be colder and the North to be warmer. These changes will occur fairly rapidly.

I feel China and Egypt pushing for leadership. They will gain power by pressure.

Student R.L.C.: I see a lot more earthquakes with serious ones in the central and midwestern states around September 1974 to spring 1975.

Springfield, Ill., will be epicenter for a serious earthquake.

There may be a lot more flying saucers and actual landing reports, including creatures emerging. They will be reported as quiet, methodical, slow-moving people. Also friendly. Utah will be a prominent place for this sort of event.

Student M.H.: There will be a naval battle in the Mediterranean Sea—and some escalation of war in Mideast. Russia and the U.S. will be involved.

Earth changes: a volcanic eruption in Mediterranean; more volcanic eruptions in the Pacific; I see a tidal wave or waves and catastrophe in the Tierra Del Fuego area of South America.

CHAPTER 21

OLOF JONSSON

Psychic Engineer

Chicago's Olof Jonsson is frequently referred to as the "psychic engineer." His ability to test high on extra sensory perception tests has made Jonsson a favorite among scientific parapsychologists in both America and Europe.

During the past few years, Jonsson has performed ESP tests under controlled laboratory conditions in clairvoyance, telepathy, precognition, psychometry, and psychokenesis. He has also given demonstrations before hundreds of public and private groups. His ability to guess the famed Zener ESP cards led to Jonsson being selected as the psychic in the historic Apollo 14 ESP experiment. Jonsson was tested by a doctor prior to the space flight, an evaluation process to find a psychic to transmit and receive messages from astronaut Edgar Mitchell. Jonsson correctly identified a run of 23 out of 25 cards. He then selected a perfect 25 out of 25 random cards for the doctor.

Olof Jonsson's predictions in the January 13 issue of the National Enquirer accurately forecast the resignation of Israeli premier Golda Meir. His forecast read: "Continued trouble in the Middle East will force Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir to resign from the office within the year." Mrs. Meir resigned as leader of her government on April 10.

Mr. Johnson's forecasts for 1975 are:

There will be an earthquake in California about the middle of 1975.

China will have a new leader in the coming year.

Personal contacts with UFO occupants will be in the news.

Jack Benny will make headlines this coming year.

Miss Patricia Hearst will be back to a normal life. She will be in prison for a while.

A well-known movie star will die.

There will be a new leader in Formosa.

CHAPTER 22

REV. KATHERINE KIMBROUGH

California Psychic

Rev. Katherine Kimbrough (P. O. Box 1091, Hollywood, Cal. 90028) has been a psychic since childhood. "However, my home was very orthodox in religion and I had to hide my talents," she related. "Anything connected with the psychic was considered the work of the devil. I can recall helping an adult find a lost article, then be accused of fibbing because I was supposed to have hidden the article. After several experiences like that, I kept my psychic abilities hidden and to myself."

Minister and counselor of the Little Shrine of the Open Heart in Long Beach, Cal., Rev Kimbrough travels widely giving lectures on ESP and psychic phenomena. She also teaches how to obtain a more rewarding life through her Three Point Philosophy of Action.

Rev. Kimbrough also helps people by her work with "lifescopes," seeing their past lives in reincarnation. "I can see a person's past lives and this helps to explain the present," she said. "The problems and hang-ups of today are often related to the past incarnations. By knowing when, who and where one has lived before, a person is able to obtain better understanding of this life."

Readers may contact Rev. Kimbrough by writing to Post Office Box 1091, Hollywood, Cal.

The predictions for 1975 by Rev. Kimbrough include:

The political scene will be one of chaos, and if the Republicans ever turn the tables it will make Watergate look like a Sunday School picnic. Many famous heads are hoping they will escape.

Sudden death removes three well-known political figures, one is a shroud of mystery.

The money system will be changed. Gold will be offered as our standard again. There is more gold under the old "ghost towns" than has ever been discovered.

Ted Kennedy will be heard more and more. He wants to run for President but has a deep fear of the "Old Kennedy Curse."

Governor Wallace will surprise many by his popularity.

Governor Reagan, of California, will emerge as a Republican contender.

Sammy Davis Jr. has a few rough spots ahead.

Dean Martin will have marital trouble and should watch his health.

Richard Burton should also watch his health.

Four old time figures in the entertainment world will pass away.

Many changes will come to the theater and the movies due to younger ticket buyers.

There will be a great progress in "back yard" gardening through new development in "quick" growing of fruits and vegetables using little or no water.

There will be a food shortage around the world but the U.S.A. will be the least affected.

World population will become of grave concern. Look for plans to control births. There will be more stress on quality than quantity.

A test tube monster will be produced in 1975.

China and the Middle East will remain the "powder keg."

The climate will change with many freak weather conditions. Many hurricanes, tornadoes and floods can be expected.

Water pollution and lack of water will be a problem. Science will seek remedies for these and will find some.

Fashions will not be the chief topic of women, but men will become more fashion conscious and will bedeck themselves in exotic colors, wear more jewelry and use more perfume and toiletries.

Women's Liberation will continue to attract certain types of female and will eventually prove beneficial to the working woman.

Medical research will reveal many unusual connections between "mind and body." Great discoveries will be made in ESP, psychic phenomena and spiritualism. This will result in different methods of treatment.

There will be great interest in reincarnation.

Religion will be revived and several "new" or young leaders will arise to carry the message. Even Russia will "awaken."

Jackie and Onassis will continue to make news, but Ari's health will bear watching. Jackie loves him more than many believe.

The stock market will continue its ups and downs. Real estate is still the best buy.

UFO's will continue to be of great interest and some unexpected discoveries will be made in this field.

Crime will climb as the population increases, but law enforcement will become more strict.

There will be the usual strikes, but the economy continues to climb.

The industrial market will bring forth many new inventions, some worth while and some not. One gas saver will have a hard time getting on the market because of "big companies" blocking it.

People in general will learn not to eat so many snacks, cereals, boxed foods, candies etc. Their weight problem will disappear in proportion to their self-discipline.

India will continue to have internal problems of famine, floods and over-population.

More study about sunlight and its needed effect on the vision is offered in the experiments of Dr. John Ott with plant life. According to Dr. Ott, man needs the benefit of natural sunlight without glasses of any kind. More people will be using the "pin hole Stenopic spectacles" to reduce eye fatigue, alleviate glare and relax the eye. This method has long been used in Russia, China and by the Eskimos. I predict these will become very fashionable in the U.S.

1975 will see the rise of several new stars in the entertainment world and the "retirement" of several old favorites.

The Gabors will make news with another wedding in the family.

The individual will find stress, tension and inflation claiming his attention.

There will be great interest in religion, a new kind of "faith in practice." Reincarnation and spiritualism and "ghost hunting" will share in this interest. Warning: Witchcraft, Voodoo and Black Magic should be avoided.

Kidnapping, both real and faked, will increase. The Hearst case will remain a mystery for a long time.

Plastic surgeons will be in great demand by both male and female as the procedures are made easier.

All in all, 1975 has much to look forward to that is good and exciting.

CHAPTER 23

KOMAR

Master of Mind Control

Komar, 323 Ihrig Avenue, Wooster, Ohio 44691, is one of the most unusual psychics on our panel of prognosticators. Komar is internationally known for his feats of mind control. The Guinness Book of Records credits Komar with three world's records—one for having spent the longest time on a bed of sharp steel nails. The second record is for supporting 1200 pounds of weight on his body while lying on the bed of nails.

Komar credits his performance of these amazing feats to mind control. "I became interested in the subject when I helped Senator Ted Kennedy with his Special Olympics for retarded children," Komar said. "I learned that retarded people use only a fraction of their brain power, that average people use only about 10% of their brain's abilities. I decided to try and extend myself as far as possible beyond that 10% range."

Komar can demonstrate an incredible ability to control pain or intense physical discomfort. His third world's record occurred when he laid on his bed of nails while a half-ton vehicle was driven up a ramp and over his chest. "I believe I use mind control," Komar explained, "although I'm not certain exactly how it works."

Recently Komar was tested by Dr. C. Norman Shealy at the Pain Rehabilitation Center at St. Francis Hospital in LaCrosse, Wis. Komar (real name: Vernon C. Craig) went to LaCrosse at his own expense to obtain a medical evaluation of his ability to withstand pain.

Following a total work-up of neurological tests, Dr. Shealy determined that Komar did not have congenital analgesia, a rare condition where people are born with no physical awareness of pain. In the next test, Komar's arm was wrapped with a tourniquet that shut off the flow of blood. Although most people would have experienced intense agony within 100 seconds, Komar felt no pain after five minutes. The second test created no pain even though Komar plunged his arm into a container of ice water for 2½ minutes.

Other tests included:

Plunging a 19-gauge needle through Komar's bicep.

Shocking Komar with a battery powered electric rod. Komar withstood maximum charge.

Controlled breathing, whereby Komar slowed his breathing down to two breaths a minute over a five-minute interval.

Following the additional tests, Dr. Shealy determined that Komar dissociated himself from pain by altering his consciousness. He explained that Komar mentally detaches himself from the pain by going into the alpha state of brain activity.

Komar will be undergoing further tests at a large university this year. "If we find out how I'm able to withstand pain, then we may be able to alleviate a large part of human suffering," Komar said.

His list of forecasts for 1975 include:

For the next six years starting in 1975, the world will undergo many great strifes and conflicts. This starts an era that will see wars escalated, new wars started as well as many natural catastrophes such as earthquakes, tidal waves, etc. Watch out for a possible world conflict which seems to be quickened during such down periods that we will be undergoing.

If we think we have had shortages in the 1973-74 period, this was only a sample of what is to come during 1975-76. Food will become a scarce commodity and many items will soar out of reach of many poor people as well as those who are not so poor. Shoes will be another item which will be scarce and much more expensive.

I see some major happenings in the Middle East. Russia will become more entangled in the affairs in that area of the world. It appears that Russia may be entering into some form of treaty with the Arab nations. This will produce some very unusual situations with the U.S. that they should watch what they are doing very carefully. All is not well despite the news releases on Kissinger's trips to those countries.

I see some very dire times ahead for us with Gerald Ford in office. Politically he may be well-suited as vice-president, but the office of President is a somewhat bigger jump. I see us unfavorably involved with Russia under his regime if this step happens.

Queen Elizabeth of England will make an announcement during 1975 about stepping down so that Prince Charles may become King. This announcement will come after either the wedding of the prince or an agreement to a marriage contract is made. Incidentally, the prince will not be marrying a commoner.

Now that the government has accepted the theory of UFOs since we have had so many sightings, we will be bearing more about them this year. There will be one of the biggest breakthroughs during 1975. Everyone will be surprised at the announcement to be made by a recognized scientist who will make contact with them. We will have a closer understanding of the what, why and wherefore of UFOs. Look for some very revealing evidence.

Look for postal rates to go up again.

As the drought situation in Africa eases up this year, look for drought conditions to hit many Asian countries.

Frank Sinatra will wed again this year. He should be very careful in whatever he does this year, as I see him developing a very bad health problem.

Since the sighting of an object resting in the ice on top of Mount Ararat, much interest focuses on this object as the Ark that Noah of the Bible reputably built. An exploration team to this site will be disillusioned as they find out that the object isn't what it appeared to be.

I see Lucie Arnaz, the daughter of Lucille Ball and Desi

Arnaz, Sr., involved in what appears to be a Broadway musical play. She will become a tremendous success in this venture. I see many contracts offered her after this undertaking. They will be very challenging and she may go on to win an Oscar within the next three years.

The Kennedys will be making bigger news than ever this year as events surrounding the two killings of John and Bobby is brought under investigation. Facts will reveal that there was a lot more to this situation than has met the eye. Some very important people may have been behind the scenes directing the assassinations as the investigation will disclose. Many facts surrounding the killings will be revealed this year.

Early in the year California will be hit by another severe earthquake in the southern part of the state. This one will be harder than the ones that normally hit the state each year. It isn't anything uncommon for a California quake since they are hit by an average of 36-40 each year, mostly very minor or just tremors. This one will see property loss and a few lives.

There is very bad feeling about Billy Graham. I think that he should be extremely careful of his health this year and not overdo things. It appears that he may have a heart attack or some other serious illness before the year's end.

During the next six years the economy will ride the waves of the ups and downs we will be undergoing. During 1975 the economical system seems to worsen even more than during the last few years. Look for further devaluations of money, more soaring prices with wages not moving fast enough to keep up with the purchase power of the dollar.

I see Bette Davis making big news--it looks as though this will be in the entertainment area. She makes a decision that will appear to give her a second come-back. This is a wise move for her because she will come to know fame even greater than in her earlier years. The young people will love her.

More studies by scientists in the area of ESP and the psychic realm will produce evidences that they do exist. These studies have been going on at the present time, but will be even greater because of a single person who suddenly appears from out of nowhere seemingly and submits himself to the testing programs. A new piece of equipment that will be able to test people to see if they have psychic abilities will be introduced during this testing program. It will be the most sophisticated piece of equipment for measuring man's potential than has been used before. After this year's breakthrough more refined equipment will be introduced in less than two years that will aid doctors not only in these studies, but in work with the mentally ill. This will be one of the greatest finds of many years.

I see something strange happening with television. I can't quite see it clearly enough to define it, but I think this will happen during 1975. It could be some kind of a control on what is aired or what isn't. I'm not sure at this writing but I know it will be something big.

Even though Governor George Wallace claims he will be able to walk soon, I cannot see this happening in the foreseeable future. He may run for President in 1976 but will again be defeated.

Look for Ronald Reagan to appear on the vice-presidential ticket in the 1976 elections. I do not see him as president.

John Wayne, Bob Hope and Ari Onassis will be making news in the same way during the year—not together, but because of the same problem.

Fidel Castro will not be head of the Cuban government by the end of 1975. There is something brewing in this country that we should look into further. A change there will not necessarily mean a change for the better, with our relationships with Cuba. Some major changes will be occurring which will affect all the countries in the area of Cuba.

There will be a new treatment for severe cases of cancer that may turn out to be a cure for the dread sickness. This particular treatment is being used today experimentally. After it is recognized, improvement will need to be made to perfect it to its fullest potential. Some minor forms of cancer are being cured today. The ones I speak of are the incurable cases. 1975 will bring a great hope and a promise for the people who are afflicted. Along with this we will see man conquering the common cold. I get the very strong feeling that colds and the treatment for them is based on a psychological problem rather than entirely on a virus or some other "bug." Further discoveries and developments in the area of senility will also be making big news soon.

DOROTHY SPENCE LAUER

Psychometric Prophet

Dorothy Spence Lauer is well known as a psychometrist. Editor Ray Palmer of Search magazine wrote about her psychic ability. ". . . Thus, we knew that Dorothy was predicting the death of the President (Kennedy). In fact, she had warned us several times in the past that he would die. She was right about the Pope. She was right about several movie stars. We have been publishing the predictions of Dorothy Spence Lauer for nearly ten years now. During that time she has established herself as the most accurate prognosticator we have ever encountered."

"Please explain to anyone who wrote me last year and didn't receive an answer that we had a mail robbery," said Dorothy Spence Lauer. "Many letters more than a year old are just being delivered to me now." Two brothers stole 55,000 letters before being apprehended by postal inspectors. They were stealing the mail for the cash they could find enclosed with the letters.

Mrs. Lauer creates her predictions through psychometry. "I prefer to hold an object in my hand that belongs to, or was handled by, the person I'm reading," she explained. "I can then obtain impressions of their future."

Readers may contact Mrs. Lauer at P. O. Box 637, Glendora, Cal. 19740.

Her predictions for the future include:

Many well-known stars will pass on from cancer before 1975 is over.

Inflation will be on the rise in 1975. A decline will come later toward 1976.

Look for many unusual conditions in the weather. Florida will be quite cool and Texas will have tornadoes and one earthquake.

The drought in Africa will extend somewhat, but this will not be permanent.

Stock market: No real depression, but I would advise everyone to go slow on stocks.

The political system may suffer more scandal—much more. Watergate will still uncover much that may be tried to cover up. One person in this may commit suicide as the pressure will be just too much for him to bear.

A well-known designer will pass away suddenly.

Look for a new idea in automobiles that will be quite the thing, but too expensive for the average person.

Food shortages will be in beef. Some vegetables will be hurt by a bad crop, and be hard to get and very expensive.

Movies will be toned down as even the young people will be getting tired of such movies as the Exorcist.

People will turn more and more to religion. Many crusades will prove beneficial to the young as they will come to the conclusion that they must cling to that which is good.

A well-known psychic will also pass on and be missed by those who loved her.

New travel in space will be successful.

Three disasters with ships and three with planes in 1975.

Crime may be on the uptrend. The SLA will be running wild. It will not be safe for people on the streets. Mostly in the neighborhood where the shootout took place.

Patty Hearst will not give up. She feels she is indeed Tanya—I cannot say I have the best feeling for her. She will pass by people on the street and they will not even recognize her. The Harris couple will be with her. They will be quiet until they need to rob a bank again. They may travel to Georgia, Texas and back to California.

Many unusual fires will break out, especially in the California hills. At least three of them will be arson.

Also a large paper manufacturing company may need protection as many tons of paper will be stolen in a most unusual way.

Peter Kurkos will be in the headlines.

A revolutionary new permanent wave will be easy for the operator and long lasting.

One well-known evangelist will talk to Nixon and have some wonderful news to report about their conversation.

Governor Wallace will have a much better recovery than he thinks. He has a good chance in politics.

AL G. MANNING

Forecasts from the ESP Lab

Al Manning, a business executive turned psychic, directs the unique ESP Laboratory where research into the paranormal is conducted. After earning his degree in business administration and a Phi Beta Kappa key, Al Manning was an executive vice-president of several aerospace firms. He gave up a promising business career to devote his time and energy to delving into the mysteries of the occult.

Besides his work as a Certified Public Accountant, and his experiments, Al is the author of several books. They include: Helping Yourself with White Witchcraft; The Miracle of Universal Psychic Power; Helping Yourself with Psycho-Cosmic Power; and The Miraculous Laws of Universal Dynamics (all published by Parker Publishing Co., West Nyack, N.Y.)

Readers may write to Al Manning and learn more about his experiments and work by sending a stamped, self-addressed enveloped to the ESP Lab, 7559 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles, Cal. 90096.

Working with his psychic guide, Professor Reinhardt, Al Manning makes these forecasts for the coming year:

1975 will be a year of quiet conservatism marked by a significant reduction of the rate of inflation. In the United States, as well as the rest of the world, there will be a slowing of the economic growth rate, but nothing that could be called depression. Economically we could call this the year of the "plodder" rather than the "Whiz Kid." The conservative approach to everything will be emphasized—conservatism will be literally the leader and director of all aspects of life.

U.S. National Mood: The mood of the people of the United States will be toward the outdoors, nature, away from thoughts of politics and international affairs. The trend of basic thinking will be back to nature—away from sophistication. This, from the economic standpoint will bring a boost to the outdoor vacation industries. We see water sports being greatly enhanced, a boom in both boating and swim equipment. Wet suits, scuba gear and things of this nature will be highly popular with more and more people—in general, with more people looking toward the outdoors, the beach, sunshine, trees and away from the thoughts of the smoke-filled room.

Ecology will begin a strong recovery from the blows it received in the 1974 oil crisis with the conservative approach of all people being: "Let us strive now to have both ecology and prosperity" with logical conservation measures gaining broad general acceptance. Very few people will be as wasteful of natural resources as before. This is a combination of education and research with people seeking to live with a minimum disturbance of the environmental ecology in general.

Stock and Commodity Markets: We see the Dow Jones industrial average ranging between the mid 800's and the high 900's, during 1975 with a peak in May, tailing off but rebuilding to a higher peak in October. Selectively the vacation type stocks, all boat builders and mobile home stocks will be on the improved list with airlines and transportation in general improving, also. We will say that these should do better than the market as a whole. As the rate of inflation slows down and utility rate adjustments are completed—catch up—the tradition of the utility stock as a conservative and safe investment will also find resurgence. There will be a general stabilization of utility profits and values as has been the custom of the country for so many years.

Generally good world wide crops will assist the slowing of the inflation rate and tend to add some degree of stability to the commodity markets. This is a more nearly balanced market—in particular the grain and pork bellies will show a considerable degree of stability, good for the economy but somewhat boring for the speculative investor.

Interest: the prime rate will drop below 10% by April of '75 and stay roughly in the 9 to 10 percent range for most of the remainder of the year, with the last part of '75 showing the rate in the 8-to 9 percent range.

Medicine: The growing success and popularity of acupuncture will lead to significant research grants. These will begin a new approach to the study of the human body from the medical sense, picturing the body more fully as a set of energy fields than as groups of cells and organs. This will start a whole new trend away from excessively strong drugs with their multiple side effects toward more nearly homeopathic remedies and in general, the application of smaller and smaller doses of medicine but increased use of low voltage electricity and weak magnetic fields for healing.

The necessity to consider the totality of the organism in advanced healing methods will add a fresh glamor to the term "General Practitioner" and will tend to glamorize the "country doctor" image with less and less emphasis upon overspecialization. There will be major announcements of breakthroughs in the understanding and treatment of several types of cancer. Many more doctors will learn that acupuncture is a specific cure for most forms of arthritis and many sufferers will be greatly relieved in this process.

International Affairs: The broad sweep of conservatism will carry over into international affairs with the major powers handling each other cautiously, therefore with a minimum of international tensions or threats to peace. But the emerging nations, the young and struggling nations of the world, will have quite a different picture. We touch a major revolution in Borneo and at least three political assassinations on the African continent.

The Psychic World: It will be discovered or strongly rumored that the Russian secret police have a corps of trained psychics for political and military espionage. This should lead to a major push into psychic research in this country on the basis of counter-intelligence. This will lead within a short time to a practical scientific vindication of the techniques of ceremonial magic as well as a more general acceptance of clairvoyance, clairaudience and other forms of mediumship.

Zingers: A divorce, as apparently sudden as the wedding, seems to be in store for Henry Kissinger approximately June of 1975.

The name Kassabubu emerges as a major leader and statesman within the African continent.

Some private papers in the nature of a diary of Wiley Post, the noted pilot of the '30's, will reveal notes of an encounter with a UFO.

1975 will see multiple UFO sightings but no official recognition by any world government nor any significant change in degree of communication.

Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the nationalist Chinese movement for so many years, will pass quietly and will be buried almost unheralded, marking the final end of his era and his hope for return to the Chinese mainland.

Summary: In summarizing we may classify 1975 as the year of quiet progress; of plodding conservatism, producing unspectacular but positive results with a general return to stability of economic conditions, both national and international; with quiet strides in science, the psychic, medicine and business; but with little to say about the year in retrospect except that it has been a nice quiet year of reasonable progress. Indeed the world is ready for one of these at this time.

DR. LEO LOUIS MARTELLO

Wica and Witchcraft

Dr. Leo Louis Martello is the director of the Witches Anti-Defamation League, founder of the Witches' Liberation Movement, and editor of Wica Newsletter and Witchcraft Digest. Dr. Martello is the author of 15 books, including Witchcraft: The Old Religion, a selection of the Mystic Arts Books Club. He has been initiated into four different Old Religion traditions. In 1970, backed by the American Civil Liberties Union, he challenged the New York City Park Department's refusal to grant him a permit for a "witch-in" on Halloween. Faced by Dr. Martello's challenge, the park board hastily withdrew their objections and gave him a permit for the event. This was the first class action civil rights victory for witches, according to Dr. Martello.

Because of the demands on his time, Dr. Martello is not available to the public; but lectures occasionally before college audiences. Dr. Martello runs the Wica Books Service, which specializes in books on Witchcraft and the Old Religion. Anyone who sends him a stamped, self-addressed envelope will receive a list of his books. Among Dr. Martello's published works are: How To Prevent Psychic Blackmail; Understanding the Tarot; The Hidden World of Hypnotism, Black Magic, Satanism, and Voodoo; What It Means To Be A Witch; Witches Liberation and A Guide to Covens; It's in the Cards; and It's in the Stars. Readers may contact Dr. Martello at Suite 1B, 153 West 80th St., New York, N.Y. 10024.

His predictions are:

National Affairs: Henry Kissinger's Mid-East peace treaty with Israel and the Arab countries will be under attack since it cost American taxpayers billions of dollars. It was not "diplomacy" but dollars that brought this temporary "peace." Kissinger's public image and his "power behind the scenes" will be diminished when his involvement in the Watergate-related scandals is exposed. His backing of ex-Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican candidate for the Presidency will result in defeat.

A Democrat will be President in 1976.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, the Black Liberation Army, the Weathermen, and three other revolutionary groups unknown to the public, will be responsible for more kidnappings of famous people or politicians, bombings, killings of policemen and attempts of assassinations.

The Gay Rights bill which was defeated in New York in 1974 by three votes, will be passed in 1975. The opposition of the Catholic Church to this bill, granting the right to work to homosexuals in New York, will be the basis of numerous suits filed against them to eliminate their tax-free privileges. A by-product of this issue will be an underground of Gay Guerillas and one of their targets will be a councilman from Queens. St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City will be the scene of sit-ins, pickets and demonstrations.

Vietnam veterans who served in Southeast Asia and came home to ingratitude will become more radicalized. They will join the fight for amnesty for those who deserted or refused to fight. Many paraplegics in wheelchairs will head a march on Washington.

In 1973 I was the only one who predicted that a lone pilot will try to bomb the White House. This happened though most of the media hushed it up. I now see another trying it again. The Hall of Justice, courts, IRS offices, and police stations will be the target of bombs throughout the country.

Palestinian guerillas will continue to use terrorist tactics to regain their land. The "peace treaty" with Syria, Egypt, Jordan and Lebanon means nothing to the Palestinian refugees since the individual countries gain economically by it—from the U.S.—and they still are homeless. For 25 years they protested to the world and no one listened, until they used force (as they feel it was used against them). Thus the world's indifference to their plight has made them recognize "the virtue in violence" (the same is true of all the underground, radical or revolutionary groups throughout the world). Though open warfare may temporarily stop between Israel and the Arab countries, the basic issues are unresolved and there can never be any real peace in that area until they are. There will be growing support for the Palestinians by many groups in the U.S., some seeing them in the same way that our own Indians have been treated.

Iran and Iraq will have border clashes. Iran supports the nomadic Kurds in guerilla warfare against the Iraqian regime. The latter country's secret agents will attempt to assassinate the Shah.

The African drought will continue and over 100,000 will starve to death or die of related causes. Bureaucratic bumbling, greed and inefficiency will contribute to the deaths in many countries. Feudal land barons in Ethiopia will be killed. The drought will taper off by March of 1975.

Rhodesia's white supremacist policies, whereby five and a half million Africans are ruled by 255,000 whites, will lead to a racial blood bath. Prime Minister Ian Smith's repressive apartheid, censorship of the press, and totalitarian regime will eventually crumble. Highly trained African guerillas will resort to mass killings of white Rhodesians, on the style of the Mau Mau. The U.S. supports the Rhodesian government via its economic trade, and the Sen. Harry Byrd bill (which authorizes the import of strategic metals). This bill will be under attack as a fraud since the major metal imported is chrome and this is easily obtained elsewhere. Rhodesia will one day be called by its African name, Zimbabwe.

Martha Mitchell will host a TV show, write a book and a syndicated column.

Rona Barrett's marriage will not last. She will write a new book, travel to Europe and appear in a movie.

Gore Vidal will write a sensational autobiography.

The Maharaj Ji disciples will desert him in droves. Law suits going into hundreds of thousands of dollars will be filed against him for unpaid debts.

Dick Gregory will charge that many celebrities who supported Nixon, both black and white, were blackmailed into it by the Internal Revenue Service.

Zeudi Araya, Ethiopian movie star of Italian films, called "the most beautiful black woman in the world" and who was "Miss Ethiopia of 1969" will make her American film debut.

Bob Guccione, publisher of Penthouse Magazine, archrival of Playboy, will set up worldwide Penthouse Clubs. His magazine will surpass Playboy, going to over six million subscribers.

Tom Snyder of the NBC Tomorrow TV show will be given another daytime show of his own, or co-host one, possibly the Today show.

Pope Paul VI will be seriously ill. I also see another Pope Leo in the future.

Johnny Carson's marriage is shaky. His Tonight show will still be No. 1. However by 1976 he will want out.

Frank Sinatra did make his comeback as I predicted in 1973. He will make a national personal appearance tour and be involved in more legal battles.

Joan Rivers will be called "the wittiest woman in America" by her comedic peers. Her new book will be a bestseller.

James Purdy, iconoclastic author with a huge cult-following, will write his first nonfiction book.

Sammy Davis Jr. who was knighted by the Knights of Malta on June 11, 1974 (as was black singer Freda Payne before him) will insist on being called "Sir." The Knights of Malta is an ecumenical order honoring men and women of achievement in all fields or for their humanitarian work, with Protestants, Catholics and Jews represented. This ancient Order, headed by Prince Bassaraba von Brancovan, will make news in 1975.

Merv Griffin will marry again and he will either finance or produce a movie.

Mike Douglas will do more on-location shows in Las Vegas, Florida, Hawaii etc. His father will be seriously ill and have an operation.

E. Howard Hunt, Jr., convicted Watergate burglar, former CIA agent, architect of the Bay of Pigs fiasco, will write his "Memoirs."

CHAPTER 27

DR. ERNESTO MONTGOMERY

Renowned Black Psychic

Doctor Ernesto Montgomery, a nationally known black psychic, was born in Jamaica in 1925 and, as a young man, became aware of his growing psychic powers. After attending school in the West Indies and the United States, Dr. Montgomery served with a little-known psychic unit of British Intelligence Service during World War II. This group of highly-trained psychics directed their powers against Adolf Hitler and his Nazi henchmen during the war. Following the end of the war, Dr. Montgomery entered law enforcement and worked with police officials in Jamaica and the United States.

In 1961, he established the Universal Metaphysical Church in Los Angeles. Today, besides his duties as a minister of that church, Dr. Montgomery lectures and holds healing services throughout the western states. He is also director of the Youth Opportunity League, an organization to help young people in trouble. Readers may write to Dr. Montgomery at 1800 West Adams Blvd., Los Angeles, Cal. 90019.

Among his most recent accurate forecasts were the lowering of the voting age to 18, ending of the death penalty, and the grand jury investigation of the Kent State shootings. He also foresaw that former Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Frazier would defeat George Foreman; the separation and ultimate divorce of entertainer Tiny Tim and his wife; and the sale of U.S. armaments to Israel.

His forecasts for 1975 are:

Senator Ted Kennedy will be the Democratic nominee for president in 1976. He will be elected President of the United States by an overwhelming majority.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California will seek the Republican nomination for the 1976 presidential race.

A new terror group calling themselves the "Satans" will emerge. Their primary target is the establishment. They will declare war on business executives, elected and nominated government officials, policemen, military recruiting stations, officials of the medias and public transportation. They will gain national attention by murdering 16 actors and actresses in the Beverly Hills and Hollywood areas as well as other California locations.

The International Olympic Committee will issue directives banning the body building drug known as anabolic steroids, used by wrestlers and track and field athletes. According to my psychic impression, the drug can be taken by an athlete to give him an unfair advantage against his competitors.

Three times All American basketball player Mr. Bill Walton, who recently signed a contract with the Portland Trail-Blazers basketball team, will be kidnapped and held for ransom. This can be averted if proper protective measures are taken.

Secretary of State Edmond Brown Jr., will be elected governor of California.

The Los Angeles Dodgers baseball team will win the pennant.

The rift between Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor will strengthen the bond of their marriage and there will be no divorce.

One of the leading tire manufacturing companies in the United States will lose all its overseas assets by nationalization.

I predict the Soviet Union will launch a surprise atom attack against the United States.

The long-awaited killer earthquake will hit California during the month of August.

Fugitive Patty Hearst will not be harmed and she will voluntarily give herself up. She will subsequently be brought to trial, found guilty, and placed on five years probation.

CHAPTER 28

TED OWENS

Predictions from the PK Man

"... President Nixon will not end his term in office. Something most unusual will occur, and he will either resign or be forced out of office."

This forecast by Ted Owens was made in our 1971 compilation of predictions.

Ask Ted Owens where he receives his prophetic ability and he mentions the "SIs."

The SIs are the initials for "Space Intelligence," according to Owens. He reports he first came into contact with the SIs in 1965 when he was living in Ft. Worth, Texas. Owens and his daughter were out for an evening drive when a cigar-shaped UFO appeared over their car. The craft was silent, but colored lights flickered from the inside of the ship.

Owens explained there was no dramatic face-to-face confrontation with spacesuit UFOnauts. "From that day my life just changed radically," he related. "The SIs do the planning and execution. I am their go-between, a middleman to assist them."

Owens points out that he has mental contact with the SIs, who allegedly use his brain as a receiving station for their telepathic messages from outer space. "Their purpose in doing certain things is to make the people listen," Owens said. "As an example, I've controlled a government radar station, making images appear on the screen, in an experiment with PK—psychokinetic power."

Owens concedes he is a controversial person in the world of psychicism. He doesn't give psychic readings, but he does claim to have performed over 360 documented miracles with the aid of the SIs. Owens holds seminars and training sessions for both adults and young people. A member of Mensa, he claims to increase the brain power of his students. Owens can be contacted by writing to P. O. Box 48, Cape Charles, Va. 23310.

His forecasts for 1975 are:

President Thieu will be assassinated, in the near future, or he will run for his life to Europe where he can snuggle up to his Swiss bank billions. Either way, he is due to go soon.

Texas will be wiped out, either by the Russians or by Nature. By the Russians if they should employ nuclear blackmail, which could be at any time; or by Nature, to show the United States its own powers. Texas, by its large size and its wealth, will make the best "sample case." Nevada will be second choice.

Friends of mine have asked if they should start digging underground shelters. I tell them that both the Chinese and Russians have already done so. Only the U.S. has been foolish enough not to dig shelters. What is good for the Chinese and Russians is good for my friends. Yes, do it at once.

Now to other subjects:

National Affairs: I can sense an attempt will be made by some underground group to take over the United States government, White House and all. What I am talking about is Revolution. It will begin to surface in 1975.

I predict that Reagan, Rockefeller and Connally will not be President. Bad health will be the main cause. Wallace will be out of it. Kennedy will be out of it. Elliot Richardson will be out of it. I do not "see" politics as usual ahead. I do not see the usual voting method of selecting a president. Something strange is going to happen in our history.

Ecology in the Nation: It will worsen. People will sicken and die from the cumulative effects of auto exhausts, etc., in the air. Also, the water pollution is killing tiny plant life in the oceans which give us air. Doctors will finally discover that people are getting less and less oxygen, which is affecting their thinking processes and physical conditions. Scientists will also discover mutations taking place in humans. This is nature's attempt to adapt the human organism to the poisonous mess which humans have to live in. Because of nature's rule, only the strong shall live. You will see more babies, children, and old people dying in 1975 than usual. Look for more epidemics and pestilence as nature attempts to thin out the human ranks.

Nature will also increase its punishment of the human race during 1975 with horrible storms and floods. Worst of all will be a blazing world-wide drought.

Young people have been taught too much too quickly on television and in newspapers. In 1975, you will see gangs of teenagers a la Dillinger, robbing banks and doing criminal things only old, hardened ex-cons have attempted in the past. These youngsters will be more intelligent about it and better equipped. It will be a bad, bad year for law enforcement.

Farming and agriculture: Drought will burn the ground and the crops in 1975. Nature will cause widespread animal and fowl sickness. More farmers will throw up their hands and sell their farms in 1975 than ever before.

Economy: If you think the American dollar dropped in value in 1973, wait until 1975! The American economy is sliding downward toward the absolute bottom. It can well hit bottom in 1975. This means a worse stock market crash than that of 1929! I have advised my friends to get rid of their stocks and bonds completely. In the time ahead, they will have no value whatsoever. Also, watch the banks—more banks in 1975 will close their doors. Bank officials in many places will take the money and run.

Crime: Crime will flourish as never before. Seeing the U.S. government in its helpless condition, the Mafia and Syndicate will step out boldly with new projects. The weaker the U.S. gets, the more daring they will become.

Unemployment figures will grow as jobs become scarce and money becomes worthless. Prices will keep rising, and many products will drop out of the race altogether.

International Affairs: We (the United States) are like a shark in a pack of sharks (other countries). Until now, we've been the Biggest Shark. But we've been wounded and we're bleeding, and the other sharks are maddened by the sight of our blood. They will attack us in many varied ways. Politically, economically, industrially, etc. Sensing our new helplessness, they will close in and go for our jugular in any way they can. Those now-powerful countries we defeated in World Wars do not forget it. Asians and the Mid-Eastern countries will be the deadliest of all. Poor Israel, long guarded by Big Brother U.S., must be especially wary in 1975. Israel's enemies even now are looking for a way to destroy her.

CHAPTER 29

DR. JOSEPH PINKSTON

Yoga and ESP

Dr. Joseph Pinkston teaches metaphysical development and ESP by using Yoga. A lecturer, healer, and teacher, Dr. Pinkston gives readings by appointment only. He may be contacted at 2453 N. Orchard Street, Chicago, Ill. 60614.

Dr. Pinkston's forecasts for the future are:

President Ford will bring dramatic, good changes to the U.S.

Persons connected with the Watergate Affair will bring forth some startling information that has not been revealed to the public.

There will be a great shortage of food in the coming year.

A new, more efficient invention will soon be introduced to harvest corn and wheat more efficiently.

Economically, things will be much worse in 1975. More businesses will close, there will be more bankruptcies, and the dollar will once again be devalued by about 20 per cent.

We'll be seeing more UFOs in the next few months. The U.S. will admit they do exist.

George Wallace will run for the presidency in 1976.

The stock market will fall apart within the next 12 months.

CHAPTER 30

LOUIS ANTHONY RUSSO

Philosophical Psychic

Louis Anthony Russo is an internationally known clairvoyant philosopher and lecturer in the subject field of Psychic Phenomena and is involved with many phases of these fields (i.e., Tarot, clairvoyance, spirituality, symbolism, etc.). He is known as a "psychic philosopher" and his scientific approach to Psychic Phenomena is unique and unusual. His lectures and classes develop the attitudes and techniques of utilizing the "psychic" in a person's daily life and profession. People have found his down-to-earth approach both entertaining and refreshing.

Louis Anthony Russo, age 30, was born Sept. 3, 1943 in Brooklyn, New York, but has lived in Phoenix, Ariz., for the past 18 years. His involvement in Psychic Phenomena began because of his natural gift, and due to the interest and popularity of his approach, his profession is now that of a lecturer. Mr. Russo does not use his clairvoyant abilities for financial gain. His income is derived solely from his lectures, classes, and seminars. He has used his psychic ability as an aid for counseling but refuses to accept payment for such work.

Mr. Russo has lectured at colleges and universities across the United States, as well as in Canada. He has predicted such things as Spiro Agnew's problems in office; the Watergate scandals; the oil crisis; the release of the POW's and the withdrawal of the troops from Viet Nam.

Russo reels off predictions in a rapid-fire manner during his lectures. During a recent tour on college campuses, he was asked about President Nixon's involvement in Watergate. "He knew about it earlier than he's claiming," Russo answered, "but he didn't know about it when it was happening. Agnew knew and John Dean is telling the truth—but not the whole truth. He's leaving a few things out."

"Who'll be elected president in 1976?" asked another student.

"Ted Kennedy," Russo replied. "However, before that there will be a series of revelations that it was a conspiracy that took the lives of John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King, and Malcolm X. If that isn't enough to boggle your mind, it'll be shown that the famous Chappaquidick incident was an attempt on Teddy Kennedy's life. His family covered the incident up to avoid a nation-wide panic."

In addition to predictions, Russo's lectures cover his philosophy of psychic phenomena and the manner in which he gains insight. "I've had visions all of my life," he explained. "I just took it for granted that everyone did. I get symbols in my visions, oftentimes like flashes of movies. At other times, they're like feelings. I can get them anytime I want, but I didn't start cultivating the gift until about four years ago."

The 30-year-old psychic explained that the visions are logical and controlled. "The flashes are similar to dreaming in the conscious state," he elaborated. "I can also psych into things. I can read a book, as an example, without opening a page."

Russo claims he is able to travel astrally. "Astral travel is done by a person when they're in an altered state of consciousness," he related. "I get into pockets of information rather than visit the planets. I don't do it consciously."

The Arizona psychic believes that time is not a limitation. "Everything's in the present," he stated. "So, death is one of the most meaningless things in the world because there is no such thing as death."

The heavy-set, bearded psychic has a psychology of good and bad, comparable to Oriental teachings. "I call good a positive force and bad is a negative force," he related. "It's like a magnet with two poles. You always have the free will to go in either direction."

Readers can write to Mr. Russo at 1817 E. Belleview St., Phoenix, Ariz. 85006.

His forecasts include:

A terrible pollutant will enter Lake Superior from the north to the south shore. Canada will give and also get much criticism. (It will come from the north and go south.)

A visitor from Russia to Canada will confuse Canadians as to their new role in the world's politics. The Prime Minister will do the right thing in this area.

A disease affecting animals, especially domestic animals, comes from another country to Canada and will not be the fault of either country alone. It affects the liver and respiratory system and there will be fear it will affect man. Infants may be affected.

Canada will have a civil war within two years between the French and English Canadians. They will add a blue strip to their flag as a result.

Oil, minerals or gems will be discovered in the east part of the Northwest territories. Russia will be connected to this. Russia will loom over Canada as a meddler and a threat to Canadian democracy.

Canada will be in mourning within the year for a Canadian on foreign soil, or a foreigner on Canadian soil.

In February, we're going to see a great ship distressed by ice and snow.

Japan will feel vulnerable to the other powers of the world. Shipping, business, and land holdings outside of its island will be threatened by the host countries.

By March we will feel the pressure of a recession that will last almost two years. The Black people of this nation, and of the world, will start work that will be very positive for the world. By April their quiet beginning will be noticed. But, not in a quiet way. It comes upon us suddenly. The trauma, which is mental more than physical, will be a shock for many people in this nation.

1975 is going to be a time (particularly towards the end of the year) of great revelations about political people and famous people. We'll learn great truths involving the assassination of political people, of political imprisonment. We'll hear of the connections between famous artists, people in the theater, and in the sports world. We'll learn that Marilyn Monroe's suicide, for instance, was out of love. I should say out of love and loneliness.

In May, Cuba and France will cause great turmoil within the United Nations involving policy. This may be Mr. Kissinger's toughest battle and it may seem as if he has failed. But, he will succeed.

In 1975 there will be talk of allowing Mr. Kissinger to be a candidate for the presidency or the vice-presidency in 1976. We'll hear talk for a six-year term for the president. And, the possibility of simply appointing a vice-president rather than electing him. The electoral college will be under attack with debates in Congress and the courts involving its legality.

Dag Hammarskjold's name and involvement in world politics will be revived. And, although it may be revived in an effort to slander his name, it will only renew the concepts, ideas, and enthusiasm that existed with that man.

The spring and summer of 1975 will be a time of discussion involving the validity, powers, strength, and usage of the United Nations. The United Nations will be in a very weak position. Many will see that this is the end of its existence. The transformation to a new world government, or governing body, will be traumatic.

The music world will have great revivals and a great surge of acceptance (particularly in the classical, operatic, musicals, and musical operas, and legitimate theater). Stars, writers, and producers will have great opportunity in the last half of 1975. Canadian artists will gain great support here singing both English and French revolutionary music.

There will be a definite swing in the United States towards the Arab nations in the Middle East crisis. Many will fear that the United States is forsaking Israel. This will not be the case. But, a more balanced position will be the real help that the United States can give to all nations.

There will be a great trauma in the African continent. An explosion will be heard around the world. The indignation, slaughter, and political disruption will traumatize all the nations, will bring reminiscences of the earlier part of the century. Except for the countries bordering the problem, no one will do anything to solve the problem. We will see nation condemning nation for their lack of action. There'll be a great scandal from that part of the world involving postage stamps. Many will make a lot of money out of the confusion. There'll be great condemning of the African nations involving the drug traffic. This will cause great censure of those people from most of the rest of the world.

Norway is in great danger from natural disaster.

The common market in Europe will expand. England will take a new prominence as a leader and spokesman. France will be considered the rebel, the interceder, and the interloper not only in European politics, but world politics.

Spain will have civil turmoil and Portugal will make great scientific and archaeological discoveries and share them with the world.

Morocco will have a lot to say, but, very few will listen. They will prove later that they spoke some basic truths involving the world political scene.

Italy will be shaken by an earthquake and possibly a volcanic explosion.

Hungary will be prominently in the news again for a new type of revolution against old restraints.

Russia will become the sleeping bear except in its relationship to China. And, it will make quiet accusations that will be unheeded by the world.

China will do more importing and exporting than ever before in modern history. This is the time of the turning point for China and the Oriental nations.

India will lead the nuclear nations in disarmament and treaties against the use of nuclear weapons.

A spiritual leader will come from the Far East. He may not have originated from the Far East.

Hong Kong is in great peril from fire throughout this year of 1975.

A small island off of Greece will gain a lot of attention both in the metaphysics and scientific fields.

There will be plans among the scientific people for man to reach extreme heights on the earth and extreme depths within the earth. And, a mineral deposit of great magnitude will be found deep beneath the ice of the earth.

Mexico will fluctuate politically, economically, and socially. So that the nations of the world and particularly of North America will have a difficult time knowing where they stand on matters almost daily.

There will seemingly be a split between North and South America at the point of Central America. Latin American countries will have their own problems and have a difficult time deciding their position. There will be a great exodus of Anglo peoples from all of the Latin countries of North and South America. This will continue for three years.

A great healing and medical Mecca will develop in the jungles of Brazil. Within five years this will be one of the great centers of healing throughout the world.

Another pyramid-type building will be discovered in South America. It will help to show that there is a chain of similar edifices throughout the world.

South America will have a great amount of UFO activity. Large areas of jungle will be burnt from their presence. Metal objects will be left. It will be as if they are leaving signals or scars in the land to mark their presence and paths. There will be many UFO sightings over the ice of this planet, particularly in the North Pole-Northern Hemisphere area. This will include Canada, Iceland, Alaska, Greenland, Antarctica, northern Russia and China. However, this is not the year of the UFOs.

A building or a project for the celebration of our bi-centennial will be destroyed in 1975.

1975 will herald the great beginnings in libraries for collecting the word written, spoken, and sung.

There will be new methods developed for teaching foreign languages. There will be a great surge (particularly among English-speaking nations) to learn foreign languages.

Chiropractic practice will have a great trauma within itself and from outside sources. This will be the herald of the end of their great strife. After they have taken care of the problem, they will gain new acceptance with other medical fields. This acceptance might not come for a year from their great problem.

We'll find that acupuncture can be a stimulus for the healing of certain cancers and leukemia. However, it will be in conjunction with other medical treatment.

There will be great strides in man's ability to grow or eliminate hair on his body. This will open up a whole new scientific field within the medical sciences.

An electronic device for the blind will make it possible for totally blind people to live and work as if they can see.

There will be more monitoring of humans through electronics for positive medical and mental reasons.

A new art form will develop within ceramics and the pottery field.

After the congressional elections of 1974 we will find that the nation will begin with 1975 two years of recession. This will become a depression after the 1976 elections. The depression will last for three years. The depression will not be the type that we saw in the thirties. There will not be the closing of banks or the closing of the stock market. It will seem very bad for us simply because of the inflation we have been used to.

The American political system is changing very rapidly towards a socialistic democracy. This type of government will be accepted by most nations and of world government as a whole.

A famous comedian is going to be tied to some political scandal involving certain monies that he donated. This may also be connected to the underworld and to the drug traffic.

Jane Fonda is going to gain new acceptance in this nation in 1975 and in 1976. She will turn down a great theatrical opportunity in 1975 because of the type of production and the things it perpetrates. This will allow her moral attitudes a much better understanding with the American public. It will put her in a much better light.

Some truths about the Chappaquidick affair come out in 1975 and in 1976 involving Ted Kennedy. We will find that the Chappaquidick incident was an attempt to assassinate Ted Kennedy. His passenger was shot accidentally by a bullet through the windshield and into her head. She was killed and died, not of drowning, but of the gun wound. The incident's truth was squelched, not by Mr. Kennedy or his family, but for national security. This incident is tied directly to the assassination of John Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy, Martin Luther King, and Malcolm X. Ted Kennedy will become president in 1976. The nation will see the real suffering his family has endured in being quiet about the truth. His vice-president will probably be Mr. Inoue of Hawaii.

George Wallace will become very much more a part of the Democratic Party in 1975. There will be talk about his Independent Party for the 1976 elections, but at the last minute will turn his support to the Democratic nominee. He will reach the peak of recovery in the middle of 1975 and be partially paralyzed for the rest of his life.

Jackie and Ari Onassis will divorce in 1975 towards the middle of the year. They will continue to have a very close friendship. He will marry again very quickly, but Jackie will not marry for two to two and a half years. We will find that one of the reasons for her marriage to Ari Onassis was for the protection of herself and her children which she felt she could not get from the United States government. She will become very active in the Democratic campaign for her former brother-in-law, Ted Kennedy.

Ronald Reagan, after the 1976 convention, will retire from politics.

Johnny Carson will end his Tonite Show in 1975. He will begin a whole new career in the beginning of 1976 that will make him much more successful.

Merv Griffin will again be moved to night-time television. His program will be during prime time and his format will become much more political. He will have to make great changes in his personality that's projected to the general public.

Mike Douglas will be involved in producing television and movies. He will be considered a spokesman for many groups, organizations, and people with a very positive connotation.

There will be a great trend developing towards the use of hydroponics in underground growing of plants for food and fiber. This will preempt the use of underground chambers for raising cattle and foodstuff. Surface land will be used recreationally and for pleasure. Eventually, this will develop to man living below the ground and using the surface of the earth for living in a more aesthetic way.

There'll be a continual revival of old fashions in 1975 and most of 1976. Towards the end of 1976 there'll be a very dramatic change. The futuristic look that we have seen in science fiction for so long will begin its insurge in world fashions. The greatest fashion changes will come from the Scandinavians, then the French.

In 1975 we will find a shortage in food because of the metal used in cans. There will be both a shortage of that metal and great discussion about the effect of the metal on food ingested into the human body.

We will have a grain shortage, particularly rice. Some sugar shortage and a shortage of vegetables that grow beneath the ground.

The Roman Catholic Pope will become more controversial in 1975 and 1976. He will not reign longer than 1976.

There will be great strides among the Moslems and the Jews in the unification of their nations, concepts, and beliefs.

People will be talking less of religion and more of spirituality.

There will be a great change noted in the metaphysics, esoteric, and psychic realms and scenes. A much less fanatic spiritualism to a more logical, scientific spirituality.

There'll be delays in the space programs and many delays in science during 1975. As if things are ready to develop, but the timing is not exactly right.

Farming will be hampered and periled in the midwest of the United States, in Africa, Central America, the eastern and central part of South America, and in Europe.

Most of the states will have the smallest unemployment rates in years during 1975. And many new types of jobs and working conditions will develop in 1975 and 1976.

A Disneyland-type park will be begun and the plans will be announced for 1975 in Japan. Eventually, a similar park will exist in Europe.

There will be talk of making Puerto Rico a state. This will be delayed until 1976. It will become a state though most of the people of this country and of Puerto Rico will not want it. Statehood will happen for practical reasons and a continuation of peace within the hemisphere.

Cuba will align itself with another country as if to become part of it.

There will be opportunities for great religious finds in the way of books, buildings, and artifacts. This will shed much truth on the unification of religions. It will start a new, true ecumenical movement.

America will begin in 1975 an era of great new heroes coming from space, politics, and the spiritual realms. We will find that out of the turmoil of the early seventies, 1975 will begin the unification of the late '70s. This will be so important for the traumas of the future.

Women in 1975 will pick up the pieces and put them back together in a new, refreshing way. They will come across in much more positive situations.

A new type of pipe will be used in the plumbing industry. It eventually will eliminate the use of metal in plumbing systems. It will be a mixture of a plastic and cement substance. It will be strong and both pliable or stringent, depending on the mixture and need. This will come into use because of the fear of metal pipe's effect on water.

California will have many earth tremors, but the potential of any serious earthquake is very small. Only one, in the late summer of 1975, is potentially dangerous. This will affect most of the coast of the United States.

A plane will be lost in the northwestern part of the United States, possibly Oregon. It will carry a political figure and his family members.

There will be great friction in the four-corners area among the Indian tribes of North America and the southwest. This will only stem to force the U.S. Government into taking a new stand on reservations and the American Indian. In the long run, this will benefit both the nation and the Indians. There will be some evidence that the four-corners area is a great spiritual center. And there will be the beginning of a talk of the development of a center including building facilities. There will be a joint effort of the four states for the Indian tribes with parts of the building and facilities in each state.

The President will receive an honor from the Indian people and be given some beads or artifacts found in the area. And there will be talk of a great water reservoir in the four-corners area to service the four states. The reservoir may basically be contained in Utah.

From Utah will come religious dogma and concepts that will gain more universal acceptance. This will again come out of discoveries within the area.

The midwest in the summer of 1975 will have drought, damage from wind and tornadoes, and a grasshopper plague that will affect the grain crops.

New York will make preparations for a change in their political setup. They will discuss splitting the state into two separate states by making New York City a state. The action will be delayed until 1976.

Pennsylvania will be especially hit by the ecologists for their treatment of humans within the mines during 1975 and 1976.

CHAPTER 31

HAROLD AND LASCA SCHROEPPEL

Advanced Psychic Perception

Lasca and Harold Schroeppel are a very talented husband-and-wife team of psychics who teach spiritual development. They have developed several courses in various areas of metaphysics. Their Institute for Advanced Perception, Inc., is located at 719 S. Clarence Ave., Oak Park, Ill. 60304. They are representative of the new, studious psychics who seeks to teach average people how to increase their psychic ability.

Recently, Lasca graduated with a teaching certificate in Hatha Yoga from Indra Devi's Yoga Academy. In addition to her regular teaching duties at the Illinois Benedictine College, she wrote a course for the continuing education division containing elements of Hatha Yoga, physiology, anatomy, and their advanced perception course with Raja Yoga. This material was then adapted for a college credit course at George Williams College. Harold has most recently established a California branch of their psychic development course.

"I'd like immediately to give you a two-fact leitmotif that pervades Harold's and my interests," Lasca Schroeppel explained. "First, we were not born psychic, and secondly, we feel psychism can be taught, and we are primarily dedicated as teachers in this field. Harold has detailed, printed lessons, and both of us have witnessed and have documented case histories of students taking these lessons."

Lasca Schroeppel has a Ph.D. in physiology and has either been a student or on the faculty of four midwestern medical schools during the past 24 years. Besides teaching a medical pharmacology course, she does basic research on the effects of drugs and hormones on biological rhythms as seen in experimental animals.

"In the early sixties when LSD was an academic curiosity, some of our students began inquiring about hallucinations they experienced," Lasca said. "Although skeptical, I explored literature on meditation leading to psychic experience and realized that one does not need drugs to extend his perception beyond present time."

"The methods to achieve this, chiefly Yoga to me, were highly scientific, requiring self knowledge, honesty and intimate awareness of energy levels and body function."

Lasca decided that the acquisition of a competent teacher was all-important. She had previously studied Hatha and Raja Yoga and spiritualism, but now the search was leading her to deeper realms of psychism.

"I was eventually led to Harold," she remarked. "He convinced me that one could be a wage-earning American or a mother of a large family and still improve one's perception and communication through his series of lessons. After completing his course, I remained to document his results and help teach the course. Harold and I were married January 1, 1970."

Except for a few years when he was a full-time dianetic therapist, Harold Schroeppel has worked full time as an analytical chemist in cosmetics, oil refineries and metals. Harold received his graduate training in chemistry at Notre Dame University. During World War II, he was a flying radio operator with General Chenault's "Flying Tigers." While in service in China, Harold studied the language and culture of the Orient.

"My psychic interests emerged in the early fifties through my work in dianetics," Harold told us. "From there I acquired a repertoire of knowledge in many occult fields, including Yoga, Huna, Spiritualism, Kabala, Tarot and Old Religion. I moved from dianetic auditing into healing, teaching and writing about my theories and the results of my work in these fields."

Harold's forecasts are:

Shortages will continue, spotty but persistent, and they will force adaptation in several areas.

Bribery will continue to become more dangerous. Public officials who display wealth, especially if they are not independently wealthy, can expect to be under pressure from all sides.

Pressure for change coming from the voters is going to wash out a lot of old line professional politicians. More changes than usual and a lot of surprises.

The use of cash (coinage and paper money) will continue to decline. Coinage may almost vanish in the next few years.

Prominent people are going to continue to propose simplistic solutions for some very tough problems (inflation, shortages, peace, etc.) At many points they will find their audience too sophisticated to buy the pitch.

The tendency for vigilante action to replace ineffective law enforcement is going to continue. It will be particularly nasty in the drug, gang and racial areas.

The need for a person to carry personal identification (I.D.) is going to rise and the individual who wishes to move unnoticed and unrecorded is going to get a very bad time from "the establishment" at every level.

Medical and legal services are going to continue to deteriorate. Medical because of shortages (drugs, doctors and personnel). Legal because of high tolerance of poor quality and even poorer ethics.

Individual pressure groups with special goals (which conflict with established policy) are going to find they are literally ground up. Very sharp clashes and very repressive measures will be taken against dissidents such as guerillas, tax dodgers, war resistors, etc.

Even greater conflict than in the present will result from the pressure of government to keep secrets and cover dishonesty, as against public disclosure of information by various media. Almost nothing will be sacred. Large quantities of "dirty linen" will get a public laundering.

Neither Teddy Kennedy nor Gerry Ford will be candidates in the coming presidential election.

A sharp earthquake will shake the midwestern United States. I feel it will center south of the St. Louis area. Heavy earthquake activity also will occur in Panama, Peru, Tierra del Fuego, and the southern coast of France (this lighter than other areas). Usually stable areas of western Russia around Leningrad and Moscow will be shaken. More activity in other places than normal, especially around the "Ring of Fire."

The rain which is not falling in Central Africa will be found in the upper reaches of the Amazon and the high plains of Brazil.

Rail service in the United States will continue to deteriorate with a few localized exceptions. More trackage will be abandoned.

The world economic system—money and trade—is going to be under terrific pressure. Oil supplies and raw materials of all kinds are going to be used to try to gain advantages. The game in that area is going to get very rough. Many countries are going to be forced into barter situations.

Cuba: Steady as she goes.

France: A lot of internal labor conflict.

Spain: Political change and climate problems.

England: To start internal elimination of professional agitations, largely suburbia.

Kidnapping of important people will start declining in 1975. There will be several very nasty situations beforehand. A number of nations, particularly Brazil and Argentina, will develop special squads to hunt down and eliminate kidnappers.

Some new water desalting plants will come on stream in late 1975 and 1976.

Two new major ore bodies to be discovered or opened up in Brazil.

Canada will be the most prosperous location due to wheat and mineral resources.

Cradle to grave health care will become law by the end of 1975. "Congress has passed the law; now let them make it possible."

Two new important drugs will originate in Great Britain.

Two major passenger ships will collide off the Jersey shore. One will be Japanese. This will be very similar to the previous collision.

The major hurricane in the U.S. in 1975 will hit about the Texas-Louisiana border.

A new gold lode will be discovered in the Coeur d'Alene area of Idaho.

A major dark cloud over Sicily and southern Italy with famine or epidemics, and many deaths.

Another dam will go out in 1975. This one looks to be in California.

Ecology efforts may start paying off in less smog and more beauty.

A really nasty fight will develop over "cloning" in Denmark.

There will be a definite shortage of "good news" in 1975.

I see many Americans studying Japanese in 1975.

I see enough psychic and spiritual people in world affairs to exert a definite pressure on world events by 1980.

Lasca Schroeppel's predictions for 1975 include:

The therapeutic importance of hallucinogenic drugs will be announced. Therapists skilled in group dynamics and non-verbal communication will responsibly demonstrate their utility.

Genetics research on a biochemical level will form the empirical basis of nutritional therapy. Particularly significant will be its use in manic-depressive psychoses.

Collapse of a large bridge carrying a railroad will encourage a national concern for railroad safety.

Hospital insurance plans will sponsor research on more widespread facilities for patient self-care and TV intercom systems.

Work efficiency studies in the medical sciences will result in opportunities for non-medical doctors and other non-medical certificate holders to move into medical responsibilities, depending on experience in the field and post graduate and proficiency exams.

Camping and living in nature in ecological balance, as the American Indian did, will be on the increase, the main impetus being from youth.

This will be an excellent year for those who have turned within to study their true nature and responsibility through Yoga, meditation, analysis, etc.

Those who balance their spiritual and moral obligations effectively in the February and March 1975 periods, will realize new levels of awareness if they continue their practices from May through the end of the year. Others will abruptly have to pay all levels of past debts. More definitive measures in terms of computer detection of credit abusers will play a role, although personal and moral debts will be more important.

Suburban housewives will help beat the energy shortage by having minibus co-ops scheduled at peak need times, such as husbands' work, children for school, etc.

At a college level, the extra sensory domain will be acknowledged in both the standard courses as well as new areas of the Rhine type statistical Yoga, etc., where more degrees will be awarded in the latter.

There will be more on-the-job training combined with college study, where overtraining for a given job will be reduced and contracts will be made for continuing with the job, with open ends for post graduate training.

CHAPTER 32

DR. INGRID SHERMAN

Poetic Prophesy

Doctor Ingrid Sherman, The Peace of Mind Studio, 102 Courter Ave., Yonkers, N.Y., 10705 is internationally known as the First Lady of Poetry Therapy. She pioneered the efforts to heal through poetry. She is also accomplished in teaching handwriting analysis, metaphysics, and foreign languages.

Ripples of Wisdom is one of Dr. Sherman's poetry books. An excerpt from the book is entitled "The Simple Way." It reads:

There is no need to wet the lashes
Of your eyes with tears
As long as you have food enough to eat
A place to sleep; some clothes to wear
And courage enough to face your fears.

Dr. Sherman's forecasts for the coming year include:

Business: Look for a gradual business slowdown, with profits shrivelling, commodity prices rising, and an erosion of savings. A world-wide recession is unpreventable.

Consumer Affairs: More and more Consumer Protection Laws will gradually be going into effect due to many complaints.

Crime: Crime will increase, particularly in large cities, until late 1976 when tighter laws will be enforced nationally to punish criminal acts.

Disasters: Springs, wells, brooks, and small riverbeds will dry up, causing water shortages and droughts in mountain and other areas across the nation.

I predict: A bomb explosion in a London railroad station; a fire in a large Dublin department store, but luckily only one casualty; a freighter lost in Turkish waters; a riot in Argentina causing many casualties and a march to take over the White House by a group of revolutionaries.

Discrimination: Complete job discrimination for Black and minority workers and equal employment opportunity for women will not become fact for a good number of years. Employment will increase in State and Government jobs from city managers to public workers, but not so for school teachers.

Economy: There will be a rise in the general price level. Inflation will progressively worsen. We will see some of the larger, well-established companies unexpectedly go out of business. The hoarding of copper, silver, gold coins, etc., will create a dangerous situation in our country. A warning is in place to be reasonable, so that the economy will not suffer any further!

Education: New teaching methods for reading will make a breakthrough. Look for less prejudice in admitting students of any color and creed to universities, who feel a strong calling to doctoral service. A greater rift will develop between students and teachers, also students and parents during the next few years, until they will all meet on a common meeting ground with their variances of opinion. The student of the future will be using electronic calculators, computers, tape recorders and other electronic and scientific devices.

Drug Addiction: Even though much is done to prevent drug addiction, it will still be growing until such time when stricter laws will be enforced to eliminate the drug pusher from the scene.

Energy Crisis: We will see higher rates and stiffer restrictions on the use of gas, fuel oil, electricity and air-conditioning in the next few years; until such time when new inventions like solar heat will be available. Energy and similar crises serve a definite purpose and should be looked upon as "helpful" rather than disadvantageous. The discomfort caused by them is only temporary. As it is said: "From something bad often something good emerges." Remember from the present material and jet age we are rapidly entering into the space age and eventually will be reaching a beautiful New Age!

Fashions: A form of "Flapper" style clothes will make a comeback. This style dresswear goes hand in hand with inflation as we have seen in earlier years.

Food: Due to a natural cycle of rain and droughts there will be a dry spell in the midwest by 1976 which will cause a shortage in various food areas. Meat prices will rise some more. We may see food rationing before long. As people will become more food-conscious and food-oriented, food in general will improve in quality and taste. Some of the dangerous chemicals and additives will be eliminated from use in agriculture, food packing, and food itself.

Some Good Advice: "Your mind can make you sick or well." "As a man thinketh, so he is."

These are vital truths
That we should use
In our daily life
Of hardships, stress
And strife
In order to find Happiness, health
And peace of mind.

Health: Greater demands by the general public for natural foods, seeds, bread, etc., and more natural healing measures, such as acupuncture, finger pressure, chiropractic, foot reflexology, vitamin therapy, herbalism, homeopathy, naturopathy and the like. Doctors will be sought after who prescribe less medicine, administer less injections, less surgery and treat via natural measures to prevent rather than cure illness.

Color therapy will gradually be accepted and used as a helpful means to health.

Since youth is often walking barefoot without having been accustomed to it at an early age and wearing short bare-knee dresses during the cold winter months, bladder and kidney troubles are on the increase.

Housing: We will suddenly awaken to the fact that we have overbuilt condominiums and cooperative housing, particularly in the warm climatic parts of the country. Many will soon be standing empty due to too high prices and rentals. In time, some of these places will be converted into different projects, such as schools, boarding houses, hospitals, old age homes etc. Private homes will reach an all-time high in price. If you wish to sell and buy another property, now is the right time. Apartment rentals will increase further, so will land property and real estate taxes.

International Affairs: A war in the Middle East can hardly be prevented. We are close to getting physically involved. Israel will survive, but pay a high price.

Northern Ireland will take a good few years for final settlement.

Labor Laws: Labor price increases in all branches to a new high. We will see more labor strikes in order to obtain higher salaries. We will see another taxi cab strike in the city of New York in spring 1975.

Medical: In the not too distant future there will be a split in the medical profession that will lead to a more sensible approach for the treatment of patients.

Electro-acupuncture is a new way of treating alcoholics, drug addiction and mental illness. It will cure a certain percentage. Schizophrenic patients put on a proper biochemical diet will show sizable improvement.

Some cancers in animals are caused by viruses, so may certain types of human cancer. By 1976-77 a vaccine will be found to cure a certain virus type of cancer.

Mental Health: There is a need for more specialized employment training programs for the mentally retarded. A way will be found to train these people who can be quite responsible. A sizable number of people will fall prey to mental illness due to improper food intake.

Music: By 1975 country-style folk music and early jazz will come back in full measure. People will again sing and dance together like in folkdancing. This will place added happiness into people's lives.

We will hear more park concerts. The young will take more music lessons, learning to play old-time string instruments, the accordion, the organ, harmonica. Some will take up the forgotten art of yodeling.

Modern art expressionists will come out with some obscene creative works, while the general trend is back to the revival of ancient arts study.

Negativeness: Too much negativeness will have a bad effect on the political arena. It also plays an adverse role in people's lives in general. Thus "become positive" as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale suggests!

Nuclear Weapons: The recent explosion of a nuclear device in India is an obvious sign that the world is not ready for peace.

Pensions: Look for an increase in salaries in all branches of employment. A new law will give extra state aid to court judges to increase their yearly salary.

Personalities: Mike Douglas will be shifted to another station once his contract is expired.

The Duchess of Windsor will not remarry, but live in the dream of her past "amour" and is happy at that.

Frank Sinatra's comeback will only be temporary.

Patty Hearst will go the way of doom, if she is not careful. There is a force over her that pulls her down.

Jackie and Ari Onassis have not much going between them anymore. Jackie is only hanging on for material and social reasons. She would like a younger man.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's name will go down in history as an achiever of accomplishments, a hard worker, although an emotionally weak man seeking glory. I see a dark cloud around him.

Senator Edward Kennedy will get the 1976 nomination for president, but will not win.

George Wallace will retire before long from political life.

His "brush with death" has taught him humility and greater understanding of human suffering.

Postal Service: A postal service slow-down, or a strike of postal employees in late 1975. By 1976, no more Saturday delivery.

Pyramids: The value of the pyramid will be recognized. More and more people are becoming interested in its aspects.

Dr. William Reich's discovery of "Orgone Energy" will come into the foreground. Extensive research will be done and helpful results registered.

Pendulum predictions will be in greater demand. The pendulum has been used in Great Britain for centuries with success, even in health diagnosis.

Radio, TV: We will see more updated open programs with listener and audience participation rather than outmoded horror and other obsolete films and plays. Some of the good old-time movies like the simple love stories portrayed by Greta Garbo, Pola Negri, Clark Gable, Rudolf Valentino and others, will be revived and updated. We'll watch more educational and nature-oriented programs.

Movie houses will not do so well. In order to exist they will have to charge low admission fees.

Sex: More sex experimentations, sex talks, sex literature. Infidelity in all age groups to a high percentage, even among long-married couples, and more uncalled-for divorces. We'll see a new aid for the male to prevent pregnancy in females.

Spiritual and Psychic Scene: More and more people will be preparing to move into areas, where they can live more healthfully, in peace and grow their own produce. The trend is toward warmer climatic parts of country, also lake, river and mountain regions. Not only individually, but whole families and large groups of people will move together, purchasing land cooperatively. These mostly spiritually-guided people are the forebearers and bridge-builders for a better world.

Quite a number of people will come to the realization that they possess psychic abilities that they can use to advantage for the "good."

Scientists as well as some doctors will lay down part of their former skepticism concerning spiritual and metaphysical merits and will engage in far-reaching beneficial research.

Sports: Swimming, golf and jogging will become this nation's favorite sports. Golf courses are springing up all over the world to accommodate the American golf-playing traveller. The other nations will join us before long in our "vain pursuit" of appearing socially high class.

Stocks: National stock companies have already and will continue to buy into foreign markets trying to offset the dollar devaluation.

Bond issues with a high yield are a better investment for future protection than stocks, so are government bonds.

Transportation: I see the horse and wagon coming back in some parts of our country.

There is a trend toward three-wheel bicycles for elderly ladies for shopping purposes. Many more people will ride bicycles within the next few years than was done up to now.

Vehicles and planes with "magnetic levitation" and "electronically-guided" cars and buses will be the transportation of the future.

UFO's: UFOs will be more and more accepted by scientists and acknowledged by governments as a reality. Consequently more research will be done. There will be more sightings during this coming period.

Watergate: Watergate will linger on until change of presidency and then it will not be easily forgotten. The after-taste has bad political side effects here and abroad. But in the long run Watergate will be recognized as a "blessing in disguise," as an "instrument" that will change things for the better.

It, too, follows the "Law of the Universe" turning what may have appeared as a malignancy into a healthful and beneficial end result.

Weather Conditions: There will be a continued change in present weather conditions, some quite abnormal. We will see cold and hot weather in unexpected areas, more heavy wind storms, tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, and earthquakes. Entire crops will be destroyed, so will some of the wild animal life and fish.

Welfare: Look for new welfare revisions and better medicare programs. Substantial measures to benefit the elderly and bedridden.

I wish to refer to the long-range poem concerning a world-wide revolution in 1986 as was dictated to me in Automatic Writing and published on p. 173 in Predictions for 1974.

Such calamity can only be avoided by asking the Lord to help mankind and not let it happen. Won't you please join me in this PRAYER REQUEST.

Dear Lord, Holy Father

Need thy omnipotent love
Much more Than ever before
And pray to Thee
In all sincerity
Please stand by
For we desperately Need your wise
Assistance, help
To make us realize
That by holding on
To thy guiding hand
Our precious land
And all its inhabitants
Shall not fall
But instead
Will be saved
And thus erect
A solid wall
Of love, harmony

Honor, health
Courage, progress
Power and strength.
Lord, we thank Thee and praise Thee
Amen.

CHAPTER 33

CORA SITRUSIS

Colorado's Scientific Astrologer

"Astrology is an ever-expanding field," said Cora Sitrusis, Colorado astrologer. "My education in the subject continues every day because there is a constant flow of new materials and data in the field."

Cora, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Indiana University, studied astrology with Dr. Frederic Mazine in San Jose, Cal. She then went into advanced studies at the Kretona Institute at Ojai, Cal. "Astrology has brought me many new and interesting friends," she explained, "because I feel that each of my clients is a respected friend."

The Cora Sitrusis School of Astrology (P. O. Box 10295, Denver, Colo. 80210) offers an "Astrology by Casette" correspondence course. "This has been accepted quite well," Cora stated. "Once the student has completed the beginner's course he may then proceed into intermediate and advanced study."

Cora Sitrusis also offers Beginner, Intermediate, and Advanced Astrology courses at her Denver headquarters for students who live in that area. These same courses are also offered at her School of Astrology branch offices in Boulder and Ft. Collins, Colo.

A beginning course in astrology is also being taught by Cora at Colorado University, Boulder; at Colorado State University in Ft. Collins; and at Arapahoe Community College in Littleton, Colo. "Regardless of the student's choice of study they receive standardized instruction through textbooks I've developed," reported Cora Sitrusis. "I have written 'Astrology for Beginners,' 'Astrological Signs by House Place- ment,' and 'Advanced Astrology.' I am currently completing a textbook on esoteric astrology which will be offered through the schools."

Cora lectures frequently to various civic organizations. She has also appeared on many radio and television programs in the Rocky Mountain region.

Looking to the stars for the next 12 months, Cora Sitrusia has made these forecasts:

January

During the month of January 1975 the United States will find old political associations falling apart, with unusual "bed fellows" forming new alliances for strength and comfort. The blending of incompatible philosophies will be somewhat difficult for the general public to accept. There appears to be no rhyme nor reason to these partnerships and "cozy" arrangements. However, many new and interesting reforms, improvements of methods and informing techniques will be brought forth. The use of new and ingenious as well as imaginative "public forums" will be surprising and very informative.

I find it very probable the entire national weather patterns of the past will be changing. Where cold weather was the usual, warmer temperatures will prevail, and in the warmer climates, we will see a general cooling pattern forming. This could, if it becomes an established happening, alter our agriculture habits and seriously affect the growing seasons for all living matter. This will require a change in our living habits.

February

In February 1975, unrest, discontent, challenges, disruptions appear to be felt and erupting. Minority groups could join together in order for their demands and inequities to be met and changed. There is a probability of acts of violence, an increase in kidnapping, abuse and questionable activities that will affect the entire nation. These minorities will force their demands to be accepted and met by all. By the second week of February, they will experience gains and will find a fortunate turn in their circumstances, which will be profitable and elevating to their status in all communities. These new groups will have many more opportunities being offered to them. However, it is necessary that these groups be cautious in utilizing the advantages, less they be taken away from them due to abuse and misuse.

March

March of 1975 holds many surprises for the entire nation and it evolves our international reputation and leaves us in a low repute. The loss of prestige appears to be due to environmental disharmonies, disruptions and interference with our neighboring nation's affairs, and the inability to cope with our internal national matters. If we cannot, or are unable, to handle our own business, then our advice, opposition or support for other nations will be a laughing matter. We could become so involved with taking care of everyone and everything in this world, that we will be unable to keep our own country affairs in hand. During this period, I believe there will be disturbances and misunderstandings between the U.S.A. and Canada that will seriously strain our relationship.

April

For April 1975, I find some unity within our country that will heal many wounds, but the scars will always be sensitive to passing influences. This "unity of the masses" will be necessary to present a united front to the world. Shared interests, cooperation and mutual respect will go a long way in healing and closing the breach between incompatible groups. At this time, there are indications of disillusionment, lack or loss of the good will of other nations, with the disclosure and exposure of deceit we have been subjected to as a nation, from other nations and international groups. It will not be to our national best interest, if we pursue the line of least resistance, as we seem to have done so often in the past. The last two weeks of this month, I find it very likely that a breakthrough in artistic interests, with the probability of new artistic expression through the use of unusual and unique materials, or the application of old standards being changed to enhance expression.

May

May 1975 finds the United States being "courted and wooed" by a former enemy nation, or one that has not always been favorable to our needs. The communication between the two of us will be greatly improved, with mutual understanding that has not existed between us for a long period of time. This quite possibly could be Russia, or a nation that is northeast of the U.S.A. It will be necessary for the U.S. to use discrimination and our great power of determination to resist the temptation of prematurely rushing into a romance before the appropriate time. The end of May finds the U.S., once again, in the position of gaining one friend but losing one at the same time. Former old ties and friendships will be lost, but I believe this will be due to the loss of a national ruler causing sadness within diplomatic circles. Duty will dictate our actions which will enable us to overcome difficulties and many obstacles that this loss will present. It may be necessary for us to make some sacrifices, but I do not believe we will be successful in keeping, or maintaining our friendly relationship, once the new head of state takes command of the state of affairs. A tendency to be pessimistic, thinking unrealistically and not meeting important matters in a head-on fashion, will be detrimental to our international standing.

June

June 1975 finds cooperation that brings a breakthrough in technology which will benefit all mankind. We will have a charitable attitude, as is usually the case, and desire to share this wonderful technological discovery with all for beneficial and benevolent reasons. However, this does not appear to be accepted by others as a "sharing" of the fruits of our labors, but will arouse suspicion, jealousy and thanklessness from other nations. Somewhat a repeat of former patterns of our sharing with others.

July

On the international scene during the month of July 1975, we will have to stand alone and face attacks and assaults from all sides. The propaganda machines from other sources appear to be working double time to discredit us as a nation. Those that we have rescued, or aided, in the past will not be of assistance to us at this time. There is nothing to indicate a war-like state will exist, but it will be "cold warfare" nonetheless. We have had similar experiences throughout our lives. This lack of cooperation and/or assistance from others, will produce new friends and the loss of old ones. A tendency to be extravagant, to make unnecessary expenditures to "buy" the assistance of others is within the realm of possibilities at this time. A cold awakening is in store for this nation. Jealousy from other nations is very apparent.

There are improved and upgrading of positions for women in the U.S. during July. A small success in an unusual area will do much to further the Women's Liberation Movement and will open large doors in the immediate future for all women.

August

During the last week of August 1975, there is a threat to a long standing treaty which can be salvaged only through this nation's immense efforts and the making of many concessions. This will not be a popular issue and there appears to be much opposition from the public at large, once these concessions are made known.

Innovations and changes will become necessary as well as inspirational in the area of mass transportation, communications and education. The probability of more control over the general public is evident at this time. Educational requirements, increased costs in education, sees many old established institutions failing. Mass transportation is a dire need that will be partially met, but the results will not be satisfactory and will be extremely costly. This does not have to be the case, but our corporations kitties must be fed. The probability of a public display of displeasure could do much to bring these costs down to reasonable levels.

September

September 1975 finds this nation in a highly emotional state. This seems to come from violence and losses within our own country. Our selfish attitude changes overnight, however, due to a catastrophe in a foreign country. This results in our going to their assistance, tending to weld us into a unified country once again. Patriotism will be different, from that of the past, nevertheless, it will be as pronounced and effective as it always is when we, as a whole nation, face serious adversities. This strengthens our international status, gaining some of the prestige lost at an earlier time this year.

October

For October, 1975, I find some additional difficulties in advancement of our care of our elderly and infirmed. These unfortunate people will once more be forgotten in the face of other pressing matters. Nevertheless, this problem will remain with us for a long period of time and it must be faced quickly to avoid discomfort, disabilities and neglect.

On the international scene, there are some sudden changes in our view causing some internal tensions. Stimulating and progressive talks of peace are in the fore, and for the first time in several decades, peace could become a living reality for many countries. There seem to be many high expectations when we as a nation enter into joint treaties which are mutually beneficial and progressive. These cooperative enterprises bring about closer contacts and associations with everything throughout the world. A pleasant and peaceful atmosphere is prevailing. However, there are always some elements of distrust and dissatisfaction from the nations that do not participate in the cooperation of all nations. This could cause some disappointments, misunderstandings and discontent with the smaller nations. Distrust will be turned into cautious trust and the undermining of the agreements will cease.

November

November, 1975, will find the nation rather eagerly anticipating the festive season, but there is not whole-hearted good will apparent. There are some guarded and cautious feelings of expectation that dampen the excitement of this season. There does not seem to be any one thing that is responsible, but rather it is in the air and atmosphere causing restrictive celebration.

December

December 1975 brings a more relaxed attitude, and a general feeling of well-being throughout the nation. The year 1975 appears to come to a conclusion with good unions and agreements that give cause for the holiday cheer. I do not find any reason for celebrating less then we have in the past years, as it is a more peaceful and serene time with sincerity felt by all.

CHAPTER 34

DR. RUSSELL TINGLEY

The Psychic Astrologer

Dr. Russell Tingley, P. O. Box 5424, Sarasota, Fla. 33578 is an accomplished astrologer with inherited psychic ability. A congenial person with a deep interest in astrology and the psychic, Dr. Tingley lectures widely on metaphysical subjects. During his lectures, he explains to his audience the details of preparing an accurate astrological chart and tells of the intriguing historical lore of the science of the stars.

A more complete analysis of world forecasts are available from Dr. Tingley on casette tape recordings. The events he has predicted for 1975 are based both on his psychic impressions and astrology.

Dr. Tingley's forecasts for the coming year are:

Scope of Year: 1975, ruled by Jupiter and the Moon brings back better conditions than existed in 1974. It is the start of changing life patterns that will exist until 2,000 A.D., the year of the new life.

Government: The new Congress voted in by the people in November, 1974, will be younger and more aggressive. It starts a new way of life for Americans. A long start toward a balanced economy is guaranteed. The Saturn impulse of 1974 will have made its point on the American people, and so the new Congress will have the pulse of the United States within its grasp. It will do much to help all people have a better life. This is also guaranteed. You will see the enactment of many new laws that will have teeth in them.

Stock Market: I forecast a stabilized stock market in 1975. There will be a skitter here and there from time to time, but the whole picture will be more on the profit side than on the loss. Also, some new surprising type of developments in the stock market will give many small investors a better chance to make money and be more secure.

Horse Racing:

Kentucky Derby—a 10 to 1 shot will win the Kentucky Derby in 1975, a 3-2 shot will finish second and a 15 to 1 shot will finish third.

Pimlico—Look for a short shot of about 5 to 2 to win this one.

Belmont—a 15 to one shot will win this race, with a 6 to 1 finishing second, interesting big three racing season with many surprises.

Other Sports:

Baseball—American League—New York, Milwaukee, Texas, strong.

National League—St. Louis, Pittsburg, Houston strong.

Golf: Women—two new stars win the big ones. Men—two old stars share wins with two new stars.

High Prices: A Jupiter year should produce more crops, bring in a big abundance in livestock, chickens, eggs and other commodities of this kind. Look for big wheat and corn crops, cotton and fruits of all kinds in all parts of the country. You can then look forward to lower prices on many things in the market basket.

Clothes, automobiles, jewelry, will see prices climb to new highs. In the fall of 1975 overstocking will bring on fantastic sales that will go as high as 50% off on all the above items other than the market basket.

Earthquakes in 1975: About eight in all. Two in the United States and Canada, one in Mexico, one in Yugoslavia, and one in Central America, and three in South America. Two of them are very damaging; looks like one of these will be in United States.

UFO: I want to express this opinion strongly, you do not have to wait until 1975 for this. Mrs. Tingley and myself had the rare experience of seeing one on the way to Miami five years ago. You might see them anytime, but until they are ready to let us in on what they are doing on this planet, it will be just a smattering of them here and there. We actually saw one, and the experience is one we won't ever forget.

Inflation: This is the mighty monster that is killing so many of the old American ways. As long as wages keep on the rise so will inflation. This is a two-way street that Americans can whip. Reach a satisfactory level in life and stay with it, then inflation will subside.

Weather: All over the earth we will experience drought in many places in 1975. We are coming into a new drought period. Water will become a precious item in the lives of everyone. Fight for preservation of water because it will be needed badly by the year 2,000.

Look for some heavy storms in the United States in 1975. Also in England and parts of Asia, especially in the spring time.

Winters will be heavy in many places such as Russia, Canada and the United States and they will be very cold in the Argentine.

Medicine: Some of the very things that plague us now and have for years will become extinct by the year 2,000. We will start finding ways to arrest cancer. Heart attacks and pneumonia will become a thing of the past.

The drinking problem that brings on liver conditions will be helped by new discoveries.

1975 will be a dramatic year in medical discovery. There will be three outstanding discoveries.

A new medical technique will do much to save millions of lives in the next 20 years starting in 1975.

Farming: This begins to show promise in 1974, but crops will be greater in 1975. They will almost double the output of 1974 as Americans look to the farmer for good food production. Farming will become greater than ever in two or three years. Jupiter means expansion so will it be with the farmers. All will benefit from this side of the ledger of life.

Space: 1975 will see the joint effort of Russia and the United States linking up in the skyways in a common cause to make the sky safe for future generations. This will be far greater than the news media could ever guess, as only the scientists know the truth here.

We are preparing for a trip to the planet Mars within the next six years and they may make it. This is not an impossible situation at all.

Investments: America is investing in too many things, condominiums will become a drag on the market in many cities in the United States. We will wake up and find we have more properties than people to fill them. Before you buy a condominium, look at the long range possibilities. It is better to rent than have a dead horse on your hands. This can happen with this co-op type of living. It is not the best way to have peace of mind the rest of your life.

Aircraft Accidents: Looks like we will have about 20 such accidents in 1975. Not too many will be completely fatal. This in my opinion is due to the Jupiter transit, but two or three will be completely fatal. One in Russia, one in California in the mountains near Los Angeles, one in South America in Argentina.

Crime: Crime will not decrease in 1975. It will be greater in the smaller cities, and lesser in some ways in the bigger cities.

Murders of passion will be one of the major crimes in America.

Hatred for races will bring on some average crimes. Around schools, we will have some trouble, because of race problems.

Fashions: Fashions will go through many important changes where women are concerned. Look for less rowdy dowdy and more lady-like clothes. Ladies will be ladies when society dictates it. Jupiter's influence will be felt here, so expect almost a complete reversal of the trend of 1974. Beauty must be served and it will be in 1975.

Length of dresses will vary; colors will be in a wide variety. You'll see less awkward looking shoes and better styles. I might say 1975 will be the beginning year of a change to feminine designs again.

Men's fashions won't change too much. Personal freedom in all they wear will predominate with more color in all things.

Deaths of Note: Two congressmen and one has been a senator (this will involve a woman). Three Senators of high note. One very famous American doctor who won a Pulitzer Prize. Eight movie and television people, one a young new star. Two famous lawyers. One Cardinal in the Catholic Church. One famous racing horse. One famous World War II aviator. One distinguished man from House of Commons, England. One Japanese statesman. One famous individual from India. Two outstanding Chinese men of note. One unusual case. One very famous Hollywood comedy star. One Hollywood cowboy star, doubly famous for westerns. Two outstanding Hollywood comedians. One Washington Lobbyist for an oil company. One famous Texan.

Banking: Interest rates will change frequently in 1975, but whether they go up or down it will be to improve the economy of our nation. Our financial institutions still control the money and this will be solid in most places in the United States. You can still save your money without fear of loss. Prime rates can go down, in fact, I think they will, and do much to stabilize the economy.

Most banks will have greater assets at the close of 1975 than when they start the year. Also some new banking institutions will come forth in many ways.

Money looks as solid as can be expected in 1975. It is inflated, but it doesn't look like it will get worse.

Big Business: I do look for big improvement in this field after March of 1975. Employment will be better in most parts of the country.

Better living conditions will help big business.

There will be a market for most commodities including the automobile.

In the long run 1974 was not a banner year. You can expect more stabilized conditions in 1975.

International Affairs: Nixon will make big news in this field, along with many Russians, Chinese and the people of Arabia. The international scene will be buzzing with activity.

It will be amazing to see what the final outcome will be by December 1975. So much intrigue is bound up here in these international meets.

Some solution to all major problems will be realized during this beautiful year. Expect some harmonization between the big powers. For the first time since World War II, we will be closer to living together as nations at peace.

Jupiter to rule in Aries, will bring much good to all Aries, Leo, Libra, Sagittarius, Gemini and Aquarians in this year of 1975. Actually it is a go period for most of you. The Libra people need caution in expanding too fast and spending wildly.

For Capricorn, Cancer and Virgo: It is a year to know what you want. All things will be slow in materializing in your life. It will take more patience than what you generally have. Above all be honest in your association with others.

For Pisces, Scorpio and Taurus: It is time to try to solidify any gains you might have made in 1974. You will get only the things you need, no more, no less. This is not a get-rich period in your life.

For all of you 1975 represents a year when you won't have to skimp like you did in 1974. All things will be easier to obtain as a rule.

Love and romance favors the Fire signs and frowns on the Water signs. For the Air signs and Earth signs it is just so-so. You need to think twice before you become involved with another person. Business is O.K., love is not so good.

Summer will be best for Cancer and Scorpio.

Springtime is best for Aries and Leo.

Gemini will find May a good month to frolic in.

Capricorn will have to use caution all year and might have some health problems especially those over forty years of age.

Pisces needs to slow the pace a bit. Don't push others around or give orders.

Virgo needs to be more explicit in what they say and want from others.

Libra must play the field of life very loosely.

Sagittarius can gamble a little and make it work.

Taurus must play it close to the line.

Aquarians need to bolster their ego a bit in most cases, but don't be a dud in what you do.

All signs can have better conditions in 1975, but you must put action into worthwhile projects. No one will give you something for nothing. It is there to be had! A better life is up to you if you can get it together.

CHAPTER 35

LEO ELLIS WAGNER

Inspirator and Prophet

Leo Ellis Wagner, 2051 Monte Vista St., La Hambra, Cal. 90631, believes he is a psychic inspirator who brings out the highest potential in people. A psychic and hypnotist, Mr. Wagner made news recently by predicting the headlines in The National Tattler in advance of that newspaper's publication. "The letter arrived in our office on December 15th," reported editor Tom Valentine. "The results were really astonishing and he hit everything right on the nose."

The California psychic had jotted down words and phrases from headlines in the paper's January 7th edition. Wagner's letter was opened by editor Valentine and his fellow newsmen only after that edition had gone to press. "It is possible that Leo Ellis Wagner made his accurate predictions through a happy coincidence," wrote Tom Valentine. "But the odds against such lucky guesses would be literally astronomical."

Saul Cotton, a Desert Hot Springs businessman, is also enthusiastic about Wagner's ESP. Cotton became uneasy one morning due to a sense of impending doom. He called Leo Wagner for advice. "I'm really worried," Cotton told the psychic. "Is there something wrong with the property I'm buying in Orange county?"

"There's something definitely wrong," Wagner replied. "I can't tell you exactly what it is, but if you'll go there today you'll find out. You'll meet a man in front of the building who will help you."

Cotton and his wife, Shelly, followed Wagner's psychic advice. They drove 125 miles to the property and found a man standing in front of the building. "Didn't you just buy this place?" the man asked Cotton. "It's strange because the fellow next door has also bought it."

The incredulous Cotton and his wife went next door where their neighbor was preparing to go to his lawyer's office. He intended to force the sellers to issue a deed on the property. Cotton and the neighbor talked over their differences. They decided to join forces. They made the seller give up the deed for a smaller price. They also decided to go into partnership on the property.

Wagner's forecasts for the coming year include:

Michigan University will come up with a remarkable breakthrough in thermodynamics in 1975.

Liberace will have reason for grief and he will have to remember certain admonitions about forgiveness. In spite of his flamboyance, Liberace is a senior soul and he will reveal some new psychical experience.

Information will link John Perkins Barrymore to Byron, a Lord of London.

Unusual sightings and contact will be made with UFOs at the Dallas-Ft. Worth Airport with a most unique contact shortly after the start of the year.

Jeanne Dixon will reveal some new, startling information during the year.

Color awareness and the effects of color will take on new dimensions that will lead to a better understanding of our true relationship. Thoughts will be proven to vibrate to color.

New electrical concepts will void out some of the old theories. Light will take on new significance as a universal spirit.

Magnetic fields will be found to be around all things. This concept will bring forth new evaluations of how to encourage a healing vibration in an organ that is damaged or diseased.

New controls on the money system will lead to a balanced economy.

Weather conditions will have some startling twists. These will often be a reversal of the usual weather forecasts. Better methods of forecasting the weather will come to the forefront out of the chaos.

We are in for new evaluations of the economy under some hit-or-miss experiments that may not work too well.

We have spiritual help that will balance out our political systems and bring forth a true, sincere government. As I have predicted, the hidden truths will be uncovered but out of this uncovering will come a better government.

John Wayne will find a better outlook in life.

Bob Hope will present a new concept of international brotherhood. He will also experience an earthquake.

Johnny Carson will give more attention to UFOs and ESP.

Ronald Reagan will run for the presidential nomination and will have considerable support. It will become known that Gov. Reagan has more knowledge of the parapsychological factors.

The use of laser beams will be back on the scene with new discoveries.

Look for volcanic eruptions in Japan.

One startling and most disastrous eruption will take place in, or near, Greece.

Earthquakes will occur around the world in places they have not been reported before. One quake in California will be sharp and quick. I see the prayers of thousands being sent to prevent a major disaster.

Solar power will make new concepts. Houses in the future will take on new designs to include solar power.

Anti-gravitational scientific interest will bring forth some startling news in 1975. UFOs will be found to be operating upon a special anti-gravitational beam and that thought travels along a beam of light to become the greatest speed known. Thought will be proven to start around the sixty-sixth octave and be able to travel to infinity. I see thought as being so powerful that in 1975, more people will guard their thoughts. The future will offer more proof that thought has power far beyond that which is now known.

Television will advance toward even more instant news coverage.

Music will be found to set up special vibrations that, coupled with a balanced thinking, can create healings and a change in body vibrations.

A new alliance with Japan on an ecology program will protect the ocean's plankton.

Predictions in Poetry

I can see the Great Seal of the U.S.A.
I hear a voice that seems to say
"Your New Order is about to unfold
Down tumbles the Idol made of gold.
Norvus Ordo Seclorium
New Order: . . . all seeing eye, a symbol of fact 1975 ushers in the new system . . . with special impact Revealed will be known a test city not far and what is disclosed will set many ajar
1975 shows startling events in the sky
A new UFO contact even skeptics can't deny Unusual disturbances from the bursts in the Sun
Advances in ESP that will affect everyone
The Bermuda Triangle—"Twilight Mystery" will claim as victims more than three
A dead spot where communications seems to cease
There will be explanations in 1975 to release
More news from a channel under what is called Ashtar Command
Will give information that the Fourth Dimension earthlings may understand
UFO sightings will be on the increase
Look for some in Turkey and Greece
In California, Arizona, Australia, England, too
With Russia and Germany reporting a few
La Hambra, Calif. and Whittier nearby
Once again will have sightings of UFO's in the sky . . .
Interest in potash will take major place
Another war soon our nation will face

Archeology findings soon to unearth
Prove more of the Bible in its greater worth
England comes forth with new plans to disclose
Her spiritual values shine out like a rose
There may be a blockage other nations impose
But we will stand together in the end as it shows
More of Tesla—Steiner—Steinmetz—Edison—Westinghouse—Einstein—Walter Russell will come back to light
A joint of forces to help set things aright
More manifestations such as apports and such
With a new birth of science that in fact will mean much
A breakthrough for diseases once thought could not be
Will have new approach by new elements of electricity
There is much that may be out of balance in the years ahead
But, too, there is really more good that should now be said
Spiritual intervention comes on the wings of pure thought
More will truly know—there is a God as is sought
Things of spirit are lasting as flesh fades away
This world will not go
But is here by will of spirit to stay.

CHAPTER 36

CARSON WEAVER

Virginia Clairvoyant

Carson Weaver, Box 104, Bealeton, Va. 22712 first learned of his psychic abilities when he was a young man. "I was raised on a 50-acre farm in the country," he explained. "I found the quiet conditions of the country to be excellent for meditation. In time, I discovered that I was able to forecast the future. I've been able to foresee events that will happen since I was 15 years old."

Born on March 28, 1942, Weaver often felt he was different from bis school mates. "Naturally, they didn't believe me at times," he related. "When things began to occur that I had predicted, they started to listen to my forecasts."

Weaver mentioned that a psychic's work is not always easy. "Many people feel we can just reach up into the air and pull out an answer," he said. "I find that getting an answer to a problem for a client may leave me without energy. The answers don't always come instantly when we want them, so it may take time."

Weaver offers a psychic counseling service by mail and those wishing to, may write to him at the above address.

His forecasts for the coming year are:

The drought in Africa will not go beyond the present boundaries in 1975.

Gold will soar to be worth $260.00 an ounce next year. We will see silver reach $7 per ounce as economic inflation continues throughout the world.

There's also going to be a shortage of copper. Supplies will be very limited. A metal you hear very little about is nickel and it will also be in short supply.

The stock market will be a poor place for the average investor in the coming months. Many people will turn to rare coins, stamps, antiques, and paintings for an investment. Coins will continue their spectacular rise in value during the next year.

Following the election this fall, the members of both houses will be largely Democratic. This Democratic majority will pave the way for the election of a Democrat to the presidency in 1976.

More young people will be walking and hitchhiking along the nation's highways next year. However this will be their choice of life style rather than a case of necessity.

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama will make a number of personal appearances around the country. He will reveal that he still stands up for the nation and that he wants to be president. Wallace's campaign will attract some attention but he will never be president.

Lawmakers will debate and attempt to cut down on the expenses of welfare programs. After much argument, welfare costs will continue to rise after a few cuts are made. The increase will be due to more people applying for—and obtaining—welfare assistance in the next year.

1975 will be known as a year of cuts in defense spending. We'll also see some troops withdrawn from Europe and brought home. This will largely be due to legislators thinking about the 1976 elections and will have no real bearing on European protection.

Russia and China will have several small military clashes along their borders.

Tight money due to high interest rates will create unemployment, particularly in the construction industry. We'll also see building materials soaring up in cost due to inflation.
