"War warning"

Send some financial help if you can...this xeroxing is very expensive.

NOW...this message to you, from the Si's through me...is VERY IMPORTANT!

A few nights ago...the Si's communicated with me. Just prior to this we had had some powerful psychic phenomena occur in our house, and around our house...including four black, shadowy forms which appeared in the middle of a TV show...staring intently out of our TV set at my son Beau and me...it was a clear picture...of four black forms, all their faces in shadow...one face having a rectangular white band over its eyes... looking right at us, not moving or stirring. This lasted about half a minute...then the regular TV show, which had been on until these four flashed on unexpectedly...came on again!
Anyway...here is what the Si's told me to pass on to Humans on earth.

They are in the process of attacking all forms of war activity...here on earth. (Remember the B-52 that crashed this week down in Florida?) (This message is of utmost importance...because I, as their link with the human race, am now aware that they are telling, ordering, us humans along certain lines. The first was...to give up our forays into outer space and to other planets. Then to cease our pollution. To stop our nuclear tests. To stop killing earth's wildlife.) If we do not obey them...their punishment will be terrible!

At any rate...they are now engaged (the UFO's) in eliminating earth's war leaders... war materials, war weapons, war planes, war ships, war submarines, and so forth. EVERYTHING TO DO WITH WAR. So from now on you can expect to see key leaders of any country on earth dealing in war and war supplies (and we are one of the foremost, since the U.S. supplies many small countries with war planes, guns, etc. We just arranged to supply Jordan with war planes...and Israel...etc.) expiring from brain hemhorrages, heart attacks, anything at all to remove them from activity. They have a choice...they can step down now, away from the Military Establishment...and survive. This of course applies to Russia...to China...to any nation on earth...which is armed or arming...and which could conceivably be a threat to any other nation or peoples.

What has happened in Viet Nam...has turned the Si's against us, the U.S. Until then, the Si's had picked this nation as the best in the world to seek their cooperation with. But after observing what the U.S. has done in just the past few years...the Si's now want nothing to do with the U.S.

What you will see now...will be war planes crashing (like the B-52); war ships catching on fire, or blowing up, or running aground, etc.; war supplies and materials getting "accidentally" destroyed everywhere; submarines sinking and vanishing; and servicemen getting killed "accidentally" everywhere. (Did you read about the shootout between the men of the aircraft carrier Oriskany this week?)(Two men...not "the" men...I should explain. But this is what they, the Si's, are taking about. Car crashes, things like that. Freak accidents.)

The Si's are bent on putting the fear of God into us warlike humans...regardless of color, country, race, creed or religion. From now on...WAR is out...for us humans. Those attempting it...or aiding in it...will be punished by the Si's, and they want all countries of the world to know it. (An impossibility, since I have no way of getting this out except to about 30 persons.) However...all they can do is tell us, warn us. And that...is what I am doing in this letter.

Mission: Porpoise-able

Red Frogmen Nosed Out by Navy

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Navy has pulled a supersecret team of warrior porpoises out of Vietnam after a year of guarding against Communist frogmen, military sources said Saturday.

The sources said the porpoises, trained at the Navy Undersea Research and Development Center in San Diego, Calif., left Vietnam last November, possibly to return to San Deigo.

The six porpoises and their dozen trainers had the job while in Vietnam of guarding the harbor of the Cam Ranh Bay air base from Communist frogmen. Weapons were attached to their snouts and on several occasions they killed underwater guerrillas, the sources said.

Although their presence was open knowledge throughout the country, the Navy stamped "top secret" on the project and refused to answer almost all questions about the porpoises.

A Navy spokesman issued a brief communique Saturday saying only:

"The collection of research data scheduled for the Republic of Vietnam concerning surveilance capabilities of porposies was completed in late 1971 and the porpoises have been withdrawn. Further details are not available."

The sources said the porposises, while in Vietnam, were taken out into the harbor at Cam Ranh Bay each day in a special boat and set loose.

They said sailors in the boat used a radio transmitter-.receiver system to order the porposes to patrol different areas of the harbor or to bring them back to the boat.

The sources said an assortment of different weapons, one resembling a switchblade, were attached to the snouts of the porpoises. On seeing a swimmer they signalled their trainers and, if given the okay, then went in and attacked.

The sources said there were "several proven cases" of porpoises killing underwater guerrillas at Cam Ranh Bay, but they declined to give any details.

Communist frogmen never managed to blow up any ships at Cam Ranh Bay while the porpoises were on duty although they hit vessels in all of Vietnam's other major ports.

Navy Tried to Drill Dogs In Underwater Warfare

NORFOLK—The Navy, after repeated queries, Tuesday said that it was attempting until last fall to teach dogs to swim underwater to detect and possibly kill enemy frogmen.

Project Aquadog, as the study was called, was terminated in September after the Navy evaluated its findings and declared the program unfeasible, an Atlantic Fleet spokesman said.

Most of the research was carried out at Panama City, Fla., with the help of personnel from Seal Team 2 at Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base.

The project was so hush-hush that the Navy denied its existence and refused to answer queries from newsmen.

Lt. Mike Sherman in the Navy's Washington information office said March 3 that the service "has traditionally used dogs for sentry and guard duty. It has experimented with them in a number of ways to capitalize on their special attributes."

Not hinting that Project Aquadog had existed until September, Sherman added that "we are not studying the use of dogs swimming underwater."

An Atlantic Fleet spokesman said that the project was designed to provide "a new technique for inshore undersea warfare forces concerned with swimmer defense." He acknowledged that the dogs were being taught to detect enemy frogmen.

The spokesman said that results of the study were not substantial and further evaluation of the program was not considered necessary.

To further point out...why the Si's have abandoned the U.S., and been, in fact, sickened by the activities of the U.S. -- read these newsclips. You must understand... one of the most important things mankind can do...is to make a breakthrough in communication with the "lower life forms" of earth...animals, birds, insects, fish. because these lower life forms can teach ~~XX~~ us humans much...and conversely...we can teach the lower life forms much...once the communications-gap is bridged.

So what do we do? We U.S. humans try to communicate with porpoises...NATURALLY A FRIENDLY MAMMAL...FRIENDLY TO HUMANS...and we train them to HATE and KILL!
We U.S. humans also try to repeat this HATE and KILL program with dogs.

Is it any wonder...that the Si's...and Nature itself...~~XXXXXXXXX~~ have turned their hands AGAINST us, the U.S., and other humans?

Congressional Probe Seeks Ties Between Crime, Sports

4/30/72

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alleged organized crime ties with race tracks in Detroit, New Orleans, and the Northeast will be leadoff targets of a House probe next month on infiltration of criminal elements into professional sports, Rep. Sam Steiger said last week.

The Arizona Republican said the House Select Committee on Crime hearings also will deal with the Emprise Corp., which has financial sports interests including stock in more than 30 race tracks across the country. Steiger has been charging on the House Floor for two years that Emprise has Cosa Nostra ties.

Steiger said the hearings will start May 9 with testimony on alleged organized crime financial interests in the Hazel Park Race Track near Detroit, Jefferson Downs in New Orleans, race tracks in New England, upstate New York, and "a situation in New Jersey."

He said witnesses will include law enforcement officers and officials of the race tracks.

"These hearings will put the spotlight on the fact that organized crime has an extensive investment in sports, all of which involve potential gambling," Steiger said.

He said its infiltration into professional sports "is more dangerous than into other legitimate businesses" because of the potential for fixing sporting events.

Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., has said the hearings will go into other major sports after horse racing and deal with direct organized crime involvement in "ownership and management of teams, arenas, and concessions" as well as fixing of sporting events.

The hearings were tentatively planned to begin last week but a committee source said they were delayed for a trial in Los Angeles that ended last Wednesday with conviction of Emprise and six persons of conspiracy to hide out-of-state gambling interests in a Las Vegas hotel and casino.

They included Anthony J. Zerelli, a major stock holder and director of the Hazel Park Racing Association and identified by the Justice Department in 1967 as a Detroit-organized crime leader, and Michael S. Polizzi also identified by the Justice Department as a Detroit-organized crime leader. Steiger has told the House that Emprise holds stock in both Hazel Park and Jefferson Downs.

But Jerry M. Jacobs, president of Emprise headquartered in Buffalo, N.Y., issued a statement saying he was sure the Los Angeles conviction will be reversed on appeal, and saying the verdict was against the old Emprise co-founded by his father, not the new Emprise reorganized by himself.

Emprise also owns Sportservice, which operates concessions in stadiums and theaters nationwide: several sports stadiums, and bowling alleys, and restaurants.

Jacobs also owns the Cincinnatti Royals Basketball team.

President Nixon

Dear Sir:

Yesterday evening I called Mr. Greenleaf, of the Norfolk FBI...and left a message for him to pass on to Carmine DiBiaggio of the Secret Service in Philadelphia...who could then relay it on to you, if needbe.

The message is: An attack is imminent on our aircraft carriers operating around Vietnam. Attack by MIG's (Communist MIG's) as well as North Viet torpedo boats, perhaps. Kamikaze style.

I know that a ground attack is expected in Vietnam at any time. However, the North Vietnamese have in mind, and on paper...a very cleverly executed (as yet on paper; plans) attack on our aircraft carriers. And if this decide to put this plan into execution (with Russ help)...it will come any hour, any day.

Of course, I am a psychic...have no "hard" information. Just psychic ability.

Ships of 7th Fleet Get 1st Casualties

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. 7th Fleet destroyers have suffered their first fatalities of the three-week North Vietnamese offensive.

The U.S. Command, after nearly 24 hours delay, announced Tuesday that two Americans were killed and 16 injured in incidents Sunday and Monday involving guided-missile frigate Worden in the Gulf of Tonkin and the guided-missile destroyer Buchanan off North Vietnam.

The command said one sailor was killed and seven injured aboard the Buchanan by a shell from an enemy shore battery. The ship suffered damage to its superstructure.

The other incident was an explosion aboard the Worden which killed one sailor and wounded nine.

Robert A. Sterling, 23, has been identified as the victim on the Worden. The Buchanan's victim has not been made known.

The U.S. Command, pressed with queries from newsmen, was reported to have put pressure on Adm. Bernard A. Clarey, commander of the Pacific Fleet, to give it a report on the Worden incident. A command statement later gave scant details, saying only: "The exact cause of the explosion has not been determined. Preliminary reports indicate the Worden was beyond range of enemy shore batteries. We do not know whether fire from enemy vessels may have been involved. We have no further details at this time."

While sources at the Pentagon said the Worden apparently was attacked by a high-speed North Vietnamese patrol boat, there was speculation in Saigon that it may have been hit by a missile or shell fired from another 7th Fleet ship or from an American jet fighter-bomber.

In a 1964 Tonkin Gulf incident two U.S. destroyers allegedly were attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats. The details of the incident have long been a matter of controversy. It was used by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as justification for retaliatory air strikes against North Vietnam.

The sources said the missile frigate Worden was hit by one round, apparently fired from a high-speed North Vietnamese patrol boat. It was not known whether the American vessel returned the fire.

To my six scientists.....

Here...is, in a nutshell...the utter foolishness of the U.S. Government and its agencies.

Note that I wrote Nixon January 20...warning in advance...that our ships would be attacked off Viet Nam. (The only other time it happened there...I warned Johnson on Wednesday, and the torpedo boats struck at our carriers on Friday.)

Pres.

Now, it isn't just the fact that it happened, that is significant. What is impertant...is that if I were taken seriously...experts might have pondered what on earth could cause such a thing to happen. Remember that at that time the present crisis was not happening there. So the experts might have been able to project...what is happening now...and we'd (U.S.) be way ahead of the game. Or, they simply might have asked me. But they didn't.

Shortly after this phone call to warn of this attack on our warships...I tried to call again...when Nixon went to China...because I had some red hot info for the U.S. Government. This time I was rudely brushed off, in Norfolk, by the Secret Service girl operator. So the Si's informed me to not help, or try to help, the U.S. govt. any further...no matter what.

Yesterday, for example...the Si's briefed me on a terrible blow which will be dealt U.S. forces soon...and they told me how, where and when. But they also instructed me...NOT to pass this information on!

Those scientists in North Carolina and Virginia...who ignore me as a crackpot...are utter fools...as are the various government agencies who have turned down Si help.

Let's face it...I have unheard of, fantastic, miraculous powers...and no amount of making light of me or my powers by two or three other scientific idiots...will make my powers diminish or go away. My powers...are just getting more powerful all of the time.

Reds Attack U.S. Force in Tonkin Gulf

By JOSEPH FRIED
Staff Correspondent of THE NEWS

Saigon, Thursday, April 20—North Vietnamese Mig planes and torpedo boats attacked a United States war flotilla in the Gulf of Tonkin yesterday, U.S. headquarters reported today. A spokesman said that one enemy plane was shot down and that two of the North Vietnamese vessels were sunk.

First reports on the sea battle said that one American ship was damaged and that four crewmen were wounded. At least three Migs were involved along with "several" high-speed North Vietnamese warships.

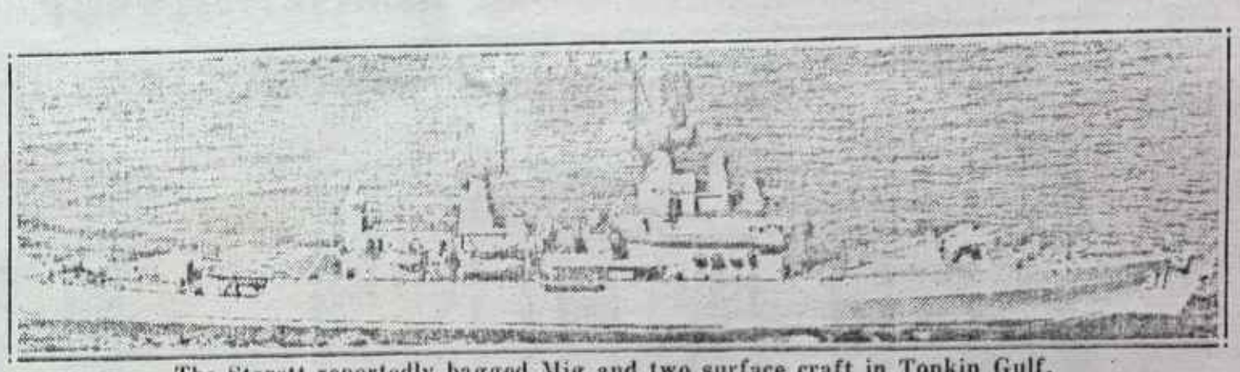

The attack was the first of the war by Migs against anything but American planes and it was the first major sea engagement since the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964. At that time, North Vietnamese torpedo boats allegedly attacked two American destroyers and the United States retaliated with air raids against North Vietnam.

Meanwhile, in ground action, the Communists moved their offensive into a fourth week by overrunning the district town of Hoai An, 290 miles northeast of Saigon and assaulting the major stronghold of Dau Tieng, 40 miles northwest of Saigon. American planes resumed heavy raids on North Vietnam, concentrating on supply targets in the lower panhandle.

The sea attack yesterday came after days of American naval bombardment of North Vietnamese targets supporting Hanoi's offensive in South Vietnam. Military sources said that the U.S. destroyer Hanner sunk a North Vietnamese gunboat and chased off a second enemy vessel last weekend as American warplanes were raiding targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Yesterday, headquarters said, the Migs and torpedo boats struck the American warships, including destroyers, cruisers and support vessels, as Navy gunners bombarded the North Vietnamese shore at a point 20 to 30 miles above the demilitarized zone.

Shortly after the Migs ap-

Navy Force Attacked In the Gulf of Tonkin

SAIGON (AP) — In the first such action of the war, North Vietnamese MIGs attacked U.S. destroyers off North Vietnam Wednesday, damaging an American ship and wounding four sailor. One plane was shot down, the U.S. Command reported.

Enemy torpedo boats also swarmed out from shore as the destroyers were shelling coastal targets and at least two of the torpedo boats were believed sunk by gunfire from the guided missile frigate Sterett, the command said.

The use of Soviet-built Migs against the American fleet in the guf was interpreted here as a major escalation by North Vietnamese commanders.

She contacted Hurkos...who told her he would work for her for $5,000.00.
She couldn't...so she kept my disc on.
Out of a blue sky...her son called her on the phone, and renewed contact.
What was interesting was...he told her he had been "compelled" so to speak... to call her...because of a strange noise on his door.

Last week I called the editor of the Baltimore Sun...to give him some important information. Unfortunately he did not know me, he said...nor my work...and his manner was insolent and insulting (to me), it seemed, anyway). In exasperation, I finally did something I have never done in my life...hung up on him.

I have thought on this...and have reached a decision. That editor needs to be taught a lesson, somehow. The Baltimore Bullets pro basketball...that's his home team. Same with the Baltimore Colts.

From this time on...I will crush the Bullets and the Colts, with my powers. (If you will note, the Philadelphia 76'rs, with a brilliant team...have been beaten down once again, this season. Same with the Phillies. Same with the Eagles. I never quit.)

Now, the playoffs...championship playoffs...are coming up soon for the Baltimore Bullets. I'll use all of my power to make sure...that they do not get anywhere. Specifically...I'll work, play by play, game by game...to make them miss their baskets, and be off-timing. Nervous and off-timing.

Of course...I did this to them last year, quite successfully. I even wrote Gene Shue and told him there would be no use for his team to suit up for the remaining four games...because I'd make the Bullets lose. What happened? They lost them all!

I'm not infallible; not always successful; but I do my best. And my best...usually is good enough!

The Bullets and the Colts...are sunk. As of now.

Baltimore, Maryland

Dear Mr. Shue:

I told you, in writing...before today's game with the Knicks...what I would do to the Bullets...make them miss the basket.

Well, this game today should have made a believer out of the Baltimore Sun night editor. Watching the game on TV...I made the Bullets miss basket after basket after basket...

it was a massacre.

Who ever heard...of a pro basketball team in the 3rd quarter of a pro playoff game...having 55 points in the 3rd quarter? Your team did!

Your team shot a pitiful, unbelievable 34%...meaning they missed most of their shots.

And that is where my PK work came in. I forced this action.

Just like I did to you...last year...when you insulted me over national TV and I called up the Baltimore Sun and told them I'd beat you game after game... andtold you not to even suit up for the remaining games. And you lost t em all!

You can thank...the night editor of the Baltimore Sun...for today's catastrophe.

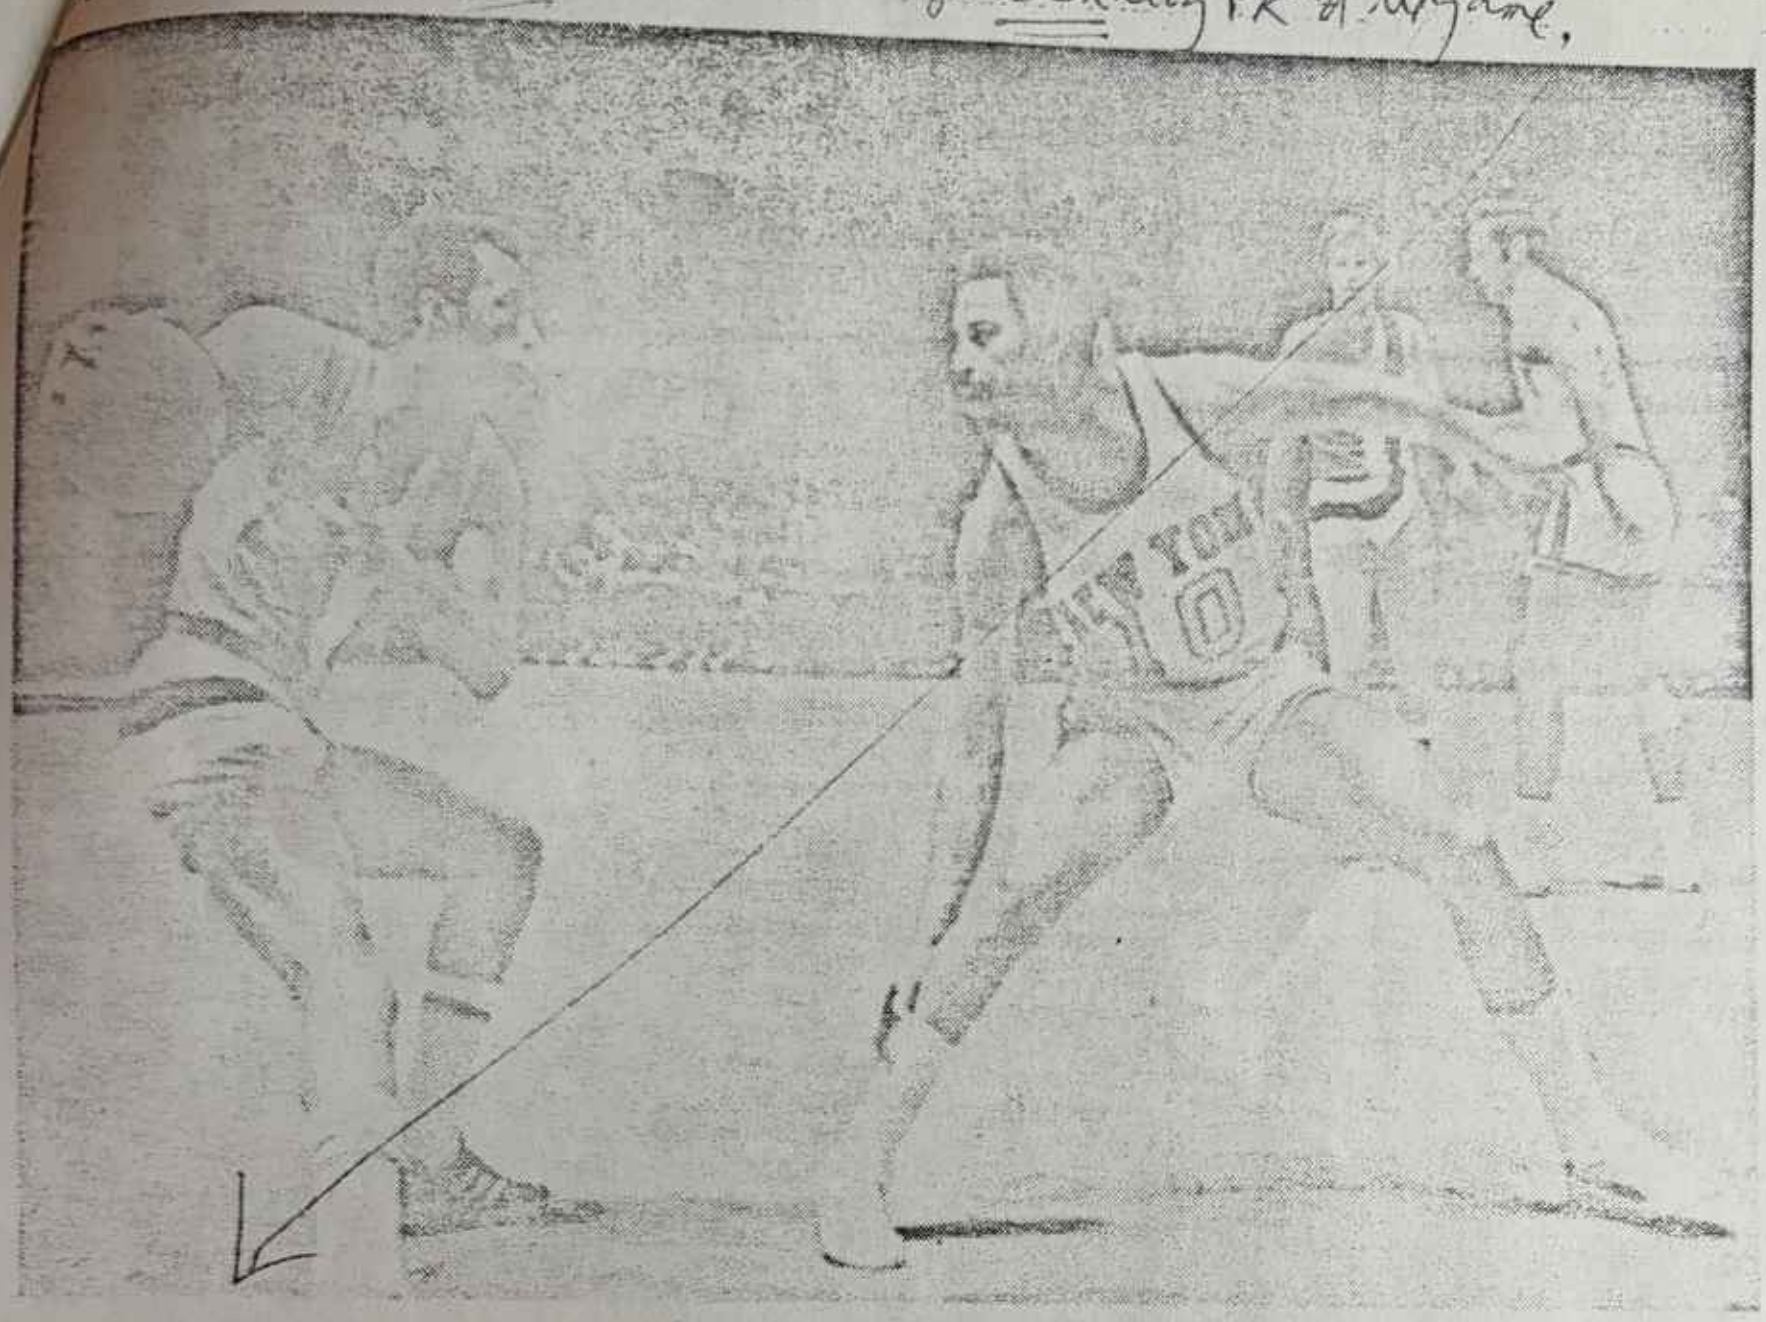

Now get this...I will be in Madison Square Garden, personally (not watching over TV, like today) on this coming Tuesday...at 1 PM...to finish off the Baltimore Bullets...making them nervous, making them miss!

Today was the 1st game I could get your Bullets on TV...in sight range. And my PK was terribly strong! Now let's see if I can polish you off in style this coming Tuesday!

The Knicks outscored the Bullets, 19-8, in the closing moments to win the seven-game series, four games to two. They next meet Baltimore for the Eastern Conference title.

to the NBA championship round before losing to Milwaukee.

With DeBusschere and Bradley carrying the early load, New York matched Baltimore's balanced scoring to stay even with the Bullets at 10-10. Then, teaming with Frazier, DeBusschere led a New York charge as the Knicks outscored Baltimore, 14-2.

But a series of jump shots by Phil Chenier brought Baltimore back within eight points at 27-19 going into the second quarter.

Another hot streak led by Phil Jackson enabled the Knicks to go in front, 42-33, in the second period but with Marin and Clark hitting a series of field goals and free throws, the Bullets cut New York's lead to 48-44 at the half.

CONTACTS...check letter I sent you March 6, 1972...as follows:
"Now, the playoffs...championship playoffs...are coming up soon for the Baltimore Bullets. I'll use all of my power to make sure...that they do not get anywhere. Specifically...I'll work, play by play, game by game...to make them ~~is~~ miss their baskets, and be off-timing. Nervous and off-timing....The Bullets are sunk."
Well...I did it. See above. Sure, the Knicks are a good team...but the Bullets were red-hot...and could easily have won, if I'd let them. Believe it or not.
