

Power outage hit parts of Utah, Wyoming and Idaho

Outages continue in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Isolated power outages were reported in Utah Friday as residents returned to work and play following a statewide blackout whose cause continued to elude utility engineers.

At 11:38 a.m. Thursday, the lights went out in Utah Power & Light Co.'s service area stretching from the Utah-Arizona border to southern Idaho and Wyoming. A few major power lines popped, elevators froze, ski lifts dangled above the slopes and many businesses and schools closed early. Power began coming back in some areas within an hour after the blackout, and by 6 p.m. electricity was back in all but a few areas.

Company officials said Friday that a "key element" in the state's biggest blackout was difficulty with a 345,000-volt transmission line in Salt Lake County. But they discounted earlier reports from the Western Area Power Administration that the failure of a 230,000-volt power line near Antimony, Utah, could have caused the outage.

'One in a million' event cuts power in three states

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Power company officials say a "one in a million" series of events shut off electricity to 1.5 million people in three Western states for up to seven hours, snarling traffic, closing offices and stranding people in elevators and on ski lifts.

Lights began flickering across Utah at 11:30 a.m. Thursday and within minutes the entire system of Utah Power and Light Co. shut down. The power went off throughout Utah and in several small communities of southeastern Idaho and western Wyoming.

It was nearly seven hours before the utility restored power to all of its customers. Downtown Salt Lake City was blacked out for almost three hours.

A Brigham Young University student, Simon Tang, was severely injured when he tried to exit a stuck elevator in a dormitory and fell four floors. He underwent surgery and was listed in serious condition Friday.

Utah Power spokesman Grant Pendleton said engineers won't know the exact cause of the blackout for two or three days, "but all the evidence points to a one in a million sequence of events, any one of which wouldn't have knocked out the system by itself."

A 230,000-kilowatt line from Glen Canyon Dam snapped near the small town of Antimony in south-central Utah when a cross-bar on a tower collapsed, he said. At the same time, three high-voltage lines in the Salt Lake Valley malfunctioned.

Surges in the line tripped automatic switches, which cut off the Utah Power system from interconnecting grids. They also shut down the company's seven steam generating plants.

CONTACTS

Remember when I knocked out the power in five States in 1967 (documenting it fully in advance of the fact)? Well, here I've done it again my current "Power Attack PK". I also have a huge bundle of similar, if smaller, power knockouts to xerox and send you (whenever I get some money to xerox it, then mail it out to you.)

Swene

1

~~44 pages PK~~
Blackout
snarls
Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) —
The failure of three power generators blacked out more than half of Mexico, stranding commuters and creating rush-hour traffic jams here, and cutting power to Acapulco and Guadalajara, the nation's second largest city.

The blackout struck this capital city of 15 million at 7 a.m., the height of the morning rush hour, trapping people in subways and elevators. An estimated 2 million automobiles were snarled in a massive traffic jam after traffic signals failed.

City officials mounted an evacuation effort to free passengers from the subway system. No accidents or deaths were reported during the first hours of the failure.

Officials said the outage had shut down the entire electrical supply grid for Mexico, from the Nayarit state on the northwest coast to Chiapas state on the southern border. They said it was impossible to estimate how many people or how wide an area were affected.

The blackout had little or no effect on home heating, since most people do not have central heating and temperatures were expected to rise into the 70s.

Ironically, the blackout came 24 hours after Federal electrical official Alberto Escobedo told union electrical workers that greater installed capacity in the Mexican power system would mean "no blackouts in 1981."

Power was out here for a full hour at first and returned sporadically for about 30 minutes during the next three hours.

The Federal Electricity Commission said they were trying to bring power in from a generator in Matamoros on the northeastern extreme of the country near Brownsville, Texas.

Aug. 1/16/81

Note: This is different,
(second - pending)
Oswens

Dec. 27, 1980

Dr. Jeffrey Mishlove

You will recall that I phoned you
a while back and
told you that my SIs were going to attack high up in government. Since then President Carter's mother broke something
and went into hospital;
President Carter was wiped out in the election;
and today President
Carter broke ^{his collar bone.}

~~_____~~

Oswens

- Prediction to Dr. Mishlove -

orig. 1/12/81

Diverticulitis hits Sen. Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker was admitted to a Washington hospital Sunday evening for treatment of an intestinal disorder that is giving him "considerable pain," an aide to the senator said.

Baker, R-Tenn., began to experience abdominal pain shortly after a noon appearance on the NBC television program "Meet the Press," according to spokesman Ron McMahan. Later Sunday, Baker was admitted to Sibley Hospital.

McMahan said the senator's doctors have issued a preliminary diagnosis of acute diverticulitis. The spokesman said Baker is in no danger but "he is in considerable pain."

Diverticulitis is an inflammation of the intestinal tract that results from the formation of a small pocket, or diverticulum, in the intestinal wall.

McMahan said Baker would remain in the hospital so that doctors could perform a series of tests, including X-rays and blood tests. These were expected to take at least 48 hours.

McMahan said that until those tests are complete, he could not say how long Baker might be hospitalized.

Baker currently is a central figure in the hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations committee on the nomination of Alexander M. Haig Jr. to be secretary of state.

Baker has a history of intestinal problems, McMahan said. He suffered an attack of diverticulitis once before, "about three years ago," according to the aide.

Baker was placed in a room near his wife Jo, who has been at Sibley Hospital for the last four weeks, suffering from a gastric ulcer. McMahan said Mrs. Baker is expected to be released later this week.

- Prediction to Mishlove -

O'Neill taken to hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. was treated Tuesday night at Bethesda Naval Hospital for a prostate inflammation.

O'Neill, who has had prostate problems in the past, was flown by helicopter from the Capitol to the hospital. After the brief treatment, he walked out and was driven home, an aide said.

O'Neill "was in pain" when he went to the hospital, said his aide, Gary Hymel. Terry Shook, a spokesman for the hospital, said it "was just a minor prostate problem. He seemed to be in no real distress" when he left.

orig. 1/7/81

- St. Lawrence -

President fights pain

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is "still pretty uncomfortable" the day after a skiing accident in which he broke his left collarbone, a spokeswoman for the White House said Sunday.

However, spokeswoman Kate King pointed to a meeting Sunday with three Algerian diplomats at the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., to show the president was "not out of commission."

Carter broke his collarbone Saturday when he fell while cross-country skiing down a slope on the grounds of the Camp David compound. He was flown to Bethesda Naval Hospital in a Washington suburb for X-rays and treatment. Then he returned to Camp David.

White House spokesman Rex Granum said at the time that Carter was given medication for pain and fitted with a harness to hold his shoulders in place.

Carter will have to wear the harness six to eight weeks, but Granum said the president did not expect to greatly curtail his activities.

orig. 12/29/80

Carter breaks collarbone in cross-country skiing fall

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter broke his left collarbone Saturday when he fell while cross-country skiing down a slope near the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., the White House said.

White House spokesman Rex Granum said Carter was flown by helicopter to the Bethesda Naval Hospital outside Washington, where X-rays showed he had fractured the clavicle near where it connects to the breastbone.

"The president was skiing down a slope when one of the skis caught on a rock and he fell on his elbow, left elbow and shoulder," Granum said.

Granum quoted Carter's doctor, Rear Adm. William Lukash, as saying the president was in "considerable pain." The president was given medication for the pain, Granum said, and probably will require medication for several days.

He said Carter was placed in a "figure-eight harness" to keep his shoulders immobilized and will have to wear it six to eight weeks. Carter does not plan to curtail his activities and will go to New Orleans as expected next week for the Sugar Bowl, the presidential spokesman said.

"He'll be able to shake hands and write because it's his left arm," Granum said, adding that the president is right-handed.

Granum said that although the president was in pain, he was not in a bad mood. "He was joking about it with people at Bethesda," he said of the injury.

Carter left the hospital about 5 p.m. to return to Camp David. His wife, Rosalynn, was with him as he boarded the helicopter.

The president was smiling and waved to reporters with his right arm. He was wearing a tan raincoat, but his left arm was not through the sleeve.

The president was taken by car to the hospital. A waiting helicopter was on hand.

Associated Press Laserphoto

AFTER THE FALL — President Carter climbs the steps of his helicopter on the grounds of Bethesda Naval Hospital Saturday. Carter was flown to the hospital for treatment after he fell and broke his collarbone while cross-country skiing near the presidential retreat at Camp David.

Capt. Bart Sleemos, chairman of the Bethesda orthopedics department, as well as by Lukash.

Carter, who is 56, has frequently cross-country skied during his four years in office, Granum said. He said Lukash was with Carter skiing, along with Mrs. Carter, Marine aide John Kline and two Secret Service agents.

The accident took place about 3 p.m., Granum said, during Carter's second skiing outing of the day.

The presidential spokesman said that, specifically, Carter had fractured the medial aspect of the left clavicle, the part of the collarbone nearest the breastbone. The collarbone connects the breastbone to the shoulder.

"This is, incidentally, the same cla-vicle he fractured as a midshipman at the Naval Academy in a jujitsu class," Granum said.

He said Carter was skiing down a slope on a nature trail in about 3 inches of fairly fresh snow when he fell. Asked how steep the slope was, he said he didn't know.

After the accident, Carter went back to Aspen Lodge on the grounds at Camp David, a short walk, and Lukash put the president's arm in a sling and immobilized his shoulder, Granum said.

The president underwent a full physical examination last January, and Lukash said then that Carter was in excellent health and fully capable of dealing with the strain of the Oval Office.

AP Wirephoto 12/8/76

Tues. Night 1/20/87 (Message from SI-2)

Slv Contacts

Xerox

All forms of OD ^{ghosts & aliens} turned loose onto higher US Govt.

Yes, this is a war!

Unseen, nothing any one
one understand...

but a real war!!

(Note: Beau was in room with me when this message came in.
After, a plastic case jumped out of the waste bucket near Beau)

Jan. 17, 1981

Jan
-21-81
postmark

Contacts:

If you are not hearing much from me,
do not imagine that I am inactive!

I am just broke, that's all. No money to xerox... personal possessions in the pawn shop... but... this has nothing to do with my incredible powers.

The SIs and I are more active than we've ever been! And the xerox file if I can ever afford to get it done, will ~~come~~ ^{spell} out that fact.

Russia's threat, is not American #1 fear. My UFOs are. They are sure, they are consistent and they are deadly. And they always keep their word!

O
Gwen

November 21, 1980

Vice President Elect George Bush
710 North Post Oak Road
Suite 208
Houston, Texas 77024

Jeffrey

Dear Mr. Vice President:

This communication is of the utmost importance to you.

First, for the sake of credibility, let me state that I attended Duke University and am a member of Mensa, the prestigious high-IQ organization of the world...upper 2% of the world's population.

If you will read the enclosed book ms. then you will understand that I must be the most dangerous human being that the world has ever known.

The book was written by a scientist; co-authored with an expert in the field of parapsychology. It is a scientific, critical analysis of my work based on documentation with scientists over a period of over ten years.

My work is in the field of "psi force"...which is much, more more powerful and deadly than nuclear force or any of the other forces found in physics.

You have absolutely no one in your intelligence agencies...or anywhere else in your government community...with my abilities.

In this letter I am placing these abilities of mine at the disposal of yourself and President Reagan as a major tool to mend and heal the many and varied problems confronting the United States at this point in time.

Should you have any questions with regard to the "how" it could be done, using "psi force"...I would be glad to discuss them with you.

Respectfully,

Ted Owens (PK Man) Owens

200 NE 76th St.
Vancouver, Washington 98665

super-psi pow (from page 102)

thinking the:

took rides in telepathic "computers" imitated their ficti. their minds to ward off lusions, says K. nselves; screen the UT's Pth "mind-ray atoms" to about cr, people around them from won't bombardment;

- To utilize their "healing hands" where needed, and also project the "healing green" color to the mentally wounded;

- To release victims from "sleeping sickness" caused by a psi sleep-ray that blacks-out the brain. Remember the Soviet experiments in "ESP knockout forces" which worked at distances of up to 2,000 miles.

- To form "psi army units" for "ESP counterattacks."

As this eerie battle of minds continues the unknown legion of human channels is mobilizing according to the above plans, and is forming a formidable psi commando force that will crush the Sino-Soviet-Mutant alliance in its bid for world power.

Also mentioned is what will happen after the war. Millions of "casualties" will be healed by the BKs psi miracles and a "psi peace corps" will be formed. By the time the psi-war horrors end, all people on earth will finally be aware that "occult" forces are a reality and that humanity will emerge into a new "Psi Age."

The change will be more revolutionary than that brought about by the discoveries of steam power, electricity, nuclear power, computers, or space rockets.

It's important to note that Ted Owens' role in the psi-war picture is most unusual. He has been uniquely trained it seems to wield awesome PK-powers and perhaps has a special task to fulfill when zero-hour comes—the "unknown mission" he has been told about by the SIs.

Think of Ted Owens guiding or even creating storms that strike Russia, hurling great lightning bolts on Red China, aiming PK forces to wipe out enemy psi-stations, sending ESP "static" into Sino-Soviet psychotrons. One almost would think that Ted's enormous mind-over-matter powers were developed by the SIs only for some great future battle.

Consider Ted's latest memo. He mentions that he asked the SIs about his recent "mind expansion" in which he talks directly to "Control" and also handles PK of greater power. "They did an odd thing," he says. "Showed me (in mental pictures) a tiny firefly in a bush, blinking off and on. With each blink, the light around the firefly got brighter, covered more area. Soon the entire bush was ablaze with the firefly's light. Then the area around the bush lit up; then the entire valley . . . and the countryside. Then the blaze illuminated several states . . . off and on, off and on. Finally, they took me high up where the astronauts go . . . looking down, and seeing that entire portion of the globe blazing with the light, off and on . . ."

Ted is quite puzzled by this strange "answer" from the SIs. Could it be a symbolic preview of how he will be helping defend America in the psi-war? Of how his great PK-power, like a tiny firefly at first, will begin to grow and protect greater and greater areas of the U.S., of how his terrific psi-potential eventually will form a "mental shield" over North and South America?

The "off and on" aspect is significant, because the brain operates in "pulses" or in pulsating brain waves. The Soviet scientists often refer to "psi pulsations" in their research.

Thus it is quite possible that Ted Owens is our ultimate weapon to destroy the psi-might the enemy will turn against America.

Let us sincerely hope so. If not, we face psi forces that will blow all the minds in America and make us a nation of brainless slaves—unless we fight back with the psi-aid of the saucer entities. ★ THE END on the cough reflex." (Italics have been added to emphasize that the various chemicals in a cough mixture can actually work against each other.) There's no evidence that a combination of drugs is as effective as a full dosage of a single drug that works directly on the particular cough. Also, whenever drugs are used in combination there's an increased danger of adverse side effects.

NEW DRUG SCANDAL

(Continued from page 53)

Mouthwashes. If you believe all the claims for mouthwashes you've heard on television commercials over the years, you're in for a terrible letdown. The NAS-NRC study is, to say the least, skeptical about all those pretty-colored gargles. It says that their medicinal value is about equal to that of salt water, and suggests that mouthwash manufacturers be made to drop all those claims about their products controlling breath odor, destroying bacteria that cause bad breath, and relieving throat pain.

A year later the FDA went to work. Posting a notice in the Federal Register it formally advised the makers of nine brands of mouthwashes to stop making such claims in their ads. The nine brands involved were: Pepsodent Antiseptic Mouthwash, Cepacol Mouthwash Gargle, Micrin Oral Antiseptic, Betadine Mouthwash Gargle, Isodine Gargle & Mouthwash; also Tosis, Sterison, Kasdenol, and Tyrolarsis mouthwashes.

Then, in November 1971, the FTC got after Listerine, which has a hold on nearly half the $200 million a year mouthwash market. The FTC charged Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., which makes Listerine, with falsely advertising that Listerine prevents or cures sore throats and makes colds or sore throats milder than they might have been. It also objected to an ad which claims that kids who gargle with Listerine twice a day have fewer colds and miss fewer days of school. Predictably, Warner-Lambert is denying and fighting the false advertising charge. And the TV commercials for Listerine still say, "Kills germs—the kind that can give you bad breath."

Sleeping Aids. The Senate Subcommittee on Small Business, headed by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, recently heard a lot of testimony on the efficacy of popular sleeping remedies. Over 90 nonprescription sleeping aids are available to the general public. Most contain an antihistamine called methapyrilene hydrochloride. Antihistamines can make one drowsy, but this particular one, methapyrilene, was reported to have just about the weakest hypnotic effect of all the antihistamines.

FDA Commissioner Edwards was asked to testify about the efficacy and risk of sleeping aids containing methapyrilene. Dr. Edwards said, "The efficacy is questionable, let's put it that way . . . We don't feel that the risk of the dose that is commonly being used is significant, but there is a risk in regard to this particular drug if used in large enough amounts. And obviously it can be used in large enough amounts if you take enough of this particular drug."

You should understand that antihistamines of any kind, including this one, react in accordance with a person's physiological makeup. Instead of being sedated, some persons react the opposite way—they're made restless and nervous. According to Dr. Edwards, other frequent side effects are: mouth dryness, blurring of vision, dizziness, ringing in the ears, and gastrointestinal irritations. Quite a list! Can sensitive users be identified beforehand? Not at all—so there's an apparent danger to many people.

Want more data? Three well-known investigators have made carefully controlled studies of how methapyrilene hydrochloride acts on sleep. They found that 40 milligrams of the chemical is no more effective than a placebo (sugar pill) when tested in either normal or insomniac persons. The drug failed to hasten the onset of sleep or to improve the quality of sleep. Note again that this involved 40 milligrams; the average sleeping aid pill you buy at your drugstore contains only 25 milligrams. One important effect methapyrilene had was in suppressing that phase of sleep known as Rapid Eye Movement (REM) sleep. When REM sleep is suppressed on one night it can lead to increased REM sleep on subsequent nights—accompanied by unpleasant dreams and nightmares! This reaction in turn can lead a person to resume taking the drug in the belief that he needs it for restful sleep. Thus a psychological dependency can be created—great for sales, but not for health.

Pain Relievers. Analgesic products—the medical term for pain relievers—represent the biggest volume of consumer spending in the OTC market. In 1969, the most recent year for which statistics are available, we spent $102.2 million for aspirin and other ingredients like Bufferin and Anacin. Another $95 million went for non-aspirin products used to relieve headache, arthritic pain, and rheumatic pain.

Note that the largest amount Americans spend goes for products that combine aspirin with other ingredients. More is spent on these products because they cost more; obviously, they cost more because they contain several drugs instead of only one. So the big question, the one we all have a right to ask, is this: "Are these more expensive combination drugs any more effective than plain old aspirin, which can be gotten for as little as 20

(Continued on page 106)

PREMIERE ISSUE

SCIENCE DIGEST

NOV/DEC 1980

$2.00

RITUAL AND DECEIT

YOUR BRAIN'S
REPTILE
HERITAGE

CANNIBALISM
IN AMERICA
TODAY

BEYOND DARWIN

A NEW VIEW
OF EVOLUTION

AMAZING MACHINES THAT MOVE PLANETS

JASTROW
THE CASE FOR UFOs
NO JEALOUSY
FOR AMOROUS
LEPCHA TRIBE

PLUS
LIQUID PEOPLE,
SCIENCE OF LIVE SEX RESEARCH,
H-BOMBS ON MARS, STAR OF BETHLEHEM

0

75470 08702

BY ROBERT JASTROW

Can you imagine a form of life as far beyond man as man is beyond the worm? Science assures us that such highly evolved beings must exist on the stars and planets around us, if life is common in the Universe.

These extraterrestrials are not like the flower children in Close Encounters of the Third Kind or the cowboys of Star Wars. They are creatures whom we will judge to be possessed of magical powers when we see them. By our standards, they will be immortal, omniscient and omnipotent. They are the kinds of creatures who would be capable of a trip to the Earth from another star.

How can these bizarre notions be supported by science? Here is the evidence. One hundred billion stars like the Sun surround us in our galaxy alone; according to indirect but solid astronomical evidence, many have planets made of the same ingredients as the Earth; these planets have water and air and the same vicissitudes of climate as the Earth; the molecules on their surfaces enter into the same chemical combinations, subject to the same laws of chemistry and physics, as molecules on our planet. All the necessary elements for the evolution of life are present—simple, unthinking life at first and complex, intelligent life later on.

On the basis of these considerations, I believe that life is common on the many planetary systems in the cosmos.

Moreover, recent discoveries in astronomy prove that if life exists on other planets in the Universe, most of this life is far older than life on the Earth. The discoveries relate to the so-called Big Bang theory, which holds that the Universe began with a gigantic explosion. The Big Bang theory has now been proved to be a fact by the Nobel Prize-winning work of Arno Penzias and Robert Wilson, who discovered the remnant of the primordial flash of light and heat that filled the Universe at the time of the great explosion. In other words, they discovered a relic of events that actually took place shortly after the beginning of the world. Although many astronomers had resisted the Big Bang theory, the Penzias-Wilson discovery has convinced very nearly the last doubting Thomas.

The importance of the Big Bang in a discussion of UFOs and life on other worlds is that it tells us when the world began; it tells us the age of the Universe. An astronomer can calculate on the back of an envelope how long ago the Big Bang occurred. That moment marked the birth of the Universe. The result of the calculation is that the Universe came into being 20 billion years ago.

The Earth, on the other hand, was born only 4.6 billion years ago. That result comes from measurements of the ages of meteorites and from the ages of the moon rocks brought back by the Apollo astronauts. Since meteorites and the moon are relatively unchanged samples of solar-system material, dating back to the birth of the planets, their age is thought to give a good estimate of the age of the Earth.

Thus, many planets circling distant stars are 5, 10 and even 15 billion years older than the Earth. It follows that the Earth is a very recent arrival in the cosmic family of planets, and man is among the youngest denizens of the Universe.

Of course, the fact that life elsewhere is older than man does not necessarily mean that this life is more intelligent. However, other scientific evidence suggests that this is likely to be the case. Throughout the last 300 million years of life on Earth, only one seemingly universal trend can be discerned in evolution; this is the trend toward greater intelligence. Since before the fishes left the water, the most intelligent form of life present on Earth in each era has been the rootstock out of which new and still more intelligent forms have evolved. The line of increasing intelligence stretches unbroken from the fishes to the reptiles to the mammals, the primates and man. Apparently, intelligence—which permits a flexible response to changing conditions—has a greater survival value than any other single trait.

Now we come to a critical point. Why should a line of evolution that has proceeded unchecked for hundreds of millions of years suddenly stop at the particular level of intelligence that we call "human"? Homo erectus had less brain power than Homo sapiens has; the successors to Homo sapiens should have more. If the past is any guide to the future, our descendants a billion years from now will surpass us in intelligence. And if the Earth is typical of planets in the cosmos—and everything we know in astronomy and geology tells us that it is—intelligent beings who live on planets billions of years older than the Earth have already reached that advanced level of intelligence that our successors will only achieve in the distant future.

This argument, proceeding step by step on the basis of evidence acquired in the basic scientific disciplines, leads to the conclusion that life on other worlds is not only billions of years older than man, but also billions of years beyond him in intelligence.

What does a billion years mean in the evolution of intelligence? For an answer, look again at the fossil record. One billion years ago, the highest form of life on the Earth was a simple, wormlike animal. The creatures who dwell on planets a billion years older than the Earth must possess an intelligence that surpasses ours by as much as we surpass the mindless, soft-bodied creatures who burrow through the soil of our gardens.

These considerations bring me full circle to my opening statement: According to the best scientific evidence, intelligent

THE CASE FOR UFOs

By the end of this century, we should know if we're alone in the cosmos. Scientific evidence indicates superior beings from other worlds are apt to find us.

U F O S

Name	Age	Chance for Life
A. ALPHA CENTAURI	Approx. the same as the Sun (4.6 billion years)	Good*. This triple star is about as old as the Sun, thus was formed when the Universe had large amounts of carbon, oxygen and other elements essential for life.
B. BARNARD'S STAR	Old as the Universe (20 billion years)	Poor. Too old, no carbon, etc., available when this star formed.
C. WOLF 359	20 billion years	Same as above.
D. LAL 21185	20 billion years	Same as above.
E. SIRIUS	300 million years	Poor. It is a young star; any life would be primitive.
F. UV CETI	Uncertain	Poor. It is a flare star, emitting bursts of lethal, ionizing radiation.
G. ROSS 154	Younger than the Sun (?)	Fair, if star is not too young. Red color means star may not emit sufficient light of suitable wavelength for photosynthesis.
H. ROSS 248	20 billion years	Poor. Too old. See note on Barnard's star.
I. EPSILON ERIDANI	Approx. the same as the Sun	Good chance for planets and good chance for life. BEST BET.
J. ROSS 128	Same as the Sun	Good chance for planets; fair chance for life. See Ross 154.
K. L 789-6	20 billion years	Poor chance for life; too old.
L. 61 CYGNI	20 billion years	Same as above.

*Double or triple stars such as Alpha Centauri are often classified as poor for life because any planets around these stars would be thrown out of the system by the changing force of gravity. However, recent calculations show that if a planet is close to one of the stars (less than one-quarter of the distance between them) its orbit is stable.

(Right) THE DOZEN NEAREST STARS outside our solar system. (Above) Dr. Jastrow's estimate of the chance of life for each.

life on other worlds is likely to be as far beyond man as man is beyond the worm.

Why is it so important, in a discussion of UFOs, to establish a scientific foundation for the existence of races more intelligent than man? The answer is related to the fact that the distances between the stars are so enormously great. If a UFO reaches the Earth, its crew must have covered those enormous distances somehow; they must have started out from someplace beyond the edge of our solar system. They cannot come from the Earth's sister planets, because no intelligent life exists in this solar system except on our own planet. All the evidence acquired by NASA spacecraft in the past few years regarding Venus, Mars and Jupiter points to that conclusion. It follows that UFOs, if they arrive here, have come from another star.

There is the rub. The closest star to the Sun is 25 trillion miles away, and it would take one million years to cover that enormous distance with the fastest rockets known to man. Our science and engineering are not adequate to meet that challenge; a trip to the stars is beyond our reach at the present time. But in another billion years, our descendants—possessed of highly evolved minds and with a science and engineering far beyond ours—should be able to undertake an interstellar voyage. And what our descendants can do a billion years in the future, other races, a billion years older and more evolved than man, should be able to do today.

My conclusion is that UFOs—visitors from another star—are a scientifically sound concept because science tells us that it is reasonable to believe in the existence of forms of life older and far more intelligent than man.

Has the Earth already been visited by these older, more advanced beings? The first chapter of the Book of Ezekiel records a remarkable incident that took place several thousand years ago. After an account of what seems to be a landing and an exploration by unusual beings, apparently metallic in construction, verse 24 describes their departure: "And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters. . . ." Anyone who saw a Saturn V rocket take off will remember that the thunderous roar sounded like Niagara Falls. Nothing man-made except the launch of a rocket sounds like that.

Are such visits occurring at this moment? Dr. Allen Hynek has made a study of reported UFO sightings and concludes that several are unmistakably UFOs—Unidentified Flying Objects. He cannot say whether these unidentified objects have come from another star, but there are good reasons for believing that such extraterrestrial contacts—either visitors or messages—are more probable today than ever before in the history of our planet. Since about 1960, television stations scattered across the Earth have been spraying their signals into space at a million-watt level. In the course of the last 20 years, that expanding shell of television signals, moving away from the Earth at the speed of light, has traveled 240 trillion miles; it has now swept past more

EZEKIEL'S UFO

Have extraterrestrial beings already visited us? Ezekiel's account of the "wheel" in the Old Testament has been called an accurate description of a flying saucer, perhaps with windows or lights, that landed on Earth thousands of years ago:

"... behold, a whirlwind came out of the north . . . and a fire . . . and out of the midst of the fire . . . came the likeness of four living creatures. . . . And every one had four faces, and . . . four wings . . . and they sparkled like the color of burnished brass . . . their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps

... [each had] one wheel upon the earth. . . . The appearance of the wheels . . . was like unto the color of a beryl . . . and their appearance and their work was . . . a wheel in the middle of a wheel. . . . As for their rings they were so high that they were dreadful; and their rings were full of eyes round about them. . . . And when the living creatures . . . were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. . . . And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters. . . ."

Ezekiel 1:4-24
King James Version

Robert Jastrow is Professor of Earth Science at Dartmouth College and Professor of Astronomy at Columbia University.

Note: In a book published some years ago I warned readers that Las Vegas and Nevada were PK'd and not to go there! Owens

EMT: HOTEL FIRE AT LAS VEGAS, BOMBING AT LAKE TAHOE, ETC.

United Press International

FATAL CRASH — A chartered, "gambler's special" bus, returning to California from Las Vegas, Nev., skidded on a rain-slicked desert highway near Palm-dale, Calif., and came to rest on its side Sunday. One man died and 27 were injured in the wreck that threw some passengers 30 feet from the bus.

THEY HAVE SEEN THE FUTURE

TED OWENS—Space Intelligence Agent and outstanding psychic who not only forecasts major events but has hexed them to happen

RON WARMOUTH—New York-based seer whose stock market predictions have earned fortunes for his housewife and film-star clients

WITCH HAZEL—America's miniskirted practitioner of "white magic," whose spells work for good, not evil, in the new age of witchery

DOC ANDERSON—Georgia's backwoods mentalist whose uncanny foretellings of earthquakes and other major world disasters have astounded scientists everywhere

Plus KOMAR, the prophet who receives messages while lying on a bed of nails, COUNTESS AMAYA, the gypsy seeress, REVEREND MARION OWENS, the psychic photographer, and world-renowned psychometrist DOROTHY SPENCE LAUER

These are just some of the internationally acclaimed mystics you'll meet in these pages . . . prophets, mystics and clairvoyants whose predictions in the past have proven astonishingly accurate. Do they now hold the answers for 1972?

NEVER BEFORE PUBLISHED—COVER PRINTED IN THE U.S.A.

CONTEMPORARY BOOKS
$1.25
78682-125

WHAT THE SEERS PREDICT FOR 1972

Will a new president bring great joy to America—and to you? Will your money buy more or less? Is a cancer cure in the offing? DOROTHY SPENCE LAUER, DOC ANDERSON and 17 other famous psychics reveal their amazing forecasts for the critical year that lies ahead...

BRAD STEIGER
WARREN SMITH

Russia will be
The scho-
localities
The
Russia will be
astating droughts followed by floods.
chaotic condition. Farmer vote will be im-elections. The elderly who resent prevailing come out to vote in a strong block.
newspapers in different localities will disappear from the scene.

Ted Owens, Predictions From Space Intelligences

In a letter dated May 23, 1971, we received from Ted Owens, the man who claims he serves as Earth's intermediary for Space Intelligences, details of "one of the most exciting things" that he had ever done.

"You know, of course," he reminded us, "how I have documented in advance . . . creating three simultaneous hurricanes . . . guiding hurricanes against the predictions of the Hurricane Center in Miami . . . ending droughts . . . creating droughts . . . making UFO's appear over cities . . . and so on, for about 250 miracles. Here is a new one. For the first time I have gone one-on-one with a molten, lava-belching volcano!"

The astounding Ted Owens told us that he had specified to columnist Larry Maddry of the (Norfolk) Virginian Pilot that he would try to save Sant-Alfio, Sicily, the village that lay in the path of erupting Mt. Etna, by Sunday, May 23rd. In the letter, Owens told me that his UFOs had saved the village, and he went on to tell us exactly how it happened.

"Last Thursday, I read where the fiery molten lava was pouring down on this town of Sant-Alfio in Sicily. The news item read that the lava couldn't miss—the people and the town were directly in its path. So I picked up the phone and called Larry Maddry, reporter for the Virginian Pilot in Norfolk and told him that I would use my considerable powers and telepath to the UFO intelligences that I am linked up with to save this village and its people. On that day, Thursday, I sent a letter to him (Maddry) backing it up in writing with copies to Otto Binder and two scientists who are overseeing my work. (It is thoroughly documented.)

"I used a shotgun approach—my own brain, plus telepathing to SI control—to bring this about.

"Saturday night, two days later, the fiery flow of lava—a mile wide and eighteen feet deep—burning up everything in its path, miraculously diverted and flowed to one side of the town, saving the 4,000 people there.

"No finer demonstration of SI power would you ever want to see. I told four very responsible people two days in advance specifically what I was going to try to accomplish. And I accomplished it."

Along with his letter, Owens sent a newsclip that headlined, "Lava diverted past town." According to the Associated Press, a "flaming river of lava" from Mt. Etna was suddenly diverted from the village of Sant-Alfio and had begun a two and one-half mile path down the Cavagrande Canyon to the sea. The new course had no town or village in its path.

A few days later, Owens sent us a full-page story in the Virginian-Pilot that chronicled "The Day Heywood Hale Broun-Came to Town." The reason for CBS' colorful sports essayist's coming to Norfolk had been to interview Ted Owens on his amazing documented ability to, ostensibly, psychically "zap" professional football teams.

Owens is a prolific letter writer to his "contacts," and we receive on an average of two letters a week advising us on the activities of the Space Intelligences and their Earthly emissary. We must admit that he has told us which teams have been singled out to be on some kind of cosmic smear list, and, fantastic as it may seem, something invariably happens to key players on those teams. Of course, one does not have to be voodoo'ed to sustain a barrage of injuries in the less-than-gentle world of professional football.

On April 8, 1971, Ted Owens sent the following open letter to all pro football teams:

"The attached newsclip (telling about Johnny Unitas' injury and Tom Matte's attack of bleeding ulcers) is a special delivery letter to you from my SI's (UFO intelligences). What am I talking about?

"Weeks ago, Don Klosterman, General Manager of the Colts, dropped me a line inquiring about my reason for using "PK" (psychokinesis) on the World Champion Colts. I answered and explained that I must demonstrate each year my incredible powers by holding back the winner of the Pro Championship the preceding season, as I have done with the Jets and Kansas City Chiefs, and now must do with the Colts.

"I warned Mr. Klosterman and Mr. Rosenbloom, Sr. specifically and clearly that my mental attack had already been placed in motion against the Colts, was affecting them now, and if they intended to hire me (for $100,000) they had better do it quickly before the PK began to tear the team apart. (You don't believe this? Then check with the two gentlemen.)

"They ignored me (always a terrible mistake, but no one seems to learn from it) and two of their fine stars are zonked, Unitas and Matte, both in the same hospital at the same time, both struck down in the same time period of 24 hours.

"Also, just recently, my number two PK target, the Cowboys, have had two star players . . . and one of their coaches zonked.

"And the regular season hasn't even begun yet!

"I keep on giving these fantastic demonstrations of how my 150 or more other-dimensional powers can take pro teams apart, stop them cold, etc., yet none of them seems to want this hair-raising power on their side! This, to me, is unbelievable.

"Last year, I stopped approximately fifty million dollars worth of pro football teams. This coming season . . . let's see, what's thirteen times ten million?"

The May 3rd issue of Sports Illustrated took official notice of the PK man in their "People" section:

"... back in February Owens decided to cast a spell upon the Baltimore Colts. And charge $100,000 to unhex them. Now, was it Owens' fault that Johnny Unitas tore his Achilles' tendon, Tom Matte got appendicitis and Sam Havrilak sprained his ankle? Well, when a Philadelphia writer challenged Owens to 'prove you can do something' the PK man announced he would hex Tom Woodeshick of the Eagles, and within 15 minutes, Woodeshick was ejected from the game for fighting. Colt owner Carroll Rosenbloom has dropped Owens a polite note requesting him to remove Baltimore from his list of losers. 'If you will advise me as to a course of action which we could follow . . . I will do whatever I can to comply,' Rosenbloom wrote. But the question seems to be, will he come across with $100,000?"

Although Ted Owens generally limits his sports activities to hexing football teams with PK, he claims that he also whammied a basketball team this year when coach Gene Shue of the Baltimore Bullets made the mistake of publicly refusing Owens' offer of assistance over television. "They had a right to refuse the PK man," he said, "but not over television."

Within moments of the insult to his pride, Owens telephoned the Baltimore Sun and told them that he would have his revenge. The Milwaukee Bucks downed the Bullets 102 to 83.

"I sat by my television set and followed the game play by play," Owens told us. "Everytime the Bullets got the ball, I called in power on the court so they would make mistakes. My power would then throw off their timing and make them miss their shots. After the game, the Bullets admitted that they got enough shots at the basket to have provided them with a winning margin, but they simply could not get their shots through the hoop!"

In last year's annual, we told you Ted Owen's incredible story of how he has established mental contact with the SI's, who are using his brain as a receiving station for their telepathic messages. Owens, who was born in Bedford, Indiana, in 1920, says that he first acquired his contact with the Space Intelligences one night in 1965 when he was living in Fort Worth, Texas. He and his daughter were driving in the country when a cigar-shaped UFO suddenly appeared and came floating toward their automobile.

No space-suited aliens stepped forth to converse with Ted, but he writes in his book How to Contact Space People: "From that day on, my life changed radically . . . while in Fort Worth, I gave my daughter, Lornie, several demonstrations of making lightning strike in certain areas during thundershowers, I was playfully experimenting with a theory I had on the practical application of PK, or psychokinetic power, to nature's forces."

Ted, a married man with three sons in addition to his daughter, Lornie, is also a member of Mensa, the high intelligence society, proving, at least to several peoples' satisfaction, that he is no dummy on any level of consciousness.

"Not only are my regular ESP powers outstanding in the world," Ted told us, "but combined with these powers, I am able to communicate with, and receive answers from, UFO intelligences—and prove it! I am able to utilize these powers from their world, or dimension, in this, our own dimension and world."

Owens prefers to call his strange friends "Spatial Intelligences," and he says that they have "fantastic, awesome powers."

Ted Owens claims that he is the only psychic in the world who can cause and create major national and international events to happen. He says that he had documented such occurrences time and time again. He points out Otto Binder's articles in Saga magazine, his frequent letters to "contacts," and the fact that he is working " . . . under the scrutiny of three of the world's best scientists, two of them internationally famous." One of the scientists, Owens says, has given him a notarized affidavit pertaining to one of his psychic feats.

"At present I am using my powers and the SI powers to try and stave off a Russian nuclear strike," Owens told us ominously. "If you're reading this now, we will have been successful!"

In regard to his predictions, Owens reminded us that he would not attempt to pinpoint time exactly, because " . . . in psychic perspective, one can most times tell you what is going to happen, but not exactly when it is going to happen. That's just how it is."

Ted warned us that his material would probably "shock, horrify, and or infuriate your readers. But I can't help it. I'm telling it just like it is."

The spokesmen for the SI's told us that we would have to understand that he and the SI's were presently forced to give negative demonstrations in order to bring financial cooperation from the U.S. Government. "Just as Moses did in his time, and in exactly Moses' own way," he commented grimly. "By plagues."

Assuming that the U.S. Government will still not have cooperated with Ted and the SI's by the time this book is released, here is what Owens sees in store for 1972:

Weather Phenomena

During the winter of 1971-'72, there will be unprecedented weather phenomena. Snowstorms, vast and deep. Hurricane winds and unseasonal tornados. Rainstorms marked by violent lightning attacks. Terrible floods.

In the summer of 1972, there will come searing heat and drought. Fires will start mysteriously, everywhere, with no logical explanations. Hurricanes will strike Florida.

Then there will come another winter of record-breaking snowstorms, hurricane winds, and tornados.

Money and the Stock Market

By 1972 the Stock Market will either already have crashed to bits, worse than in 1929, or it will do so shortly. The false god of money will be taken away from the American people. Hopefully, it will be replaced by some of our older, truer values and the old pioneer spirit.

Animals, Birds, and Fish

Animal lovers may now know that PK similar to that planted long ago in Egyptian tombs to attack and destroy those who might come later to plunder has been issued by myself to protect animals, birds, and fish all over the world. This type of PK is called "hunter PK" and it envelopes each animal, bird, and fish. Those humans who wantonly and wastefully kill creatures for nonsurvival purposes will thus activate this invisible, deadly shield and release it to track and to punish them in its own time.

In 1971, after I first issued this particular PK project, hundreds of baby seals were killed in Alaska in order to sew up their pelts into fur coats. I had already sent the PK out around the world to protect animals, fish, and birds. Well, when they loaded up all those poor, little, pitiful furs onto a sealboat, what happened? Blocks of ice converged on that boat from every direction, crushed it, and sank it, furs and all. This is how PK works.

Mysterious Forces from Bodies of Water

The SI's have ordered humans to stop polluting lakes, rivers, streams, and oceans within three months time or they will have the bodies of water—which carry a combined intelligence which humans know nothing about—attack human beings in their own way. As of this time, the governments have done nothing, so you might expect all sorts of things going on against humans coming from bodies of water in 1972. This will not be a good year to go swim ming, fishing, or boating. It could cost your life.

Rains in Africa

In Africa the rains will come and fill up the empty rivers, streams, and water holes where wildlife go to obtain their water. I have set this up in 1971, and the PK should be working up great power for this in 1972.

The SI's and I intend to drive out all whites in Africa and to stop the needless killing of wildlife there. We shall return the country to its native blacks so that the country can once again become healthy and grow. The animals will then multiply and Africa can once again become the wonderful "cradle of the Earth" that it once was.

Strange Sonic Signals from Space

In order to demonstrate their powers, the SI's will send out sonic signals to Earth from their four huge space craft stationed around this planet. These signals will cause abnormal insect, animal, fish, and bird behavior. This should be occurring often in 1972, and all kinds of strange things will be taking place which will probably affect your own life in one way or another.

Space Intelligences to Halt Earth's Rocket Programs

In 1972 NASA will be fortunate indeed to get even one rocket off the ground. The SI's have ordered all space work to stop completely until humans have themselves under control.

Suppose you had a farm next to another farm, and on the other farm you could see mad dogs fighting and killing each other. Would you want these mad dogs to make their way over onto your farm? So it is that the SI's want us humans to stay out of space orbit, off the moon, away from other planets until we have grown up enough to stop our own wars and halt our own pollution problem.

In order to keep us on Earth, they have set up a deadly PK attack in space orbit and in outer space, also. They have warned the U.S. Government not to send any more humans up. (At this writing, three Russian cosmonauts recently went up, planning on spending two weeks; they came down in a few days. The newspapers reported both "human and mechanical" trouble. Then the U.S. shot up a $73 million Mars rocket, two years in the making . . . and it fell back into the ocean. NASA was unable to explain why this happened.) And so it will be.

Trouble in Nevada

It would be wise to stay away from the state of Nevada. The SI's have begun demonstration against the modern Sodom and Gomorrah of Reno and Las Vegas, and all sorts of things have begun to happen—earthquakes, riots, sinking earth. I have just received a report from a reliable source that says the ground level of Nevada has begun to sink. So stay away from Nevada—or the PK may get you there if you don't watch out!

Russia to Gain Superiority in 1972

The Big Red Bear will be kingpin of the world in 1972. Ahead in weapons capability and in scientific capability, they will, in effect, rule the world. But Red China will be quietly sneaking up behind Russia.

Hostility Against U.S. from North and South of the Border

Both Mexico and Canada will be openly hostile towards the U.S. in 1972, and I expect the borders of those countries to be sealed off partially, or completely, against visiting U.S. citizens. South American nations will really express hostilities against the U.S. in 1972.

The SI's to Control Pro Football Teams

It is estimated that a few hundred million people watched the Pro Bowl playoff in 1970 (A game which I controlled, by the way, hitting the Cowboys with PK to make them lose. Remember that freak double-tip which led to the winning touchdown for the Colts?). In 1972, I will be attacking, play by play, game by game, thirteen pro football teams—my most ambitious PK undertaking yet in the field of sports (I controlled five in 1970).

I am now talking about the winter of 1971-'72, culminating in the Pro Bowl World Championship Playoff. Here is a list of the Unlucky Thirteen: The World Champion Colts, Kansas City Chiefs, Cowboys, Jets, Bears, Redskins, Chargers, Dolphins, Rams, Broncos, Eagles, Patriots, and Oilers.

In controlling these thirteen teams and causing them to be the losers, I will be demonstrating further the great powers that I have through the SI's. In all aspects of my work, overall, I have never dropped below 85% success, and usually the percentage is higher. In sports, I have never failed in attacking a team over a season.

The above discussed sports demonstration can possibly be shelved in the event that one of the above-named teams should hire me to help it. In this case, I shall remove the thirteen-team PK attack and simply help my team win as many games as it can, which should be considerable. You will know if this happens, because it should appear in the newspapers—if the team allows it to be publicized, that is.

After making his predictions for 1972, Ted Owens informed us that if he should receive the financial backing to carry out certain SI assignments, much of what he had prognosticated would not come to pass.

"Because then I will be using my powers to stop wars all over the Earth, to stop hating, killing, and corruption, to stop pollution of all kinds, and so on," he said.

How will we know if Ted obtains the necessary backing to carry out his work?

"I will issue a statement to the newspapers which will probably be carried nationwide, and you will see it," he told us. "The only thing that will not be changed is the space-PK. Earth must be cleared up first; mankind must be brought back into proper balance with Nature. And that will take years to clear up, with me working full time with the SI's. God bless you, and keep you!"

And there we have Ted Owen's predictions for another year. Owens never fails to stir up controversy with his SI point of view, and program hosts who have had him as a guest on radio and television talk shows state that he always keeps the lines humming.

Interested readers may contact Ted Owens, the PK man, at Box 3134, Norfolk, Virginia 23514.

ALWAYS USE

ZIP CODE

Dr Jeffrey Mishlove
Washington Research
3101 Washington St

~~San Francisco, Calif. 94115~~
San Francisco, Calif. 94115

What are doing
s typical "Earth procedure." And something n understand. I.e., President Reagan was helped idency by certain key individuals. Once he attained they are repaid by him with key government so on. Standard Earth procedure. The UFOs is that they desire (Mountain Base) and they ay back, those that give them their goal.

Gave me the following message to

by the time the Space Shuttle is estroy the Space Shuttle (which has communicate with is myself, and I am ons Room inside the Mountain Base when dy placed the mechanism for the le into activation. (I.e., the to 10 nuclear bombs which are ed to the Space Shuttle right now away, to go off after launching.) sons for this weird procedure...one their "other-dimensional" time and er, between now and then gives the uttle time to "build up" in intensity.

Man at the center of the Base and defuse the destructive OD force the Space Shuttle not only will be do what they can to aid in the ay, thusly, with the Space Shuttle.

ts associated NASA program...or truction.

ion dollar project balanced against ily and quite ridiculous...except

.. After all, I hit two space shots and as it was in launch mode, and the ighting). And this ~~XXX~~ time I am not ing the shots in the matter. I am de.

Sincere

Ted Owens (PK Man)

Wena

One other detail: up until recently the UFOs have attacked California quite severely (you will see it in the "California PK" files when and if I ever get the monies to xerox it for you.
However, a recent knife and license (which I am not at liberty to explain to you) require that they repay the kindness...and they will do so by greatly alleviating the California PK attack;
and helping California in some ways.

*76th St
over, Wash.
65*
with born
other in outer
even in charge...THEY merely reporting the act.

January 5, 1980

TO ALL CONTACTS

What the UFOs are doing
(see below) is typical "Earth procedure." And something government can understand. I.e., President Reagan was helped into the Presidency by certain key individuals. Once he attained the Presidency they are repaid by him with key government positions, and so on. Standard Earth procedure. The UFOs obtain what it is that they desire (Mountain Base) and they then reward, pay back, those that give them their goal.

My UFOs communicated with me (SIs) and gave me the following message to pass on:

If their Mountain Base is not supplied by the time the Space Shuttle is launched by NASA...they guarantee to destroy the Space Shuttle (which has cost some 8 billion dollars).

Naturally, the one human being they can communicate with is myself, and I am to occupy and operate the World Operations Room inside the Mountain Base when and if it is supplied.

They further stated that they had already placed the mechanism for the complete destruction of the Space Shuttle into activation. (I.e., the Space Shuttle might just as well have 5 to 10 nuclear bombs which are invisible, but nonetheless real, attached to the Space Shuttle right now with the time mechanism set and ticking away, to go off after launching.) They told me that there are several reasons for this weird procedure...one of which is a time differential between their "other-dimensional" time and Earth time...and the 60-90 days, whatever, between now and then gives the destructive power aimed at the Space Shuttle time to "build up" in intensity.

Delivery of the Mountain Base...with PK Man at the center of the Base and activating the Base...will automatically defuse the destructive OD force now aimed at the Space Shuttle. I.e., the Space Shuttle not only will be safe and not destroyed, but the SIs will do what they can to aid in the Space Shuttle program.

The U.S. Government can have it either way, thusly, with the Space Shuttle. Powerful destruction of it, as well as its associated NASA program...or powerful help and aid for it with no destruction.

Simply as a matter of values...an 8 billion dollar project balanced against a 5 million dollar Mountain Base?

And you can all say that the above is silly and quite ridiculous...except that you know my "track record" in the past. After all, I hit two space shots with bolts of lightning...one on the ground as it was in launch mode, and the other in outer space (where there is no lightning). And this ~~XXX~~ time I am not even in charge...THEY are. THEY are calling the shots in the matter. I am merely reporting the action from their side.

Sincerely,

Ted Owens (PK Man)

One other detail: up until recently the UFOs have attacked California quite severely (you will see it in the "California PK" files when and if I ever get the monies to xerox it for you. However, a recent knife and license (which I am not at liberty to explain to you) require that they repay the kindness...and they will do so by greatly alleviating the California PK attack; and helping California in some ways.